BRITISH REJECT U.S. DEMAND FOR BIG BATTLESHIP

Hear Yankees May Drop Plea.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The American delegation's proposal that the United States be allowed to build one new battleship of the Rodney type, in order to establish Anglo-American parity in capital ship fleets, appears to have died aborning. It became known tonight that Great Britain has turned thumbs down most emphatically on the proposition.

It was reported in British circles tonight that President Hoover had instructed Mr. Stimson to abandon America's demand for the right to build a new capital ship. Mr. MacDonald is reported to have told his friends that the demand was "as dead as mutton," and that, the Americans having made the demand in the first place, it is up to them to find their way out.

Yields to Admiralty.

Mr. MacDonald, it is understood, was at first disposed to accept America's demands, but yielded to pressure by the admiralty.

Another development today was the revelation by Prime Minister MacDonald and A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, in the house of commons that the American delegation has done nothing towards securing a reduction in Great Britain's newest and largest battleships. Mr. MacDonald emphasized that there was no question of Great Britain scrapping any battleships of the Rodney and Nelson, Queen Elizabeth or Royal Sovereign classes. The debate was the result of demands by members of the United States congress yesterday that parity with Great Britain be secured in such a manner.

British Fear U. S. Superiority.

The British contend that the construction of a new superdreadnaught by the United States, even as replacement of another battleship, would render the British battleship fleet inferior to the American fleet. Great Britain, Mr. MacDonald argues, has only eighteen 16 inch guns in her battleship fleet, compared to America's twenty-four guns of the same caliber, and the addition of another battleship would give America not less than 32 such guns.

The Americans contend that Great Britain deliberately chose this inferiority in gun power in order to achieve superiority in speed, which accrues from the lighter burden of fewer guns. All British ships which have been completed since 1916 are two knots faster than the American ships.

The Americans base their demand for an additional battleship on the fact that Great Britain now possesses 1,000 tons more of capital ships than America has.

Call It "Vicious Circle."

With four of the oldest American battleships scrapped and a new one built, as the Americans propose, and five of the oldest British battleships scrapped without replacement, the capital ship fleets of the two nations would be equal in numbers, and the British aggregate tonnage would be only 10,000 tons higher than the American tonnage.

The British, however, have no intention of yielding their superiority in battleships. They argue that it would create a vicious circle to allow America to build a battleship during the contemplated extension of the holiday in the battleship construction. If America is allowed to build one, Great Britain and Japan will feel it necessary to build also at a later date.

It is understood that the proposal to allow the United States to build one battleship was incorporated at the instance of Senators David A. Reed and Joseph T. Robinson, for the purpose of placating the "big navy" element at home and to take the curse off the surrender to Great Britain on cruisers.

Scheme Is Exposed.

When Mr. Stimson suppressed this proposal with a view to testing sentiment at home. If there should be an outcry over the failure of the delegation to demand at least one battleship, it would be shown that the official proposals contained this item. If the public appeared satisfied with the published summary of the proposals, from which the battleship demand was omitted, it would have been possible to drop the item unnoticed.

Unfortunately for the success of such a maneuver, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE last Sunday exposed the fact that the demand for one battleship had been made in the American proposals, and that it had been suppressed by Mr. Stimson.

FOES OF HUGHES CLAIM THIRTY SENATE VOTES

Not Enough to Halt Confirmation.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Opponents of Charles Evans Hughes gained ground today as debate over confirmation of his nomination for chief justice of the Supreme court raged all day in the senate.

Nearly thirty senators, it was claimed tonight by radicals who are leading the fight, are ready to vote against Mr. Hughes when final action is reached, probably tomorrow. Several others, it was asserted, may join them.

While administration leaders still were confident that President Hoover's appointment of Mr. Hughes would be approved, they conceded that the agitation by the radicals had forced into the opposition camp a number of senators who otherwise would have voted for him.

The manner in which the radicals propose to capitalize the vote on Mr. Hughes was emphasized by Senator S. W. Brookhart [Rep., Ia.], who was one of the speakers assailing him during today's debate.

Admits Campaign Ammunition.

"I want this vote to be laid down as a foundation to test the progressive principles of members of this body for use in future elections," said Senator Brookhart. "I hope it will become a landmark which will be pointed to hereafter."

Senator Otis F. Glenn [Rep., Ill.] assumed the rôle of chief defender of the administration and Mr. Hughes. In an hour's address Senator Glenn replied to the arguments advanced by the radicals against the former justice who is to be returned to the Supreme court after an absence of fourteen years. He undertook to prove that Mr. Hughes would not place "property rights" above "human rights," as contended by the opposition.

Senator Glenn was listened to attentively by a large number of senators and crowded galleries.

Glenn Replies to Borah.

"I take issue with the senator from Idaho when he says the most vital problem of the United States today is the valuation of utilities and of rates for utilities, and economic problems," said Senator Glenn, referring to the argument advanced yesterday by Senator Borah [Rep., Idaho].

"I believe the vital problems of today are much as they were when this government was founded. I think we should have a man able and experienced, and wise enough to interpret those great provisions for American liberty and American advancement—the right of freedom of speech and peaceful assembly, the right of freedom of the press, the right of trial by a jury of peers, the right of protection against unlawful invasions or the quartering of troops in homes in times of peace.

"The right of religious worship, of tolerance, is a great question in the United States, and more vital to American liberty and perpetuity of American institutions today than is this passing problem of utility rates.

Should Recognize Different Views.

"Let us keep in mind, not the question as to whether this man agrees with us in all things or not; let us recognize that on the Supreme bench, as in this body, not one single line of thought should be represented, but varying ideas of government and legislative and legal policies.

"Let us remember that we are not a nation composed of a single set or class of people, that not one class of people but all classes should have representation.

"Let us not condemn a man because he does not agree with us. Let us first look upon his career, his achievements, and if we believe he is honest and able and experienced, let us be modest enough to appreciate that at times we ourselves perhaps may be wrong and he may be right.

"I feel that it is in the interest of the American people as a whole, of American labor, of American capital, of the American farmer, of all those who desire to see the corner stones of the republic preserved, that we accept from the President his recommendation and confirm the nomination of Mr. Justice Hughes."

Senator Glenn clashed with Senator Brookhart on the ethics of corporation

Mrs. Mary Mankowski, 2953 West 38th street, is a scrubwoman in the county hospital. Her pay is $109 per month, less $4 deducted for a pension fund. She is the sole support of five children. The youngest is 2 years old, the eldest, 17. Her husband is a cripple. Eight weeks ago, when the county pay roll stopped, the Mankowskis considered themselves fairly comfortable. Last night when a TRIBUNE reporter reached the place, the last shovelful of coal was in the stove. The coal scuttle was empty. So was the cupboard.

Her children were suffering. Mrs. Mankowski sobbed as she described their condition, wiping away her tears with the ragged corner of the sleeveless sweater she wore.

Her Children Hungry.

"What will I do? What will I do?" she demanded. "How can I feed my children? Eight weeks it is since I was paid. If only the county would give me my money we would be all right. Look at my babies. That one, John, is crippled with rickets. Five years old and he looks like two. We used to give him two bottles of milk a day. Now he has to drink coffee.

"And Virginia, the baby. She's had pneumonia three times, and she's walking around wth her lungs diseased. It gave her convulsions Monday, and when I called the health department and asked them please to send a doctor, the girl snapped at me that I couldn't have a doctor if I couldn't pay. I was so poor when Virginia was born I couldn't have a doctor. They thought she was dead when somebody finally sent a doctor in, but she wasn't. And here I've just buried my other boy, who was 8 years old.

Husband's Arm Broken.

"My husband broke his arm in an accident when he was driving a cab two years ago. It was broken in three places. It has been set three times, and still it's so crooked he'll have to have it broken over again and reset, and even then maybe he can't use it. It would help a lot if he could get some light work, like night watchman or something, but he can't.

"My father-in-law, who runs the little grocery out in front, has had to shut off our credit. We owe him $72 since my last check. There are three mortgages on this place and the Guarantee Realty company agent wired him yesterday that he's going to foreclose. What am I to do? Why don't they pay me?"

Physicians are not furnished by the city health department for charity work except when a contagious disease is reported, said Dr. G. A. Koehler, acting health commissioner, when told of Mrs. Mankowski's complaint that the department refused to send a doctor to see her baby. The county, said Dr. Koehler, pays physicians for that work but the city makes no appropriation for such services.

BOMB DAMAGES BOILER SHOP ON ELSTON AVENUE

A bomb explosion early this morning blew in the door of a boiler shop at 2445 Elston avenue and shattered windows in the one story brick structure and in other near by buildings. The shop is next door to the plant of the Central Paper Stock company, 2455 Elston avenue, where windows were blown out by a bomb on Jan. 29.

The owner of the boiler shop is Michael Daneau. Daneau told the police that he had no enemies and had had no difficulties that would have caused a bomb attack. The damage was estimated at $200. It was the seventeenth bombing in Cook county since the first of the year.

200 Harvard Men Tear Up Train; Seized

Cambridge, Mass., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—More than 200 Harvard undergraduates, who had wrecked two cars of a four car train bringing them back to the college grounds after their team had won a hockey victory over University club, were detained here tonight on charges of damaging a public conveyance.

The game was held in Boston Gardens. When it ended the undergraduates crowded into the first two cars of the train, a unit of the Boston elevated lines, and began their celebration. They ripped the advertising posters out of place, broke the car windows, smashed the lights, and sang their songs of victory.

Police Meet Train.

The nonstudent passengers kept to the two last cars, not daring to interfere, but some one got out at a station along the way and telephoned to the police. At Central station, the last stop before Harvard square, the train was met by delegations of Cambridge police and railroad police.

Letting all other passengers out, the policemen locked the students into the first two cars and ordered the motorman to drive to the Boston elevated yards in Elliot square. Here the students were released, one by one, but not until they gave up their bursar's cards to establish their identification.

Patrol Wagon Is Office.

A patrol wagon that had been rushed to the yards served as an office for the police clerical force, and in it the names of the prisoners were written in the blotter. The police said the Boston elevated line will act as complainant in the case, and if the students do not pay for the damage the charges will be pressed.

Henry P. Conway of Lowell, Mass., first year student in Harvard engineering school, was taken into custody. He was removed to central police station and booked on a charge of disturbing the peace on a public conveyance.

Man and Girl Shot to Death in New York Street

New York, Feb. 13 (Thursday).—[Special.]—A young man and young woman walking in McCombas road a few steps from where it meets Inwood avenue, in the Bronx, were murdered early this morning when several men in a big sedan opened fire on them with pistols as the sedan drove by. Neither of the victims has been identified. The sedan got away. The section where the shooting occurred is a quiet one.

Day's War on Gunmen Nets 425 Suspects

Last night's police showup was different. Standing in it were Myles O'Donnell, Bernard O'Donnell, George Barker, "Three Fingered" Jack White and Mike Quirk, whose names are associated with murder, gang domination, safe-blowing, booze and terror. The police were on the fourth day of their greatest drive against criminals, and 425 arrests had been made during the day, but acting Chief of Detectives Egan was proud of the capture of these five.

"Their names would grace a penitentiary roster or a hangman's warrant," he said in introducing them to victims of crimes. "They are of the O'Donnell gang."

Seized in West Side Raid.

Sergt. Thomas Hamilton of Deputy Commissioner Ira McDowell's office, with his squad, had made the capture in a raid on the west side. So important were the arrests to the lawless element, as well as to certain lawyers, that within an hour or two flocks of attorneys were seeking the release of the captured gangsters.

"Hold for the Cicero police for murder," the bureau of identification had inscribed after the names of Myles O'Donnell, Quirk and Edward Sinek. O'Donnell's bodyguard, who was also under arrest. But that was later called a mistake. The Cicero police said they had learned the prisoners didn't kill William Vercoe, but Chicago police said they killed the men who killed Vercoe—William Clifford and Michael Reilly.

But Myles O'Donnell wasn't to be held. Known as a killer himself, he fained when a photographer's flash gun boomed, and later it was arranged that he be admitted to bail. The state isn't yet ready to try him for murder, it was said. He was permitted to give bond on a disorderly conduct charge.

"Get Out of Town!" Is Order.

"Get out of town, all of you, if nothing else happens to you," Chief Egan told a throng of surly faced men who had been paraded in the showup, but who had not been identified by any of the victims of crimes. But there were many who ran that gantlet who did not escape so easily.

There was Joseph Fiore, 3224 Polk street, arrested in the afternoon as he ran into the offices of the Swedish-American Steamship line to get away from Detectives Roy Van Herrick and William Murphy. He pleaded for the opportunity of buying a ticket to Sweden and forfeiting bonds of $26,000 on charges of attempted extortion and carrying a gun—if they would let him go. They didn't.

Other gun toters were caught yesterday but attention centered on the O'Donnell gang. With the five hoodlum chiefs and the body-guard were Frank Lacey, 1348 Farwell avenue, a race track bookmaker and former head waiter at Ike Bloom's notorious resort of other days, and John O'Connor, 1137 South Karlov avenue, who had served three months in the house of correction for a mistake about an automobile.

Raid West Side Café.

The arrest of Barker and the other gang leaders came about through the alertness of Sergt. Hamilton, with Sergts. George Wanland, Leonard Orlowsky, and Bernard Sovea. They were driving past a second floor restaurant at 4654 West Madison street and noticed the shades of the front window were drawn. They decided to go up.

In a front room, partitioned off from the café, which is known as the Café Barosotti, they found Myles O'Donnell,

WRITER TELLS WHAT HE FOUND IN SIX STATES

Chief Wet Witness at House Hearing.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—"My honest opinion, as an American who loves his country, is that if we have prohibition ten years more this land will be ruled by gangs of underworld rats! Crime and vice already are running wild."

With these words, delivered impetuously to a row of sixteen members of congress, the first citizen witness ended his testimony today before the house judiciary committee at its opening hearing on bills to repeal the 18th amendment. The witness was Walter W. Liggett, private dry law investigator and magazine writer, whose articles on prohibition conditions have brought him recently before several grand juries.

In pithy phrases the lanky writer, towering above the committee table, depicted for more than an hour a trail of crime, debauchery, hypocrisy, and corruption he said he had uncovered in six states from Massachusetts to Kansas.

Spectacular Witness.

Liggett was the third and by far the most spectacular participant in the day's hearing, which was a triumphant field day for the wets.

Representative George S. Graham [Rep., Pa.], chairman of the judiciary committee, opened the ball with a statement calling for a new deal on prohibition that would do away with the rule of the bludgeon, and Representative Adolph Sabath [Dem., Ill.] spoke in behalf of his proposal to establish federal liquor dispensaries, like those in use in Canada, by constitutional amendment.

The drys were a subdued lot today. They failed in an attempt to limit by agreement the flood of wet evidence and argument, and after this defeat they contented themselves with tossing sharp questions at the star anti-prohibition witness, Liggett.

Liggett Once a Dry.

Liggett is not unknown in Washington. Last December, following the appearance of his article in Plain Talk magazine on "How Wet Is Washington," he was called before the District of Columbia grand jury in connection with the Brookhart wet dinner party probe. Later his articles "Holy, Hypocritical Kansas," and "Michigan, Soused and Serene," found their way to many congressmen's desks. Recently the author appeared before a grand jury in Boston.

Originally, Liggett asserted, he was a dry, but switched his viewpoint, and, after personal investigations covering the last eight months, has become a confirmed modificationist.

"In Washington, D. C.," he declared, "700 speakeasies and 4,000 bootleggers operate unmolested. In Boston prostitution is rampant, with 15,000 persons engaged in purveying booze. In Kansas, after fifty years of prohibition, there is not a town where I can't buy a drink in five minutes; Detroit is in the grip of gangsters and crooked politicians; drinking goes on merrily in Minneapolis; and North Dakota consumes immeasurably more liquor than before prohibition."

A Few Words About Hoover.

"But," asked Representative W. C. Hammer [Dem., N. C.], "what about giving Hoover and Mitchell a chance? Why not get behind them for a while and give prohibition a test?"

"The prohibition law essentially is nonenforceable," the witness replied. "I don't think Hoover could enforce it, even if he is a superman, as some say."

"I don't think he is," retorted Hammer.

"I don't either," Liggett answered.

The witness reiterated the charges in his articles concerning conditions in Washington, Boston and Topeka, Kas., leading up to those in Detroit, which, he declared, has 20,000 speakeasies, where drunkenness arrests have doubled in ten years, where "gangsters, racketeers and crooked politicians have control," and where "crime has increased so fast that I hesitate to tax your credulity by telling you about it."

One Wild Detroit Party.

"It was not so long ago that a drunken debauch was held in the Grand Avenue roadhouse, near Detroit," he asserted. "A former governor of Michigan, chief of police of Detroit and four Circuit court judges were there. The revelry included dances by naked hoochy-koochy girls and all the rest of it. It was a Bacchanalian orgy."

"When did that event take place?" demanded Representative E. O. Mich-ener [Rep., Mich.], who took the rôle of chief dry cross-examiner.

LIGGETT—The evening of Nov. 5, 1929, and the morning of Nov. 6.

REPRESENTATIVE H. G. TUCKER [Dem., Va.]—Were you there?

LIGGETT—I was not. I am more careful of my associates.

MICHENER—You can prove your statement?

LIGGETT—Certainly. I have the proof, but I won't be called upon to produce it.

MICHENER—I would like to ask you the names of the judges who were there.

LIGGETT—I am not a snooper. I am not paid to gather evidence. Government agents do that. But I will say that three of them still are on the bench in Detroit.

Under further cross-examination Liggett admitted that the police chief of Detroit, to whom he referred, is not the present chief. He refused, however, to back down on any of his other charges.

Turns to Volstead's State.

Turning to Minnesota, Liggett declared that everywhere in the state more hard liquor is being consumed than before prohibition and this in the face of the fact that former Representative Andrew Volstead has had a hand in enforcement.

"Drinking goes on unrestrained in the vilest places in Minneapolis," he continued. "There is not a decent speakeasy in the city, but there are 3,000 beer flats where girls preside. Every young fellow has a list of these places. He telephones to "Clara," or "Rose" that he is bringing up a friend and Clara gets a friend. They pull the shades, drink, and then other things go on."

"They also have their beer farms in Minnesota, many of them thrown open to city boys and girls of tender age, who motor out, drink, and rent a room if they want it."

Farmers Turned Distillers.

Representative Emanuel Celler [Dem., N. Y.] asked Liggett what he thought about the increase in corn sirup production to almost a billion gallons a year.

"Why, it is a common practice for farmers to bootleg nowadays," he answered. "The still on the farm is replacing diverted alcohol. A still costs $19. It will pay for itself in five days, and thereafter it is clear profit. The brewery is being driven to the home and the farm."

In North Dakota, he added, "out of every four farmers one is making bootleg liquor for the other three."

Liggett tramped on the toes of another committee member when he charged that "the police are very largely corrupted, including the higher officers, and ex-governors and their secretaries are selling confiscated liquor."

Representative George R. Stobbs [Rep., Mass.] interrupted.

STOBBS—You said ex-governors. You meant to use the singular, didn't you?

LIGGETT—Yes, the singular.

STOBBS—I assume you are willing to submit your evidence to a United States attorney.

LIGGETT—The Boston federal grand jury has it now. I told them all about it. I will say again I'm not a federal agent. They have no scruples against buying liquor to use as evidence. I do.

Paints Final Picture.

The witness concluded with the statement that if prohibition continues another ten years "this land will be ruled by gangs of underworld rats," adding, "prohibition has increased drunkenness, especially among women and children; it has increased debauchery and crime; it is the basis for crime; and what is far worse, it has corrupted public officials from top to bottom."

In order to accommodate the crowd the hearing was held in the large house caucus room, and even this was fairly well filled as the session got under way. Three or four hundred onlookers, half of them women, occupied the seats. It was a show to gladden the hearts of the comparative handful of wets in congress who heretofore have been on the defensive in the committees.

Chairman Graham in his opening statement registered himself definitely in the wet column. He carefully explained, however, that he spoke as an individual.

"There has been widespread request for hearings from proponents and friends of the resolutions pending before us," he stated, "and in the existing state of the public mind a hearing upon the matter could not be denied without infringing the rights of American citizens to petition and be heard by the congress upon redressing a wrong or bettering a condition.

"This hearing will not interfere with President Hoover's crime commission, but rather, be in aid thereof."

Reviews Ten Dry Years.

The 18th amendment, he asserted, has been tested for ten years without satisfactory results, enforcement having left "a train of consequences most deplorable and depressing to every patriot."

Killings amounting to over 1,500 have resulted during the prohibition era, he continued, and in one year there were 77,351 arrests. Demands for more prisons have been made and new ones ordered, with no thought that they will be adequate.

"When corruption, bribery, disrespect for law, and demoralization of the citizenry follow," he said, "it is time to devise a remedy.

"Let us reason together," he suggested. "Not with the fanatic, for he is the foe of religious as well as individual liberty, but with broad minded men and women of every faith and belief, and try to relieve our country by conceiving a new system —one not founded on the bludgeon and a violation of men's conscientious convictions regarding drink.

Individual Rights Paramount.

"No law can ever be enforced that is destructive of right and individual liberty. You may create a guerrilla warfare and its conditions, reeking with murder, bribery, corruption, violations, or evasions and disrespect for all law. Every law to be capable of being enforced without such a train of consequences must not be inconsistent with the mind of the people of the country as being right and must not be destructive of individual liberty."

The drys interposed immediately after Mr. Graham had finished. Representative Michener wanted to know the scope of the hearings and the time to be consumed.

"This is a busy session of congress," he said, "and the members' time should not be wasted."

Chairman Graham informed him that "both sides will be heard, first the proponents and then the opponents of the bills." Pressed for a definite limitation on time, the chairman compromised by stating that that would be agreed upon later in executive session.

Sabath Explains His Plan.

Called to explain his federal dispensary resolution, Representative Sabath stated that it incorporated the plan of the Federal Dispensary league, providing for amendment of the 18th amendment to permit government control of liquor, as in Canada and Sweden. He advocated it as "a sane, constructive plan that will mean real temperance."

Mr. Sabath then introduced Liggett, who set off the wet fireworks.

At the conclusion of Liggett's testimony the committee adjourned in order not to run concurrently with the house session. Later, it was indicated, unanimous consent of the house may be asked to permit all day hearings.

The Association Opposed to the Prohibition Amendment has arranged to present a series of witnesses, several of them well known business men, clergymen, and attorneys. These will be heard in order as the various repeal bills are taken up, the sponsors of the bills appearing first and then calling their own witnesses.

Concurrently with the opening of the inquiry into prohibition by the house committee, the executive committee of the national conference, representing thirty organizations supporting the 18th amendment, issued a statement challenging the motives of the wets.

Terming prohibition a "success," the committee referred to the "diminishing minority" of wet advocates, termed state referendums "a mockery of elections and of constitutional procedure," and adopted John Paul Jones' slogan, "We have just begun to fight."

LIGGETT'S CHARGES BRING FORTH FLOOD OF INDIGNANT DENIALS

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Declaring statements of Walter W. Liggett concerning prohibition enforcement in Kansas were false, William A. Smith, state attorney general, announced he would seek permission to cross-examine the magazine writer, who testified today before a congressional committee in Washington as to liquor conditions in this state.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Walter W. Liggett's statements before a house committee in Washington today, so far as they related to Boston, were characterized as very much exaggerated by Superintendent of Police Michael H. Crowley.

"I think it is a ridiculous statement," he said, "to say that there are 4,000 speakeasies in Boston, and 15,000 persons engaged in illegal sale of liquor."

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Gov. Fred W. Green today declared he had "nothing to say" regarding the statements of Walter W. Liggett that a former governor and high Detroit officials had attended a roadhouse party there last November.

"I don't know much about the matter and therefore have nothing to say," the governor said.

Later it was said at Gov. Green's office that he would go to Washington in a few days and that he might have something to say before the house judiciary committee respecting the statements made by Liggett.

JURY SWORN IN TO TRY DRY FOR VIRKKULA DEATH

Prosecution for Killing in June Starts Today.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Duluth, Minn., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—It was a June night when Gust Henry Virkkula, Big Falls restaurant keeper, was shot and killed as he was driving home from Duluth with his wife and two little girls. Today, as the snowflakes drifted by the windows of the courthouse, Emmett J. White, United States customs patrol officer, went on trial for his murder.

With the passing of these eight months, and the removal of the trial far from the scene of the killing, it is felt that a dispassionate view may now be had of that affair which so excited the border towns and drew the attention of the whole country to this kind of prohibition enforcement.

60 Dry Law Violators Sentenced.

The defense of White, a young man with a mop of brown hair and lowering face, is being conducted by the United States department of justice. L. L. Drill, United States attorney at St. Paul, and George A. Heisey, his assistant, with Attorney Franz Jevne of International Falls were in court this morning when the case was called before Judge William A. Cant, who had just finished sentencing sixty violators of the prohibition laws, sending twenty-one of them to Leavenworth prison, which is already groaning with its burden of prisoners and sleeping men in corridors and old lofts.

The state of Minnesota is prosecuting White in this federal atmosphere.

The selection of jurors took all day and late in the afternon eleven men and one woman were sworn to try the case and be locked up until their verdict.

Judge Explains Duty.

Judge Cant told them their sole duty was to sift the truth from the stories of witnesses. Juries do strange, unaccountable things sometimes, he said. They do these things because they do not know what the courts are trying to do, and have some foolish idea that tricks are being played on them and that the law is a mysterious business.

In his question to the jurors he said that they did not want fanatics to sit in these cases.

A man might be honestly opposed to the prohibition law, he said, or honestly for it and need not apologize for his attitude in either case. However, all were bound by the law.

Banker Opposed to Law.

Of all those who passed through the box today only one man, a banker from Rochester, said that he was opposed to the prohibition law. All those accepted said they had no hostility toward it.

The jurors are:

Ole Oie, Rossau, farmer and insurance man.

J. O. Hagen, Barrett, school janitor.

George M. Hirsch, Moorehead, furniture dealer and undertaker.

R. F. Pulber, Duluth, electrical engineer.

Ole H. Olsen, St. James, retired farmer.

W. A. Hauck, Redwood Falls, farmer.

Fred A. Salseth, farmer.

Joseph M. Wise, Lake City, real estate.

O. B. Trana, Vining, lumber merchant.

M. L. Ebeling, Owatonna, retired farmer.

Mrs. J. M. Hardy, Mahnomen, wife of farm loan banker.

Charles A. Applehagen, Duluth, salesmanager, Interlake Iron corporation.

Oscar J. Larson of Duluth, former congressman, will open the case for the prosecution in the morning. He was appointed to assist County Attorney David Hurlburt. The state case is not expected to take long, but the defense will be more elaborate. Crowds sought in vain to get into the courthouse today.

Bootleg Booze Is Getting Safer, Analysis Reveals

Ninety per cent of the booze seized by the police in raids last year was drinkable, according to a report submitted yesterday to Dr. G. A. Koehler, acting health commissioner. The report is based on samples of whisky, beer, alcohol, and wine seized in night clubs, attic stills, and basement speakeasies and analyzed in the health department laboratories.

The samples showed that an increasing amount of better booze was sold by bootleggers last year than in the previous four years also covered by the report. In 1925 only 62.80 per cent of the confiscated booze was drinkable and the percentage in the succeeding years was as follows: 1926, 83.44 per cent; 1927, 80.18 per cent, and in 1928, 81.20 per cent.

Chemists Help Bootleggers.

The decrease in poisonous booze was attributed by Dr. Fred O. Tonney, chief of the health department laboratories, to the fact that skilled chemists have been employed by wholesale bootleggers. The chemists, he said, have been able to extract most or all of the poisons placed in industrial alcohol by the government. They have also succeeded, Dr. Tonney said, in improving the product of the stills.

Wine was the safest drink found by Dr. Tonney among the 6,645 samples analyzed by the department in the five year period. Of the wine samples, numbering 443, all were found drinkable. The beer samples were a close second, as 99.37 per cent of the 3,618 samples were declared potable. The group classified as whiskies came next with a drinkable percentage of 67.39 of the 1,714 samples. Alcohol came last on the list, only 50.12 per cent of the 870 samples being found drinkable.

Little Real Liquor Seized.

Genuine liquor was rarely brought in by the police, but the cut and synthetic Bourbon, Scotch, rye, and brandy were found by the laboratory chemists to be fit for drinking purposes, according to the report. Of the 1,714 samples of whiskies, 559 were found to be colored crude alcohol containing an excess of fusel oil and denaturants. The remaining 1,155 samples were pronounced drinkable.

In the following table are listed some of the types of booze seized, the number of samples analyzed in the five year period, and the number that were labeled drinkable:

Liquor.	Total samples.	Drinkable.
Straight alcohol	436	436
Crude alcohol	343	None
Cut Bourbon	261	261
Synthetic Scotch	63	63
Synthetic gin	144	144
Colored crude alky	559	None
Home made wines	400	400

Near beer apparently has been sold over the counter to Chicagoans by many saloons as the real thing. The following table shows the relative distribution of beers as gleaned from the analysis of the samples.

	Samples.	Group per cent
Industrial beer [containing over one-half of one per cent alcohol by volume]	924	25.57
Near beer	2,348	64.90
Home made beer	322	8.90
Needled beer	24	0.63

Twenty-seven kinds of denaturants or other ingredients were found by the chemists in the samples which were labeled undrinkable. Among these were copper and zinc which Dr. Tonney credited to rusty stills. Others were chloral hydrate [knockout drops], one sample of castor oil, creosote, wood alcohol, kerosene, and mercury salts and diethylphthalate.

Many of the denaturants were those added by the government to industrial alcohol to prevent its use for drinking purposes. These included a number of substances which impart an odor to the alcohol. The bootleggers' chemists, according to Dr. Tonney, have probably found a method of eliminating these highly volatile ingredients.

DRY OFFICIALS GROW CALMER AS DR. DORAN LEAVES FOR CAPITAL

The excitement existing in Chicago's prohibition office for the last three days subsided yesterday when Commissioner of Prohibition James M. Doran left for Washington at noon without removing any of the dry officials from their jobs. As Dr. Doran left he remarked that any changes that might be made as the result of his visit would not be announced for six weeks or more.

Before the commissioner left he conferred briefly with United States Attorney Johnson, Chief Special Agent Alexander G. Jamie, and Administrator Yellowley. He is understood to have praised Jamie for his work in uncovering the huge industrial alcohol conspiracy for which 157 persons were indicted on Monday, and to have given Johnson assurance of the prohibition department's coöperation in the case.

From Washington came word that Alf Ottedal, former Doran assistant, is being considered for the post of prohibition director, which will be created when prohibition enforcement is transferred from the treasury department to the department of justice. Because the transfer legislation is not expected to pass congress for five or six weeks, it is regarded as unlikely that any drastic change in personnel will be made before that time.

UNDUE STRESS ON DRY LAW, JUDGE ASSERTS

If Abraham Lincoln were alive today he would oppose the unjust enforcement of the prohibition law and place the enforcement energies of the nation on a wider basis, to give equal attention to other laws as important as the dry act, Judge Marcus Kavanagh declared last night in an address at the Emil Hirsch Community center, 4622 South Park way. "All the energies of federal law are set enforcement of one act which declares criminal a practice not so regarded in other countries," Judge Kavanagh said.

Dry Agents Seize $100,000 Liquor Plant Near Momence

Dry agents under Deputy Administrator C. Edson Smith early yesterday raided a large still near Momence from which they claim thousands of gallons of alcohol have poured into Chicago during the last few months. The plant, valued at more than $100,000, was capable of turning out 2,000 gallons of recooked alcohol per day, Mr. Smith said. The mash vats held 90,000 gallons. Elmer Williams, who rented the farm on which the still was located, and three men found operating the plant; were taken to Danville for arraignment.

VICTORY OF WET IN MASS. RATED AS HOPEFUL SIGN

Democrats Heartened by G. O. P. Defeat.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Election of William J. Granfield, Democratic candidate for the congressional vacancy in the Springfield, Mass., district, gave joy today both to wets and to the Democrats. It was agreed that dissatisfaction with prohibition was a powerful factor in swinging this normally strong Republican district into the Democratic column and that unsatisfactory business conditions which were attributed by the minority party to administration policies also played an important part in the result.

The successful candidate was an avowed wet, while Fred D. Griggs, his defeated Republican opponent, had a dry record as a member of the Massachusetts legislature, although indicating a willingness to abide by the results of a wet referendum.

Hope for Senator Now.

Election of a Democratic United States senator in Massachusetts in November is counted upon by the Democrats as a certainty on the basis of yesterday's result. This would mean not only a Democratic gain in the senate, but also a gain for the wets. Senator F. H. Gillett [Rep., Mass.], who is not a candidate for the renomination, is dry.

The result in yesterday's election is believed to give somewhat more encouragement to the wets from the standpoint of the nation at large than to the Democrats. The shifting of a district which is normally Republican by several thousand votes to a Democratic majority of several thousand is interpreted by the wets as meaning that the prohibition issue has become so acute as to make possible the election of a wet Democrat over a dry Republican in a strong Republican district. This demonstration undoubtedly will give a tremendous impetus to wet activity in other sections of the country where prospects have been regarded as hopeless. It is expected to strengthen wet candidates in Republican primaries as well as in elections.

Support High Duties.

While Democratic leaders similarly are predicting nationwide victories on purely partisan issues, there is a question as to whether the Democratic voters in the Massachusetts district have the same view of economic questions as Democrats in other parts of the country. The Democrats in Massachusetts have supported high duties which the Democrats in power in the senate coalition have opposed.

Senator David I. Walsh [Dem., Mass.] said that the victory meant "the expression of a genuine resentment against present economic conditions and a protest against prohibition hypocrisy."

Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic national executive committee, said that the result may be credited to dissatisfaction with the Hoover administration. He minimized the importance of the prohibition issue.

PURCHASE OF BOOZE IS CHARGED TO MAN SEIZED IN CAPITAL

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—(AP)—What was described as the first arrest ever made in Washington on a charge of violating the prohibition laws by buying liquor was made today with the detention of Joseph Patrick Carley, whom detectives said they found leaving a speakeasy with a half pint of gin.

Carley was charged with "buying a half pint of gin" and released under $500 bond.

David A. Hart, assistant United States attorney in charge of prohibition enforcement, in police court said he did not order the charge booked against Carley, but that he was prepared to try him under the national prohibition laws.

"Purchasing liquor is just as much an offense against the national prohibition act as bootlegging, if the purchase is made from an illegal seller," Hart said.

MAYOR'S DELAY ON LOAN PARLEY ROILS ALDERMEN

Suggest Abolishment of Controller's Job.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Mayor Thompson's failure to obey the council order, unanimously adopted, to coöperate with the Strawn citizens' committee is arousing bitter row among the aldermen. They want the city employés paid their overdue salaries.

A few days ago it was announced that Trustee Lewis E. Myers of the school board had obtained Thompson's consent to official conference with members of the Strawn committee. These conferences were to begin immediately, and the Strawn committee has been waiting to hear from members of the mayor's delegation. But so far nothing has been done. Members of the city council are wondering if Thompson has decided to back down from his arrangement with Myers.

Aldermen Expected to Act.

If the mayor fails to coöperate until the next meeting of the council on Feb. 26 it is considered probable that the aldermen will try to take the situation into their own hands.

"What's wrong with coöperating with the Strawn committee?" asked Ald. Jacob M. Arvey [24th] yesterday. Ald. Arvey presented the resolution which was adopted by the city council on Feb. 4, "pledging the city of Chicago to coöperate with the publicly expressed plan and program of the citizens' committee" and "directing and authorizing the mayor" to coöperate.

"If the city employés do not get their money before Feb. 26 they will crowd the galleries, having previously pledged the aldermen to action," Arvey said.

What Council Can Do.

"What can the aldermen do?" Arvey was asked.

"They can abolish the office of city controller with a two-thirds vote," he replied. "The city council has the final power over the city's finances. The council is not compelled to have a city controller."

"You failed to get a two-thirds vote to pass the annual budget over the mayor's veto." it was suggested to the alderman. "Do you think you can get a two-thirds vote to abolish the controller's office?"

"If the city employés are not paid at the next meeting, Feb. 26, they will get the required votes among the aldermen," replied Arvey.

He Makes No Threats.

"Now, understand me correctly," he went on. "I am not making any threats. I like City Controller Schmidt and his word is good with me, but the newspapers do not appear to realize the feeling among the city employés because of the lack of pay. The employés cannot go on much longer without cash.

"All they need is a leader to get started now, and you would be surprised how quickly they would get enough council votes to start trouble for the city administration.

"I believe that a special meeting of the city council would be called immediately if the mayor should announce his refusal to coöperate with the Strawn committee.

"Every one believes that the Strawn committee can get the money. Besides, what objection is there to coöperating? The Strawn group says against waste. Who will say he is for waste? Strawn says he wants legislation to prevent a recurrence of the present conditions. Who will say he is opposed to Strawn on that point? So far as I have read, that is all there is to the Strawn program."

Views of Some Aldermen.

"I approve of going to Strawn or any one else," said Ald. Frank A. Lyle [36th], who votes consistently with Mayor Thompson. "I want to see the employés get their wages."

"Do I approve of going to Strawn?" asked Ald. George Seif [41st], who voted against the mayor on the budget fight. "Absolutely. Those good citizens want to aid. Why should they be turned down? They say that the money they supply shall not be wasted. That is perfectly sane. Then why shouldn't every one readily consent to that?"

"There is nothing offensive to me in going to Strawn," said Ald. John J. Griffin [1st], who supported Mayor Thompson in the battle over appropriations. "I earnestly want the employés to get their pay. I favor selling tax anticipation warrants over the counter."

"Politics Should Be Eliminated."

"I would like to see the administrative officials go to Strawn or any one else and get money for the city employés," said Ald. Walter W. Morris [18th].

"Politics should be eliminated from the matter. It is all important that the employés be paid and the personal ambitions of this man or that should not interfere with getting the money.

"I don't care where they get the money," said Ald. John Toman [22d], "but I want them to get it. The mayor ought to coöperate. I believe that absolutely. Some of you fellows who do not come in contact with city employés do not know what a tough position they have been placed in."

Ald. John S. Clark [30th], chairman of the council finance committee, said before he went to Florida on a vacation that he "felt certain the city council has the power" to abolish the office of city controller. It was reported that he had obtained legal advice on that point from outside lawyers.

Nine Days; Nothing Done.

It has been nine days since the city council ordered Mayor Thompson to coöperate with the Strawn committee. The day this order was passed H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the board of education, delivered an attack upon Strawn to 41 neighborhood bankers. After the council action it was reported first that the mayor would veto the order, but a little later it was reported he would "ignore" it.

On the same day that the order to coöperate was passed the council passed the tax levy ordinance, so the city officially has had tax anticipation warrants for sale for the last nine days—and no money obtained thus far for unpaid salaries.

While it would have been prudent and businesslike to have arranged before Feb. 4 for the sale of tax anticipation warrants, according to the aldermen, the responsibility since that time, they say, has rested squarely with Mayor Thompson. The aldermen are privately blaming him for not getting the employés their salaries.

Coöperation Pleas Recalled.

The Strawn committee asked for coöperation last December. It obtained a favorable response from the county and the sanitary district. It issued a formal plea for coöperation—evidently addressed to Mayor Thompson and Mr. Caldwell—last Jan. 24. Again on Feb. 3 the committee pleaded for coöperation.

The activities of the city hall in getting money for the employés consist of the following:

Robert C. Heller, head of a New York investment house, came to Chicago last week and conferred with city officials twice. He was expected to say yesterday whether he would buy tax warrants, but no word came from him.

City Controller Schmidt made a canvass of local banks and obtained no buyers. City hall officials issued a statement saying they were considering a plan to buy back at par tax warrants issued if called by the city. An opinion of the city law department was given out saying that, while it was not free from doubt, it was thought that the city could sell warrants below par on a bona fide sale. Two oral statements were made by Mayor Thompson saying that the city administration was attempting to sell warrants. No bidders have been found.

Caldwell Tries in Vain.

The efforts of Mr. Caldwell to get money for teachers' salaries consist of the sending of an agent to New York—identity not disclosed—on Jan. 28 to sell warrants. Caldwell said that the agent sent back encouraging reports.

So Mr. Caldwell went to New York on Feb. 6. Each day since then he has reported his hope of selling, but he has not yet sold any, and he has been requested by the city administration to return home.

Mr. Caldwell is now scheduled to leave New York on Friday, and it is expected that he will show up here Saturday empty handed. Two Evanston bankers have gone to New York to sell tax anticipation warrants and returned, one with $600,000 and the other with $925,000, since Caldwell has been negotiating there.

Now School Trustee Myers has initiated an effort to obtain cash. He has suggested that Mayor Thompson appoint a committee of three to meet Silas H. Strawn, Ernest R. Graham, and Robert R. Carr of the citizens' committee.

Explosion and Flames Wreck W. Side Drug Store

An explosion followed by fire late last night wrecked the interior of a drug store at 1132 West Lake street and routed families living on the two floors above the store. The damage was estimated at $2,000. Chief Anthony Mullaney of the Sixth battalion said he would ask Fire Attorney Scott M. Hogan to question Philip Goldenberg, the owner of the store.

MOONSHINING IN DRY SOUTHERN STATE

A twin still in the mountains, eleven miles from Birmingham, Ala., that produces five gallons of whisky every eight minutes. Rifles are in evidence in the picture, but they are seldom used, as the moonshiners prefer to flee rather than encounter government agents. [Wide World Photo.]

FARMER KILLED, DEPUTY SHOT IN RAID BATTLE

Everett, Wash., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Al Kinman, 50, a farmer and alleged moonshiner, was killed and J. W. Thomas, 45, Snohomish county deputy sheriff, was wounded seriously in a gun battle late today between Kinman and deputies who went to the man's home to search for liquor. Thomas was shot twice in the abdomen.

Accompanied by Sheriff George I. Stevens and Deputy J. J. Jackson, Thomas had gone to Kinman's home with a search warrant.

Thomas knocked. Kinman answered and when told that officers were there opened the door and shot Thomas. Jackson ran around the house as Kinman stepped on to the porch and the farmer started shooting at Jackson. Jackson returned the fire and killed Kinman.

Fight to Save the Life of Actress Who Took Poison

County hospital physicians were working last night to save the life of Mrs. Mildred McNaughton, 22 years old, who took poison in her room at 2666 West Washington boulevard. When found by the Warren avenue police she said she had come to Chicago recently from Los Angeles, and attempted suicide because she was lonely and despondent. She was divorced four years ago in Los Angeles from John L. McNaughton, son of the vice president of the Union Stock yards, she said, and had worked since as a motion picture actress.

Russia to Float 25 Million 9% Loan on Lottery Basis

MOSCOW, Feb. 12.—(AP)—The soviet union has decided to issue a new state internal lottery loan at nine per cent. The bonds will be worth about $25 each and the total of the loan will be for about $25,000,000. The loan is to run 10 years, dating from Feb. 1 of this year.

BOOZE RUNNERS RACE OVER LINE ON ICE HIGHWAY

Speeding Autos Do Trip in Five Minutes.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Scores of whisky and beer laden automobiles are whisking over the frozen Detroit river between Amherstburg, Canada, and the American shore at Grosse Isle, Wyandotte, and other down river points. The ice is as smooth as a concrete highway.

Over this "highway" rum runners drive their unconcealed loads with little fear of the United States customs border patrol. Their chief anxiety is that a thaw may weaken the ice. But the ice holds firm and handsome profits await the smugglers at the end of exhilarating five minute rides.

Seventy-five Speed Away

Between 2 and 5 p. m. Monday nearly 75 liquor laden automobiles left the Amherstburg beer docks. About a tenth bore Ohio license plates and their course was down river to Toledo and points east. Two trucks, three boats drawn behind open cars, and all types of autos bore loads away.

At 5 o'clock a liquor caravan of a dozen automobiles and two boats equipped with runners received clearance papers and departed in the gathering dusk.

On reaching Grosse Isle, some of the liquor is carried over the bridge to the American mainland in camouflaged trucks. Other shipments are placed in boats equipped with runners and hauled over the ice to the mainland and loaded in cars for later distribution to Detroit blind pigs and to Chicago, Cleveland and other cities.

Much Going South.

Much liquor is now being run by automobile to Florida and other winter resorts, where it commands fancy prices from wealthy tourists.

Many of the drivers make no attempt to conceal their illicit freight. Beer and whisky in bags are heaped high in the tonneaus of open cars, bulge out of rumble seats, and may be seen through the windows of closed cars.

"We have to take a chance, of course," a "runner" said, "but the law is not the thing we fear most. What we are really afraid of is the ice. Any time it may give way and let one of us through."

Bruce Strong Flying to Stricken Wife in Florida

Bruce W. Strong, 1320 North State street, left last night for Nashville, Tenn., where he will board an airplane this morning to fly to Key West, Fla., where his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Miller Strong, is critically ill of pneumonia. Mr. Strong was unable to obtain a plane in Chicago because of adverse weather conditions. He is the son of E. T. Strong, president of the Buick Motors corporation. Mrs. Bruce Strong is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin M. Miller, 1500 Lake Shore drive.

SEIZED FOR A 9 CENT ROBBERY.

Henry Barkeel, 11 years old, 1036 West 13th street, and Monros Cane, 12 years old, 1341 West 14th street, both colored, were arrested yesterday after they had robbed William Postelnek, 12, and his brother, Paul, 9 years old, 3239 Douglas boulevard, of nine pennies.

USE JONES LAW TO INDICT 132 BEFORE ST. LOUIS GRAND JURY

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Striking at the illicit liquor industry in St. Louis with the Jones law as its weapon, a federal grand jury in its final report today returned 116 indictments charging 130 men and two women with liquor law violations punishable by heavy prison sentences and fines.

It was the first time the Jones law had been brought into use extensively by a St. Louis grand jury. A previous grand jury had declined to use this law, which is directed against "habitual and commercial dispensers of liquor."

The new jury, with a banker as its foreman, followed closely the instructions of Judge Charles B. Faris that the jurors must regard the various prohibition laws as binding upon themselves.

Virtually all of those indicted today in liquor cases are alleged bootleggers and liquor manufacturers accused of widespread operations.

GIRL SLUGGED ON STREET AND ROBBED OF $4

Miss Florence Kizer, 30 years old, 5053 Sheridan road, was slugged and robbed at Sheridan road and Glengyle place, a few doors from her home, early this morning by a dapper young outlaw who had followed her from the Argyle street elevated station. She was taken to the Lake View hospital, where a cut in her head was treated.

Miss Kizer, a cashier in the Planters' cafeteria at 19 North Clark street, boarded an elevated train in the loop shortly after midnight. At the hospital she said that the man who later assaulted her, clad in a gray suit and wearing a cap, entered the car at the same time.

At Argyle street both left the train. The robber followed Miss Kizer along Sheridan road. At Glengyle place he struck her over the head with a blackjack, snatched her purse containing $4, and fled. Lincoln Park Policeman Gustav Swanson heard Miss Kizer scream and ran to her aid, but he was too late to catch her assailant.

POLICE HUNT BOY 'BANDIT'; FIND AND FIGHT A GUNMAN

Sergt. John Leyendecker and two other policemen went out yesterday seeking a boy who shot and perhaps fatally wounded his friend while the two played "bandits." During the search they ran into a real gunman and fought a pistol duel with him.

John Sansone, 14 years old, 1115 Vernon Park place, is the boy who was shot accidentally. His friend, David Dimendi, 12 years old, 1124 Harrison street, drew a revolver from his pocket and pointed it at Sansone as the two played a holdup game in an alley near May and Aberdeen streets. The weapon discharged, wounding John in the body. David fled, and the police in search of him started to question a stranger loitering in front of the Dimendi home. The stranger drew a pistol and fled after exchanging some shots with the police. He is believed to have been wounded.

Nobody—not even a husband—likes to look at a Bacterial-Mouth remove this odious condition to WHITEN TEETH

3 shades in 3 days

WITH every breath you take—beauty, health and happiness are threatened by millions of germs that sweep into the mouth. Teeth stain, decay and get yellow. Gums sooner or later surrender to disease. It is the penalty you must pay if you neglect a condition that confronts all of us, and defies the ordinary dentifrice—Bacterial-Mouth. Kolynos with its unique technique and antiseptic powers removes this condition by killing the germs that cause it.

Use the Kolynos Dry-Brush Technique for 3 days—a half-inch of Kolynos on a dry brush, morning and night. Then look at your teeth—fully 3 shades whiter!

In 10 days the improvement will be so marked you will never again say that white teeth are a gift received only by a fortunate few.

Dentists have long advocated the Dry-Brush Technique as the one way to use a dental cream full strength and keep brush bristles stiff enough to clean every tooth surface and massage gums properly. Only Kolynos permits this approved technique.

This highly concentrated, double-strength dental cream is unique in action. A half-inch is equal in effectiveness to 12 inches of the ordinary toothpaste for it multiplies 25 times when it enters the mouth. It becomes a surging, antiseptic foam that eliminates wetting the brush.

You can feel Kolynos work. It foams into every pit, fissure and crevice.

Germs that cause Bacterial-Mouth and lead to stain, decay and gum diseases are instantly killed. They vanish completely and the entire mouth is purified. Kolynos kills 190 million germs in 10 seconds, 424 million in 60 seconds.

This amazing Kolynos Foam removes food particles that ferment and cause decay . . . neutralizes acids . . . washes away tartar and the unsightly mucoid coating that clouds teeth.

Easily and quickly, it cleans and polishes teeth down to the naked white enamel—without injury. And for 3 hours after each brushing this cleansing, purifying process continues.

So long as you use the Kolynos Dry-Brush Technique, teeth will remain gleaming white, and sound, gums will be healthy.

Look for Results in 3 Days

If you want whiter, sounder teeth and firm, pink gums start using Kolynos—a half-inch on a dry brush, morning and night. Within 3 days teeth will look whiter—fully 3 shades. Gums will look and feel better. Your mouth will tingle with a clean, sweet taste. Buy a tube of Kolynos or mail this coupon for a generous trial tube—sent free.

NAVAL PARLEY FAILS TO AGREE ON LIMIT PLAN

Experts "Pass the Buck" Back to "Big Five."

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 12.—After the submarine splash yesterday, the five power naval conference dived again today into a sea of figures and technicalities and this evening only the periscope was showing.

Apparently the question of "modalities," about which Prime Minister MacDonald was so optimistic yesterday, has not yet been settled and is back again in the hands of the "big five," who had passed the buck to the committee of experts. This committee, after sitting more than a week, considering the rival British and French methods of limitation, produced a report today which was handed to the first committee, but which fails to settle the question.

So far as the experts' committee has been able to agree, it has compromised between the theses of global tonnage and categories. "Oceanic" powers, meaning America, Great Britain, and Japan, are to have categories of capital ships, aircraft carriers, cruisers, which are divided into two subclasses, destroyers and subharines. "Continental" powers, meaning France and Italy, will be allowed to lump light cruisers and destroyers in one class. This is about the only thing agreed on by the committee.

The question of fixing maximum and minimum tonnages for individual cruisers in the smaller class was referred back to the first committee. So was the question of special vessels, such as rum chasers, of which Great Britain wanted to make a separate class, involving an elaborate calculation as to how many rum chasers equaled one battleship.

U. S. Opposes Maximum Limit.

The United States opposed a maximum limitation of the size of six inch gun cruisers and also wanted to know what percentage of transfer would be allowed between different classes before agreeing to the report.

British spokesmen today took the attitude that the figures of global tonnage given last night by Premier Tardieu of France as the French requirement are "still pretty tentative" and likely to be changed in the course of bargaining. Premier Tardieu told Prime Minister MacDonald last night that the French program provides for 805,000 tons in 1943. M. Tardieu intimated, however, that this is susceptible to alteration.

Will Submit New Plan Today.

France will submit a new table of figures comprising proposed global tonnage and categorical outlines for the amount of tonnage placed in various classes of warships tomorrow. These figures will cover only the period of 1930 to 1936, in line with the Paris government's viewpoint that the present conference should deal only with this period.

The Japanese announce today that they will be ready tomorrow to publish their demands, but so far they have given no indication as to what they will be. Tsuneo Matsudaira of the Japanese delegation conferred with Senator David A. Reed of the American delegation this afternoon, showing him the proposed statement.

From an Indian source, THE TRIBUNE learns that India is demanding two 10,000 ton cruisers, five 7,000 ton cruisers, and ten destroyers, with a right to increase the number if India's neighbors, such as Persia and Japan, should increase their forces in Indian seas.

Boy, 6, Is Fatally Injured by Hit and Run Motorist

Six year old Edward Mikos, 2006 West 22d place, was fatally injured yesterday when he was struck by a hit and run motorist at 22d street and Damen avenue. He died in the county hospital. The boy's death raised the 1930 Cook county motor toll to 87.

10 Slain in Mutiny

HANOI, French Indo-China, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Five French officers were killed, five were wounded, five Annamite troopers were killed and six wounded in a mutiny of native riflemen at Yen-Bay, 90 miles from here.

The attack was made by 200 Tonking riflemen, accompanied by 60 native revolutionaries, all allegedly inspired by foreign revolutionary agitation. Airplanes are now trying to locate the mutineers, who have taken refuge in a forest between Yer-Bay and Phutno.

Revolutionary organizations have been active in Indo-China for several months.

KELLOGG STOPS HERE; HOPEFUL FOR NAVY MEET

Former Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg and Mrs. Kellogg arrived in Chicago yesterday from Florida with the body of Mrs. Kellogg's brother, Dr. Paul B. Cook, who died Sunday afternoon at Miami. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Ottis of St. Paul and were on their way to St. Paul, the home of the deceased, where the funeral will be held this afternoon. The party left for the north last night.

Dr. Cook was 53 years old and had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg of late years. During the war he was a major in the medical corps.

Although Mr. Kellogg did not care to discuss extensively world peace or the naval armament conference in London, he commented briefly on the conference.

"I really believe they're going to make a settlement over there," he said as he was escorted to an automobile that took him and his party to the Blackstone hotel.

APPOINT PEER TO SUCCEED QUEEN'S KIN IN SO. AFRICA

CAPE TOWN, Feb. 12.—(AP)—The earl of Clarendon was today appointed governor-general of South Africa to succeed the earl of Athlone, whose original tenure of five years ended in 1928. The earl of Athlone is a brother of Queen Mary.

The earl of Clarendon has been chairman of the British Broadcasting corporation since 1927. Born June 7, 1877, the son of the fifth earl of Clarendon and Lady Caroline Elizabeth Agar, he was educated at Eton. He succeeded to the title on the death of his father in 1914. He was parliamentary undersecretary of state for dominion affairs from July, 1925, to 1926, and chief Conservative whip in the house of lords from 1922 to 1925.

He married in 1905 Verena, daughter of the late Herbert Haldane Somers Cocks, and has two sons and one daughter, the heir being Lord Hyde.

4 Caught After Gun Fight Held on Robbery Charges

Four bandits who were captured by the Evanston police after a pistol battle in the Orrington hotel at 1710 Orrington avenue, Evanston, on Sunday morning were held to the grand jury yesterday on two to four burglary and robbery charges each by Justice of the Peace Harry H. Porter. The four prisoners are Oliver Dilworth, 21 years old, 1954 Birchwood avenue, and Roscoe Kilpatrick, 6408 North Clark street, whose bonds were fixed at $10,000 each; George Sturgin, 21, Lake Villa, $20,000 bonds, and Arthur Miller, 19 years old, 7136 North Hilldale avenue, $40,000 bonds.

GAS KILLS HOME DISTILLER.

Stanley Piastecny, 42 years old, was found dead of asphyxiation last night in his flat at 4813 South Wood street. The police, investigating his death, found a five gallon still on the kitchen stove and gas escaping from the burner under it, the flames having been extinguished.

WIVES OF ENVOYS SEE TREASURED RELICS OF LONDON

Shown Famous Charter of William the Conqueror.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 12.—Lady Mayoress Waterlow today invited a party of 90 women from among the delegations to the naval conference to visit the ancient Guildhall. They then were taken to the mansion house for luncheon, where they saw the most famous and treasured historical relics that the city of London possesses.

Beginning in the art gallery, they examined the portraits of the judges who settled property disputes after the great London fire of 1666. They also saw the picture of the installation of the first lord mayor in 1782, with exactly the same ceremonies that are followed today.

See London's "Birth Certificate."

Then in the council chamber they inspected a collection of relics that had been arranged for them.

Sent down from the record office, under heavy guard, was the famous charter of the city of London, which was granted by William the Conqueror. This charter is written on a strip of parchment in Anglo-Saxon and is signed by William the Conqueror. This is the birth certificate of London.

Queen Elizabeth gave another charter to the city, which is used on special occasions, as are the official purse and royal mace, which are set with jewels and date from Saxon times.

Sees Shakesperean Deed.

The party today also saw the deed for the purchase of Blackfriars theater, which William Shakespeare bought from the city.

The librarian, Mr. Dowthaite, explained that Guildhall was the only building in the city which escaped the great fire, although the roof was destroyed and marks of the flames are still discernible. Sir Chrisopher Wren put a temporary roof on while he was building St. Paul's. It was 200 years before the hall roof was reroofed.

The women inspected the eastern crypt, constructed in 1411 and never altered since, where Victoria dined in 1837.

Eat Traditional Turtle Soup

At the mansion house luncheon, traditional turtle soup was served in the Egyptian hall. This was followed by sole, braised chicken, asparagus, and an ice.

Mrs. John R. Thomas, wife of the military attaché at the American embassy, gave a luncheon at her home in honor of Mrs. Joseph T. Robinson, wife of the American senator.

Mrs. William W. Galbraith, wife of the naval attaché at the embassy, is giving a dinner St. Valentine's eve in honor of the Baron and Baroness Acrion of the Italian delegation. A number of Americans have been invited to this dinner.

RUSSIA PLANS GAS AND AIR DEFENSE CORPS OF 17,000,000 BY 1934

MOSCOW, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Under a special five year plan adopted today by the Soviet Volunteer Society for Aerial and Chemical Defense, which is a powerful civilian arm of the regular Red army, navy and aviation forces, soviet Russia will have 17,000,000 persons in various branches of air and gas defense by 1934. There are now 5,000,000 so engaged.

In unfolding the plan Alexander Malinovsky, undersecretary for the society, said the authorities would increase the number of aviation schools from four to 25 and train thousands of pilots.

The number of aviation groups will be increased from 500 to 2,500. Volunteer detachments numbering 21,000 and embracing 6,000,000 members will be engaged in the protection of habitations from gas attack. About 4,500,000 persons, including women, will receive military and technical preparation through various organs of the society.

Noah Beery in Hospital for Appendicitis Operation

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Noah Beery, noted character actor of the films, was stricken with acute appendicitis today while at the breakfast table in his North Hollywood home. He was taken to the Hollywood hospital for an operation.

NAVAL CHAIRMEN OBTAIN DATA TO SAFEGUARD NAVY

Oppose Limiting Big Gun Cruisers to 18.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Ammunition to be utilized in combating ratification of any naval agreement based on the Stimson proposals limiting big gun cruisers for the United States to eighteen ships is now being prepared at the direction of chairman of the senate and house naval committees, it was disclosed today. The principal purpose is to collect data showing the inadvisability of constructing small 6 inch gun cruisers of the type Mr. Stimson would substitute for several of the big gun ships.

In material under preparation for Senator Federick Hale [Rep., Me.], chairman of the senate naval committee, are maps showing the virtual impossibility of protecting American trade routes, especially along the eastern South American coast, with small cruisers armed with 6 inch guns. Lacking sufficient big cruisers with a long radius of action and without fueling bases in that territory, the United States, according to information reaching Mr. Hale, would be unable to maintain as many cruisers along this important trade route as could Great Britain.

Officers May Be Called.

Chairman Fred A. Britten [Rep., Ill.], is preparing a who's who of the ranking naval officers who have appeared before his committee in support of constructing only big gun cruisers. In case the naval reduction agreement calls for construction of small cruisers by the United States, Mr. Britten will call these high ranking officers before his committee, he said today, and ask them if they have changed their minds as to the type of cruisers needed for national defense, and if so what caused them to reverse their positions.

Mr. Britten continued his demand today for British scrapping of the Rodney and Nelson, Britain's best and most modern battleships. He attacked the Stimson idea of having this country build one 33,900 ton capital ship to attain parity and asserted that if the United States is to build any battleships it should replace old ones two at a time and build vessels that would fit in with the tactical needs of the fleet.

Conference Just a "Gesture."

"British refusal to scrap worth while ships and the Stimson proposals to increase the United States navy rather than reduce it as proposed by President Hoover, goes to prove my statement last fall that the conference is just a gesture," Mr. Britten said. "Apparently, Mr. Stimson, like former Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes, is after a diplomatic victory rather than an agreement insuring real national defense."

KIN OF POLICE CHIEF DIES.

William Walsh, 6 years old, a son of Sergt. John Walsh of the detective bureau, died yesterday at the Mercy hospital following an operation for mastoiditis. The boy was a nephew of Police Commissioner Russell. The Walsh home is at 8525 Vernon avenue.

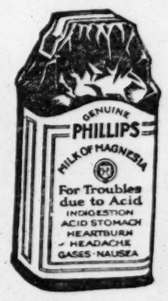
Why Run Such Risks

FROZEN SOLID! Another power plant headed down the road to ruin! Part of the toll freezing weather takes every year. And it's so unnecessary! The leading automobile engineers of the country point out that there is one anti-freeze that is absolutely safe and sure. One that gives you complete protection at a cost of only a few dollars for a season. It's Denatured Alcohol, approved by all car manufacturers and the safest as well as the cheapest anti-freeze. Why take the chances this luckless motorist took? Use Denatured Alcohol. The Industrial Alcohol Institute, Inc., Graybar Building, New York City

Denatured Alcohol

SAFEST, CHEAPEST ANTI-FREEZE



Acid Stomach

Excess acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tasteless and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, never continue to suffer when you learn how quickly, how pleasantly this premier method acts. Please let it show you—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—at any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor, Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

GIRL CASHIER OF BANK TO FACE THEFT CHARGE

May Surrender and Be Arraigned Today.

Miss Laverne D. Lindgren, 25 years old, of Riverside, who in less than three years rose from switchboard operator to cashier of the People's State bank of Maywood, was said to be under the care of a physician at the home of an aunt in Chicago last night while police sought to serve her with a warrant charging embezzlement of the bank's funds. Miss Lindgren's attorney told the Maywood police that he hoped his client would be able to surrender for arraignment today.

Meanwhile Elmer P. Langguth, 35 years old, president of the bank, which was closed last week by State Auditor Oscar Nelson for examination after Langguth admitted he had misappropriated an undetermined amount of the institution's funds, was free last night under $100,000 bonds following his arraignment on embezzlement charges.

Hope for Restitution.

Warrants for Langguth and Miss Lindgren were issued on Sunday by Magistrate George Lee in Maywood. Hope that Langguth might find some way of making restitution of the money he admits taking is believed to have caused the delay in the serving of the warrants.

Langguth yesterday surrendered to Lieut. Richard Bailey of the Maywood police and the two met Magistrate Lee by appointment at the home of Assistant State's Attorney Edward D. Markham, 125 South 17th avenue, Maywood, who is a neighbor of Langguth. Langguth was arraigned by the magistrate and made arrangements for his bond. The magistrate explained the deep secrecy of the proceedings by declaring that many of the depositors are disgruntled at the closing of the bank and he feared a riot should the hearing be held in open court.

Girl Drops from Sight.

Miss Lindgren dropped from sight the day before Auditor Nelson ordered the bank closed. She has persistently refused to discuss the bank's affairs with representatives of the auditor's office, it was declared, and the warrant was sworn out for the principal reason of assuring her presence at the investigation, according to a statement of one of the directors.

Langguth's bond was signed by his father, W. F. Langguth, who is a director in the bank and said to be a wealthy property owner in Maywood, and by nine other close relations of the young banker who reside in Maywood.

Walter P. Murphy, a Chicago attorney, who is a director of the bank, has insisted the $550,000 in deposits will be paid in full. He pointed out that the private resources of the bank's officers, together with the fact that Langguth was under a $50,000 surety bond, will insure this.

Charged with Trading In Bonus Certificates

Henry W. Evann, a pawnbroker at 302 South State street, was arrested yesterday by government agents on charges of trading in war veterans' service adjustment certificates and loaning money on them at three and one-half per cent interest. According to Assistant United States Attorney Dodd Healy, trading in these certificates is prohibited. Evann was held in $2,000 bond pending a hearing.

McDONALD BACK FROM A CRUISE IN TROPICAL WATERS

Commander Eugene F. McDonald Jr. returned to Chicago yesterday after a five weeks' cruise on the yacht Mizpah in the tropical waters off the coast of Ecuador. Accompanying Mr. McDonald was U. J. Hermann and two of the specimens captured during the expedition, a white penguin, dubbed Charlie Chaplin, and a small tree lizard.

The expedition was centered principally in the Galapagos islands, where the party obtained a number of fish and zoölogical specimens. These are to be given to the Lincoln park zoo, the Chicago Zoölogical gardens, the Shedd acquarium, and the private zoo of George F. Getz. Among the specimens are four giant tortoises and three sea lions.

Other members of the party were Dr. Baker Brownell of Northwestern university, Dr. George Fox, curator of Warren Foundation museum, Three Oaks, Mich., and Dr. F. W. Fitzgerald, Chicago archaeologist.

GIRL LEARNS TO FLY, THEN WEDS HER INSTRUCTOR

Ottawa, Ill., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—An air romance today resulted in the elopment of Miss Beulah Ruddy, 21, Ottawa pilot, and Carl Grau, 25, owner and manager of the Ottawa airport.

Leaving their homes in this city early today, Miss Ruddy and Grau left a note informing the parents of the girl that they were en route to Milwaukee by auto to be married and would then go on to New York on a honeymoon trip.

Last summer Miss Ruddy went to the Ottawa airport to learn to fly a plane. Grau was her teacher. After Miss Ruddy secured her commercial pilot's license in September, she decided to allow Grau to pilot her through life's journey.

PRESIDENT SEES MRS. STONE GET HUGE SEA FISH

Battles Until Dark to Land Prize.

Long Key, Fla., Feb. 12.—(AP)—President Hoover went out after a sailfish today and came in with no catch.

The fishing honors departed from the executive branch of the government, where they were the first two days of the trip, and went over to the judicial. Justice Harlan F. Stone, fishing from the boat with the President, landed a 40-pound sailfish, but it remained for Mrs. Stone, fishing with Mrs. Hoover, to land the prize of the day, a 55 pound sailfish, measuring 7 feet 10 inches.

Considerable uneasiness resulted from Mrs. Stone's catch. She hooked the big fellow at 5 o'clock in the afternoon and the moon had come up before she finally landed him. In the meantime, those in Long Key grew increasingly uneasy about the presidential party, for a stiff breeze was blowing, and both Mr. and Mrs. Hoover were in small vessels.

Studies News from London.

The chief executive spent his morning looking over mail and studying the latest news from the London naval conference. He found nothing startling either in his mail or in the news from London.

The presidential flotilla, consisting of five boats, found the sea rough soon after getting out of the shallow water around the key. Both the President and Mrs. Hoover are good sailors, so the boats pushed on. Justice Stone, Mark Sullivan and Dr. Vernon Kellogg went in the boat with the President.

Mrs. Stone was the only other woman in the party who wished to fish today, and she and Mrs. Hoover were in the second boat. Justice Stone was the first of the party to get a strike. He took nearly an hour to get his fish aboard.

Strike Comes Late in Day.

Mrs. Stone's strike came late in the day. Mrs. Stone worked hard with her reel and Mrs. Hoover vigorously worked a moving picture camera. The sailfish was breaking through the water, at times leaping six feet in the air.

President Hoover's boat was some distance away, but as it became dark drew in closer. The moon came up, but Mrs. Stone still had out a lot of line.

Lights were placed on all the boats as it grew darker. As the Orca carrying the news men came in closer Capt. Gray ordered the man at the wheel not to get too close.

"If you were to cut that line," the captain said, "you might as well look for another country."

The moon was an hour high when the big fish was landed.

Slayer of Policeman to Make Insanity Plea

Aaron Woodward, colored slayer of Policeman Jeremiah O'Connell, will make a last effort today to escape the electric chair by means of an insanity petition. Notice of the filing of such a petition on the eve of the scheduled execution was served on Assistant State's Attorney Charles Bellows yesterday. Woodward shot and killed Policeman O'Connell more than one year ago when he and a companion were surprised in the act of robbing a colored minister.

Fire on Liner Laid to Reds; Pets Found Alive in Ruins

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 12.—[Special.]—The last spark on the North German Lloyd liner Muenchen flickered out today and a salvage crew replaced the smoke begrimed firemen who had fought twenty-four hours to save the hull of the big ship. Damage to the vessel and its half million dollar cargo was estimated at $2,000,000, partially covered by insurance, and officials of the line announced the Muenchen would be floated and towed to dry dock for reconstruction. The cause of the fire remained undetermined, but there was an unofficial hint of arson.

Service on the Hudson river rapid transit tube, which was closed yesterday after the Muenchen foundered almost directly over the tunnel, was resumed today, engineers reporting that there was no danger of the ship's weight crushing the tube.

Crew to Be Questioned.

The arson theory gained significance when it was learned that every member of the Muenchen crew would be questioned by officials of the line as to what he knew about the origin of the fire. Henry Schuengle, resident director of the North German Lloyd line, himself hinted that he was puzzled about the fire, but made no statement concerning a suspicion of arson.

It is known that the North German Lloyd line is suspicious of the fire which last summer gutted its crack liner the Europa in dry dock at Hamburg. It also is known that the line has a great deal of labor trouble in Germany and that threats have been made by disgruntled former employés.

The present crew of the Muenchen contains a large percentage of communists in its ranks and it is said, there have been frequent cases of insubordination on the last trip which was unusually stormy.

Birds Sing and Dogs Bark.

A burst of cheery singing greeted the first rays of sunshine to penetrate the smouldering ruins. Most of the shipment of 7,000 canaries and finches, believed last night to have been destroyed, had survived the flames which raged for hours.

The survival of the song birds lent support to the steamship company's contention that the cargo had not been particularly inflammable.

Members of the crew, searching for what remained of their own belongings, also found two fawn colored Doberman pinschers en route to kennels in Fairfield, Conn. They greeted the seamen with yelps of delight.

Search was begun at noon today for the body of E. Franke, the ship's electrician, who is believed to have died when the Muenchen foundered.

Divers to Explore Ship.

Divers will conduct a survey of the ship before any attempt is made to float her. It is believed that the Muenchen will bob up like a cork when the water is removed, as her hull is virtually intact.

The burning of the German liner at her pier has revived the demand for fireproof passenger ships and when she is rebuilt additional steel bulkheads will be used in order to cut down the fire hazard.

Inquiry among shipbuilders brought the information that more attention is being paid now than ever before to safeguarding holds of new vessels. The interiors, however, so far as the fittings are concerned, still are highly inflammable.

MAURETANIA OFF TO SET A RECORD FOR HAVANA TRIP

New York, Feb. 12.—[Special.]—The Cunarder Muretania left today for Havana with 559 first clas passengers, the largest number that has ever sailed from this port for Cuba in one single vessel. Capt. S. G. S. McNeil, the master of the Mauretania, said he expects to make the run in 48 hours and dock in Havana Friday morning, which will beat all records.

Owing to dredging in Havana harbor which has been done by the ministry of public works, the Mauretania will have more water than any other vessel that has ever entered that harbor.

CHOOSING DENTIFRICE STRICTLY PERSONAL

Many people struggling to find the right tooth paste ask, "Will PEBECO work for me?" The answer isn't simply, "We believe it will." The answer is more! PEBECO is scientifically designed to clean effectively, to whiten without abrasion and to stimulate the flow from the salivary glands,—the flow which checks the destructive mouth acids. And it does! So when you ask that question the confident answer is, "We KNOW it will." Just give it the chance.—Advt.

KOEHLER URGES POLICE ACTION ON NOISE LAWS

Enforcement of city ordinances prohibiting certain noises was recommended yesterday by Dr. G. A. Koehler, acting health commissioner, as one phase of the health department's campaign to eliminate the unnecessary noises that wear on the nerves of Chicagoans.

Ordinances found by Dr. Koehler prohibit the hawking of wares in the streets, the use of steam whistles as a signal for commencing or suspending work in factories or by boats approaching a dock, the use of sirens on automobiles, and rules governing the use of steam shovels and pneumatic hammers. Dr. Koehler said he would ask the police department to enforce these ordinances.

ETTELSON WILL ARGUE FOR CITY IN "L" FARE CASE

Arguments for the city in the elevated fare suit being heard by Roswell B. Mason, federal master in chancery, will be made by Corporation Counsel Ettelson personally, according to an announcement yesterday. The elevated lines have submitted their evidence in support of the straight 10 cent fare, but the city's case has been limited to the cross-examination of the company's witnesses. Following several continuances granted the city Master Mason set next Thursday as the date on which the city is to submit briefs and make arguments.

FOES OF HUGHES CLAIM THIRTY VOTES IN SENATE

profits. The Illinois senator declared that "we have come to realize that great mergers and combinations are necessary, so long as they are compelled by strict laws to observe the common interests of the people and to operate not with the primary object of gaining extortionate profit but in the interest of all the people."

Senator Brookhart asked if it was not extortion to permit corporations to make a profit of 8 per cent when the American people generally are not able to make more than 4 per cent. Senator Glenn replied that he did not profess to understand the Iowa senator's economic views, and that he had found the farmers of Illinois were not greatly interested in them.

Senator Glenn said that if Abraham Lincoln had been proposed for justice of the Supreme court in the present day he would have been opposed by the same group which is fighting Mr. Hughes. Lincoln, Senator Glenn said, received his largest fee as a lawyer from the Illinois Central railroad.

Decisions written by Mr. Hughes as justice of the Supreme court were cited by Senator Glenn to show that "human rights will have a sympathetic upholder in the new chief justice."

Dill Sounds Radical Keynote.

The keynote of the opposition was sounded by Senator C. C. Dill [Dem., Wash.], who maintained that Mr. Hughes will join a present majority of the Superior court which in its decisions has placed "property rights above human rights."

"I am sick and tired of the attitude that the courts are holy," said Senator Dill. "The only chance the people have to pass on who shall be justices of the Supreme court is in the senate of the United States. If we had a man in the White House whose heart beats were in sympathy with those of humanity we would not be asked to put Mr. Hughes on the bench."

Senators Blaine [Rep., Wis.], Wheeler [Dem., Mont.], and Connally [Dem., Tex.] were others who attacked the Hughes appointment. Senator Blaine said that "the trails of big business have led to the office of Mr. Hughes;" that "now they will no longer converge in the office of Mr. Hughes, but in the fountainhead of justice, the chief justice of the United States."

Calls Hughes "Pack Leader."

"The junior senator from Illinois has said that we look upon him as the tool of wealthy corporations," said Senator Blaine. "I do not so regard him. He is not a tool of these interests. He is the leader of the whole pack."

Senator Wheeler insisted "there never has been an issue presented to this body where lines were more clearly drawn."

Senator Watson [Rep., Ind.] sought vainly to force a final vote tonight, but the Hughes opposition was able to prevent it.

TAFT AMAZES DOCTORS; ABLE TO LEAVE BED

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Apparently progressing steadily toward recovery, William Howard Taft was reported in favorable condition today by his physicians.

Just a week ago grave fears were entertained that the former chief justice might not survive the several maladies which had attacked him, but ever since that time he has surprised his attendants by the vigorous way in which he has rallied.

Virtually helpless at the time of his return from Asheville, N. C., Mr. Taft now can move about without assistance.

He has overcome his restlessness at night and sleep is proving beneficial. The physicians, however, warned again that their patient was a long way from complete recovery.

LARGE FORTUNE GONE, DUBUQUE MAN IS SUICIDE

Dubuque, Ia., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—The stock market crash last October has a reverberation in this city today with the death of W. H. Day Jr., owner of a fortune once said to aggregate $10,000,000. Day committed suicide early tonight by shooting.

Day's losses last October were stated by friends to have exceeded $3,000,000, and the balance of the fortune had been dissipated in speculation over several preceding years. The fortune was originally amassed by W. H. Day, his father, who headed the Central Lumber and Coal company, a concern which controlled over 50 lumber yards in the middle west.

STEEL COACHES SAVE LIVES IN TERMINAL CRASH

17 on Suburban Train Are Injured.

Steel coaches were credited with saving lives early yesterday when two Chicago and North Western passenger trains crashed at the entrance to the Canal street terminal. The impact tore the whole side out of a steel suburban coach and 17 persons were injured. A defective switch caused the collision.

Recall Coroner's Action.

Coroner Herman N. Bundesen, who conducted an inquest into a similar wreck, in which one person was killed, a year ago, said last night that the steel suburban car without question was the only thing which prevented fatalities in the crash of yesterday. At that time a coroner's jury recommended that the railroads discard their wooden suburban coaches as fast as possible.

The crash came when train 802, from Aurora, was pulling over the Lake street interlocking plant into the station. As it headed into the terminal train 22, which had unloaded its passengers, came backing out. The rear sleeping car of No. 22 crossed a wrong switch, scraped the engine of No. 802, and then tore its way along the first steel suburban car of No. 802.

Tears Side Out of Car.

Injured and frightened men, women, and girls screamed and shrieked as the grinding of steel on steel and the tearing of the great hole in the side of the suburban car went on. After the sleeping car had ripped away the entire side of the suburban car below the windows, it came to rest against the second car on the suburban train, the wheels of both being forced into the air.

The railroad, in a report on the accident, pointed out that the suburban train was "made up of new roller bearing all steel equipment."

Among the injured were several with broken legs and some suffered wrenched backs, but most of those hurt were cut by flying glass or bruised. The more seriously injured were taken to the dispensary in the station for first aid and then removed to St. Luke's hospital.

ROB DRIVER FOR LOOP STORE.

Harry Lubben, 6122 South Rockwell street, a drive for Marshall Field & Co., was robbed of $60 yesterday by two gunmen who kidnaped him at 64th and Throop streets and drove him to 60th and Honore streets, where he was freed.

FIVE "BIG SHOTS" OF GANGDOM ARE SEIZED IN RAID

Barker, 2 O'Donnells and White in Cells.

Barker, White, Quirk, Sinek, O'Connor, and Lacey in conference around a table. None of the men was armed but two overcoats yielded two pistols.

All disclaimed ownership of the coats, but one of them contained a glove with cork tips in the fingers corresponding to White's missing digits. The other coat fitted Barker, who terrorized the coal industry almost to the point of a lockout. Then in came Bernard O'Donnell with a gun in his pocket.

A Story of Gang Murder.

Such a nest of gunmen hadn't been found in many days, and the detectives were curious. Later a story was being told as follows:

"It was in that same room that Clifford and Reilly were killed about 10 months ago and Quirk took their bodies in an automobile and dumped them out in Al Capone's back yard. They were killed because one of them shot Vercoe, a business man who was on a two day spree and who innocently recited a piece of barroom poetry containing the dare: "Shoot, you coward, you dare not." The O'Donnells were protesting to Clifford and Reilly about giving Cicero a bad reputation by the Vercoe murder, and Clifford and Reilly taunted, "Well, what are you going to do about it?" They got their last answer.

"The O'Donnells had to kill Cy Cawley and Thomas McElligott, pals of Clifford, Reilly, and Barker, before they made peace with Barker, who is now in cahoots with them."

The records of the men, who are to be turned over to the state's attorney's office today to be indicted with eight or ten others under the new Criminal court procedure, are as strange as that story, according to the police.

Barker was a product of the crew that came to be known as Clifford-Reilly-Barker, McElligott and Cawley gang. They started as labor sluggers and later took possession of the garage industry. That was after Barker had served two penitentiary sentences and was released on doubtful paroles.

Clifford, Reilly, and Barker were tried for the murder of Albert Pratt, a garage attendant, but were acquitted when a policeman, who was shot by Pratt's murderers, refused to adhere to his first identification of the trio. Then Barker went back to prison for violation of parole, but was released on a writ by a Peoria judge. Then he took as his own the coal teamsters' union.

White has been out of the penitentiary three months and he has become business agent of the coal yard and hikers' union, a subsidiary of Barker's union. He was sentenced to life imprisonment for killing a policeman, but the Supreme court gave him a new trial. A witness was killed before he was tried as one of the robbers who got $80,000 from tthe International Harvester company.

The O'Donnells were pioneers in the beer racket that came into being with prohibition. Myles and a companion killed Eddie Tancl, then boss of Cicero, and they were supreme. They were found not guilty when the witnesses reversed their original stories of the murder. Then Myles and his brother, Klondike, were in the car with Assistant State's Attorney William H. McSwiggin when McSwiggin and two others were slain, supposedly by Capone gangsters.

Quirk was a saloonkeeper in the olden days. He was hunted for the murder of Roy Flynn in 1927 after Flynn had said on his deathbed that Quirk shot him because he wouldn't join a hijacking expedition with Quirk.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

FOES OF SPANISH KING WAR AMONG SELVES ON RULE

Hate Alfonso, but Can't Settle Own Feuds.

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Feb. 12.—United in their hatred for King Alfonso, the republicans of Spain, however, are far from united on principles. Some are reconservative and some are liberal. Some are Socialist and some are Federalist. Some are Centrist and some favor an Iberian union. Some are deadly enemies of the Catalans, and all are regionalists. No one bothers to recall what party feuds did in the republic of 1873, and that they resulted in the restoration of the Bourbons.

Marcelino Domingo, the most important republican leader, next to Señor Lerroux, stayed away from the 1873 republic aniversary celebrations last night because of personal rivalry. In an interview he said however, that the government would never dare to call an honest election, for it would be swept out of existence by a republican landslide.

Attacks Dynasty and Army.

Yesterday's meetings must have given Gen. Damaso Berenguer, new premier, and King Alfonso a premonition on what the election campaigns will be like. The restrictions on free speech, however, are being gradually raised. Prof. Miguel Unamuno, famous Spanish philosopher, an exile with Blasco Ibañez, only back two days has been arousing thousands of republicans and Basques to frenzy with his attacks on the dynasty and the army.

Luckily for the king, his fate is not left in the hands of these professional republicans.

The real arbiters of the situation are a handful of elderly statesmen, like former Premier Sanchez Guerra, who have preserved their integrity during the dictatorship. Guerra, once chief of the Conservatives, about to form a party of his own, looms large in the minds of worried monarchists.

Guerra Spanish Hero.

Señor Guerra was unpopular with the masses before the dictatorship because of his harsh treatment of strikers. But he went into voluntary exile when Primo summoned his farcical national assembly, and stood up before court martial at Valencia a year ago and said:

"Yes, I have come to Spain to start a revolution. What are you going to do about it?"

Then he became a hero.

Señor Guerra's "new constitutionalist" party can swing the balance. His attitude toward the monarchy has not been announced, and at Gen. Berenguer's request, Señor Guerra has postponed a massmeeting from which he intended to broadcast his views all over Spain. That Guerra and his friends disapprove heartily of King Alfonso's absolutist idea is obvious. If Guerra throws his weight to the republicans, King Alfonso might as well pack his bags. That is what the monarchists fear, and that is why Gen. Berenguer, long a friend of Guerra, persuaded him to wait a little.

In return, the dictator pledged himself to rush promised liquidation of the dictatorship and get back to normalcy with all speed. Some believe that Guerra is, in this way, offering the king his one last chance to be good.

Artillery officers, dismissed by Primo, have been restored to their ranks by King Alfonso. They were also awarded all back pay.

Primo Found in Paris.

PARIS, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Primo De Rivera, who slipped into Paris unannounced Tuesday night, was finally found today in the haunts he loved as a student years ago. He was found in a small hotel in the Latin quarter.

"I have just come to Paris to spend a few days before going to San Remo," he said. "I shall remain there a few days and then come back to Paris before returnig to Madrid."

DENY PLEA OF MURDERESS.

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 12.—(AP)—The Arizona state board of pardons and paroles today denied the petition of Mrs. Eva Dugan for commutation of the death sentence. She is to hang here Feb. 21 for the murder in 1927 of A. J. Mathis, aged Tucson, Ariz., recluse.

800 REDS STORM GERMAN PLANT OF U. S. AUTO FIRM

Try to Wreck Factory; Ringleaders Seized.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

FRANKFURT, Germany, Feb. 12.—An American factory owned by the Opel-General Motors company at Ruesselsheim, today went through a regular red siege of riots, which endangered the lives of the working force of 7,600 men, until police from Frankfurt and Darmstadt rushed to the rescue. The police threw a heavy cordon around the plant and arrested the mob's ringleaders.

The American directors of the Ruesselsheim plant have demanded that their workmen work at the same speed and at the same hours as men in the plants in America.

Reds Start Agitation.

Communists obtained jobs and started agitation against the employers. Some of them were elected to the factory's council. This council of workers, which is sanctioned by law, is supposed to act for the protection of the workers.

Three trouble makers belonging to these councils were discharged by the Opel company yesterday for organizing general meetings of workers during working hours.

This morning 200 militant Reds arrived by trucks, motorcycles and on foot from nearby towns. The factory gates were closed at the sight of the first Red flag. The attacking Reds climbed the fences. More than 600 workers on the inside laid down their tools and demanded that the executives reinstate their comrades.

7,000 Stay at Posts.

The rest of the workers, numbering 7,000, remained at their posts. The rioters tried to explode boilers and threatened to kill noncommunist workers, who were forced to flee.

Two ringleaders, a communist deputy in the Prussian diet, Oskar Mueller, and a communist deputy in the Hessian diet, Sumpf, were caught as they were fleeing over the fence. A police cordon was thrown around the town of Ruesselsheim to prevent the entrance of communists from nearby towns and to catch the agitators, who smuggled themselves in the plant this morning.

Losses to the company included $15,000 in wages for those who remained at their posts, but were unable to work, and shortening of production by 60 cars.

NEW U. S. ENVOY GIVEN WELCOME BY HINDENBURG

Old Warrior Praises World Peace Ideal.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Feb. 12.—American Ambassador Frederic M. Sackett presented his credentials to President Paul von Hindenburg today. At the cordial reception the octogenarian soldier took the occasion to praise the efforts made for world peace by President Hoover and the American nation.

Mr. Sackett was taken to the German White House in the president's own car. On his arrival an honor company of the reichswehr presented arms. The new envoy was then received by the president, Foreign Minister Julius Curtius, and Secretary of State Carl T. von Schubert in the gilded diplomatic room of the palace.

Praises German Fortitude.

Mr. Sackett, in his address to President Hindenburg, expressed his admiration for him as the living embodiment of German love for the fatherland. He then praised the energy and determination with which the German people are facing post-war problems, and expressed the hope that the two great republics would be able to labor together for peace in years to come.

Mr. Sackett made his address in English, and President Von Hindenburg, replying in German, said in part:

"Your excellency has rightly called attention to the mutual efforts of both our countries in the sphere of international conciliation. The noble goal of a true world's peace, to which your country has for years devoted itself and which is clearly evident in so many of the public utterances of your President can nowhere find a more sincere appreciation than with us.

Acknowledges U. S. Aid.

"Your warm acknowledgment of that which German strength and German industry have accomplished under difficult circumstances will be received sympathetically everywhere in Germany. Such appreciation on the other hand is a renewed reminder of what far reaching support the German people in the most difficult times of reconstruction have received from the United States.

"I acknowledge with sincere thanks your excellency's amiable references to myself and the friendly wishes your President has expressed in his own hand for the success of the German people, and I entreat you to believe that I entertain the same sentiments toward the people of America.

"In the name of the German nation, Mr. Ambassador, I bid you a hearty welcome."

Following the interchange of speeches, Ambassador Sackett was presented to the official family, secretaries and attachés of President von Hindenburg.

DEFENDS QUEBEC'S POLICY FOR USE OF U. S. CAPITAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Feb. 12.—Defense of the Liberal government's policy of encouraging United States' capital in the province of Quebec was the keynote of an address delivered today in the legislative assembly by Honoré Mercier, minister of crown lands and forests, in the budget debate.

The minister summed up the situation by declaring that industries operating on foreign capital meant an investment of $60,000,000 in the province, with work for 10,000 persons and a pay roll of over $10,000,000 per year. He said that if any reproaches were to be adressed to the government, then these must also be borne by boards of trade and individual cities and towns, which had long advocated bringing in money from the outside to aid in industrial and other developments.

"Moreover the use of foreign money is not peculiar to Quebec," he added. "It has been used by every new country, and even in Canada the west had found its funds in the east."

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

To end a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than anything you could buy at 3 times the cost. From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germ-laden phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in the obstinate bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

LOBBY WITNESS' MEMORY FOUND QUESTION PROOF

"Can't Recall" Events 24 Hours Old.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—If anything was needed to whet the senate investigating committee's interest in the Muscle Shoals lobby, it was the amazing loss of memory exhibited today by W. G. Waldo, $10,000 a year secretary of the "Tennessee River Improvement association," concerning the association's activities in behalf of private operation of the Muscle Shoals project.

For three hours he wriggled and squirmed in his chair under a merciless cross-examination that brought him close to collapse and exhausted the senators without eliciting a fact about the operations of the association or the source of its funds, beyond Waldo's own success as a high pressure contribution solicitor.

The result was an announcement by Senator T. H. Caraway [Dem., Ark.] that Claudius H. Huston, former president of the association and now chairman of the Republican national committee, will be called to testify.

May Call Insull.

Likewise it was indicated Samuel Insull of Chicago, whom the senators have tried vainly thus far to link with the lobby against government operation of the Muscle Shoals project, will probably be called. Waldo will be subjected to another grilling tomorrow.

Waldo, according to his own testimony, until 1928 was the go-getter who raised funds for the association to supplement the contributions of the late Henry L. Parsons, New York utility financier, who, for some reason, made J. W. Worthington, executive chairman of the association, the beneficiary of a $12,000 annuity fund. No records of contributions or expenditures has ever been kept, so far as he knows, Waldo testified, although the association's budget has averaged $70,000 a year for several years.

"Doesn't Know" Contributors.

Waldo declared that "so far as I know," neither the Alabama Power company, the Georgia Power company, nor the Tennessee Light and Power company has contributed to the Tennessee River Improvement association, and he denied that Chester Gray, Washington legislative agent for the American Farm Bureau federation, has been carried on the association's pay roll for a number of years.

Waldo's ordeal came to a sudden climax when, after he had insisted he could not recall a long distance telephone conversation with Worthington yesterday, Senator Hugo Black [Dem., Ala.] produced what purported to be reports of three such conversations apparently overheard by a committee investigator.

Waldo, obviously unnerved, appealed to the senators to let him rest for a few minutes. Returning to the stand, he insisted that, beyond Worthington's caution that he should tell the committee "we wear no man's collar and are under obligations to no one," he could not remember any of the conversations.

RUSSIAN GIRLS FIND U. S. IS 'HEAVEN'; WEEP AS THEY RETURN HOME

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Feb. 12.—Thirteen girls between the ages of 17 and 20, with eyes swollen from weeping, boarded a train for Leningrad this evening after enjoying a brief "taste of heaven" in the United States. The girls are members of a troupe of esthetic dancers under the leadership of Irma Duncan, adopted daughter of Isadora Duncan. They appeared in Chicago in November, 1929.

A year ago Miss Duncan, from a class of 66 girls, picked 13 orphans of proletarian origin and received permission from Moscow to make an American tour.

In America the girls for the first time ordered meals from menu cards and discovered that the shops abroad were filled with beautiful things to wear which could be obtained without standing for hours in queues and presenting cards proving membership in a trade union or a cooperative society.

The girls admit that their first shopping tour converted them from communists to admirers of capitalism, and when one said she would become the wife of an Eskimo to avoid returning to Russia the others energetically nodded in agreement.

HAITIANS RIOT AFTER SERVICES FOR SLAIN PALS

Police Swiftly Suppress Disorders; Jail 31.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Thirty-one persons were arrested here today during disorders that followed a memorial mass in honor of the Haitians killed at Aux Cayes Dec. 6 in a clash with a force of marines.

Today's disorders were the first since Dec. 4, and were swiftly quelled by the nacional garde.

Following a memorial mass in the cathedral the leaders addressed a crowd of 400 in front of the edifice, speaking of the misery of the people and blaming the government, asserting that it was backed by American machine guns.

The speakers expressed the hope that the Hoover commission would allow them to express their convictions free of fear of the interference of machine guns.

With disorder developing a small detachment of the nacional garde dispersed the crowd, making eighteen arrests, including four speakers. After the prisoners had been transferred to a police station a second crowd gathered and thirteen arrests were made on charges of obstructing traffic and refusing to obey police orders. The trouble lasted about half an hour.

Opposition leaders charged the police with brutality and severe clubbing. The police, however, said that none of those arrested had required hospital treatment.

Four women, who were charged with being active in the disorders and with attacking policemen, were later released.

Among those arrested today were Victor Cauvin, secretary of the Union Patriotique; David Jeannot, Justin Sam, son of former President Sam, who was killed by a mob in 1915, and Morevia Morpeau. The latter was released because of his advanced age.

Out of Work; Shoots Wife and Attempts Suicide

A father of four children, despondent after seeking vainly for weeks for work, yesterday shot and wounded his wife and then slashed his own throat with a razor. The husband, George Honcharevich, 43 years old, and the wife, Katherine, 37, were both in a critical condition last night at the North Avenue hospital following the tragedy in their home at 2370 Elston avenue. The couple's four children, Peter, 15; Helen, 11; George, 9, and Walter, 3, witnessed the shooting and stabbing.

PLOT TO MURDER RUBIO IS TRACED TO SAN ANTONIO

Believe Assassin Got His Orders from Rebels.

BY JOHN CORNYN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 12.—The plot to assassinate President Ortiz Rubio has been traced to San Antonio, Tex., it was revealed here today.

According to information, papers found in the home of Armilfo Flores, the assassin's brother, hint that the Flores family had plotted on the president's life on instructions from Vasconcelistas in the Texas city. Quantities of Vasconcelos' revolutionary literature, apparently sent from San Antonio, were found in the raid.

More Arrests Made.

Daily arrests continue here as well as in various Mexican states. From San Luis Potosi four prominent members of the Vasconselos party were brought to the capital last night by order of Valente Quintana, former chief of police, who is in San Luis Potosi investigating the plot.

Tina Modotti, an Italian artist, arrested several days ago as a communist, was refused a writ today. She is held on a charge of complicity in Vasconcelos' party activities. Other communists, accused of making their purposes common with the cause of the Vasconcelos party, are still in jail.

Carlos Pellicer Camara and Octavio Medellin Ostos, close friends of Vasconcelos, were arrested last night as a result of revelations said to have been made by prisoners arrested three days ago. Camara was an official in the department of education when Vasconcelos was minister of education in President Obregon's cabinet.

President Rubio left his bed today and sat up in an armchair. He conferred with several members of his cabinet by writing answers to their questions, since his doctors prohibit him from talking.

U. S. Receives No Word.

San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Federal department of justice officers here today said they had received no word from Mexico City that persons in San Antonio were involved in or knew of the plot against President Rubio.

"All Mexican plots are supposed to lead to San Antonio," the officers said, "on account of the large number of refugees residing here."

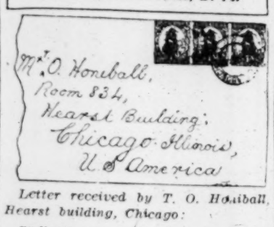
Morris Goldenstein, 3259 Division street, a loan broker, was robbed of $200 last night by two gunmen who invaded his apartment while he and his family were at dinner. The bandits were admitted by Goldenstein's daughter, Lillian, 13 years old, after they had rung the door bell. While one of the men stood guard over the family the other forced the broker to open a safe in his office in the apartment.

THE TRIBUNE CONTEST OF INTERESTING LETTERS

If you have received a letter from an interesting or little known place, send the envelope to The Tribune, stating name of place where it was mailed. The sender of every envelope which is reproduced will be paid one dollar.

From Stellenbosch, S. A.



Letter received by T. O. Hoiball, Hearst building, Chicago:

Stellenbosch, next to Cape Town, is the oldest town in Cape Colony, South Africa. It was founded by Simon van der Stel, the first governor under the Dutch East India company, about 1680.

The town has a population of 6,000 and is 30 miles east of Cape Town. It is the great fruit center of South Africa, and lying in a basin almost surrounded by mountains, ranks high in climate and attractiveness. It has a university with colleges of agriculture and mining. Gen. Smuts, former prime minister, and Gen. Hertzog, present premier, were both graduated at Stellenbosch university.

NEW CONTRACTS SIGNED TO END GARMENT STRIKE

New York, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Lieut. Gov. Herbert H. Lehman announced late today that all factions concerned in the strike which has tied up the New York garment industry for several days had agreed on terms which will send 22,000 workers back to their jobs immediately. New contracts bringing the strike officially to a close were ready for signing tonight, he said.

In addition to the 22,000 eligible to return to work immediately, about 7,000 other workers are expected to go back as soon as the union reaches agreements with individual manufacturers.

The chief points of the agreements provide for the time and one-half for Saturday work, the formation of an impartial board of arbitration, and appointment of a committee to investigate conditions of the industry and make recommendations.

AID OF EXPERTS ASKED TO SOLVE LAUNDRY BLAST

Having exhausted all possibilities in the usual police channels in an attempt to solve the $10,000 blast in the Northwestern Laundry company's plant, 2749 Lincoln avenue, Tuesday night, Capt. Thomas Duffy of the Sheffield station plans today to seek the aid of technically trained men from the offices of the building commissioner and the fire attorney.

"If it was a bomb, as was at first suspected," said Capt. Duffy, "we have been unable to discover any possible motive, nor have we found any explanation for a natural or spontaneous explosion."

The owners of the laundry, Max and Abraham Stern, and their brother-in-law, Morris Siegel, convinced the police that they knew of no possible reason for a bombing, but were likewise at a loss to explain the explosion. They are members of a laundry owners' association, their drivers are organized, and they have had no labor trouble of any kind, they said. They had no bomb insurance.

Nab Suspect in Chicago; He Escapes Iowa Sheriff

After arresting Fred Shipley, a former hotel owner of Gardner, Ia., on Tuesday, the Chicago police were hunting for him again last night. Shipley, charged with the theft of an automobile, was turned over to Sheriff Bruce Orr of Gardner yesterday morning. The sheriff accompanied Shipley to his room at 1640 North La Salle street and waited there while the prisoner went into a closet for his clothes. After waiting for several minutes Orr opened the closet door and discovered that it led to a rear stairway, down which Shipley had fled.

MRS. VANDERBILT SEEKS HOSPITAL AT IOWA HOME

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr., who has been ill at her apartment here, will leave tomorow with her husband for Davenport, Ia., to undergo treatment at St. Luke's hospital there.

Her physician said today that Mrs. Vanderbilt was suffering from a recurrence of an intestinal condition which she experienced here last September. It was said her condition was not serious and that her removal to Davenport, where her father resides, would be made in the belief that it would aid in her recovery.

LAWYER FINDS BRIDGE LAWS OF CITY ANTIQUATED

Goldstein Reviews Fight for New Hours.

Pointing to the antiquated laws now regulating the open and closed periods of Chicago's loop bridges, Attorney Benjamin F. Goldstein, special counsel for the city and advisor to the aldermanic committee on bridges, yesterday issued an analytical summary showing the defects in the present ordinance.

Mr. Goldstein was appointed by Corporation Counsel Ettelson last week to help in the efforts now being made to get war department approval of an amended ordinance lengthening the bridge closed hours in the interests of street traffic. Secretary of War Hurley refused to agree to the extensions two weeks ago, but the aldermen are planning a trip to Washington to make personal appeals for a reconsideration in the near future.

Tells History of Fight.

Tracing the history of the bridge controversy, Mr. Goldstein consulted old statutes and found that as early as 1867 the city council required that no bridges over the river should be allowed to open any time between 6 a. m. and 7 p. m. for a longer time than 10 minutes. In 1890 the first definite closed hours were adopted restricting boats from calling for openings four hours each business day.

"At present, thirty-nine years later," the lawyer said, "the closed hours total only four and one-half, just thirty minutes longer, and during the same period the population of Chicago has increased from 1,100,000 to more than 3,300,000. The closed periods have not been adjusted, in the interest of business, to cope with this tremendous increase, and, equally as important, neither have the hours been synchronized to conform with the traffic demands at the central bridge points.

Gives Volume of Traffic.

"The recent survey discloses that the vehicular, street car and elevated traffic over bridges entering the loop aggregates, on a typical week day, more than 9,500 vehicles between 9:30 and 10 a. m., during which time bridges are allowed to open. The traffic in that half hour is only 10 per cent less than the peak period reached between 8:30 and 9, and yet those interested in keeping the bridges open almost continuously would have us believe the 8:30-10 period is inconsequential.

"Similarly, the afternoon traffic between 4 and 4:30, an open period, is in excess of 10,500 vehicles which is within 20 per cent of the afternoon peak load.

"From 1925 to 1929, the bridge openings increased from 94,685 to 122,772 and the costs of the operations showed a corresponding growth, from $701,731 to $860,500, the 1929 figure. When taxpayers consider that the best part of $1,000,000 is being spent annually for operation that only delay their freedom of action, the problem is clearly displayed."

"The 1929 bridge openings consumed 7,240 hours or more than 82 per cent of a year. That represents the time that the bridges were open or in the process of being opened or closed, but it does not represent the total time lost to the waiting pedestrian or vehicle. It must be remembered that traffic is stopped by the lowering of the bridge barriers prior to the time the spans are lifted and the pileup or congestion does not end the moment the bridge is once more fitted into place but continues until the barriers are swung open again.

"In many instances, at the Michigan link bridge, for example, an opening will consume five minutes or more and traffic will be backed up for half a mile both north and south.

"There have been occasions when two bridge openings in quick succession at noon on Saturdays have caused a traffic tangle and confusion not completely relieved for three hours. Particularly has this been true in the summer time and when Soldiers' field has been the scene of an intersectional football game. Traffic bound south fills Michigan avenue from curb to curb and the stream is thrown into an unmanagable mass when a sand scow or tug opens the bridges and steams through."

GIRL WHO CAN'T STOP CRYING GROWS CALMER AFTER 3 DAYS OF IT

Attleboro, Mass., Feb. 12.—(AP)—The condition of Violet Michael, 18, who has been suffering from an involuntary crying spell since Sunday night, was much improved tonight after a two hour sleep today. The attack, which had been continuous, was present only at intervals.

Dr. Earl White, the attending physician, said that with another good sleep tonight he expected the malady to disappear tomorrow.

Violet started crying when her mother left home Sunday for a visit. A spasmodic contraction of the diaphragm resulted and the girl was unable to stop crying.

PRIDE OVER BABY TRAPS SUSPECT IN OHIO MURDER

Because of a father's pride in his new-born son, Charles Hannick, 21 years old, alias Frank Lord, and George Williams, 64 years old, alias John C. Lord, "father and son" bandits, will return to Cleveland this morning to face charges of murder and bank robbery. The pair were captured here yesterday and Hannick confessed that they had killed a Cleveland policeman on March 6, 1929, while on the way to rob a bank, and that they robbed the bank a month later of $4,700.

Although the Chicago police had descriptions of Hannick and Williams, they were unable to find the pair until the Cleveland police found a letter from Hannick to a friend in Cleveland, telling of the birth of his son here seven weeks ago. The birth records revealed that Hannick was living at 2326 Augusta street, and the police arrested him there yesterday. He promised to tell everything if the police would let him see his wife, Edna, 21 years old, and the baby. He named Williams as his accomplice.

Williams was arrested at 1743 Warren avenue, where he and Jewel Long, 21 years old, were living as Mr. and Mrs. Lord. Hannick said the older man had shot and killed Policeman Carl Sherman and wounded Martin Hoffman. Williams escaped from Joliet penitentiary, where he was serving a term for killing a Chicago policeman, in 1924.

Burglar Robs Lake Forest Home; Misses $2,000 Silver

A burglar early yesterday invaded the home of Thomas Bigford, 19 June terrace, Lake Forest, and stole a gold watch and fountain pen from the clothing of Mr. Bigford. The burglar overlooked a $2,000 chest of silverware in the living room through which he entered the house.

Two veteran employés of the Chicago and North Western railroad, whose combined service record totals 99 years, retired yesterday. They are George S. Lane, passenger conductor of Maywood, who has been with the railroad 50 years, and John F. Maiden, locomotive engineer of West Chicago, 49 years. In the conductors' room at the terminal yesterday morning more than fifty colleagues, each of whose service record is 39 years or more, met to bid the veterans farewell. William Walliser, 46 years in service, was master of ceremonies.

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence

Men who would keep that trim, proper figure, women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—eat heathfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that lithe, youthful figure.

SCHOOL BOARD AIRPORT ACTION IS DUE TODAY

Ten Chicagoland Cities to Improve Facilities.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

Final action by the board of education on the measure which will permit expansion of Chicago's single track airport is expected this afternoon. The board will meet to vote on the recommendation of the committee on buildings and grounds that the schools lease 600 acres of property at Clearing to the city for airport purposes.

Meanwhile ten cities in or near the Chicago metropolitan area are going forward with the development of airports, six of which will be larger than the present Municipal field. These cities are: Joliet, Elgin, Rockford, Rock Island, Moline, Iowa City, Janesville, Beloit, Dubuque, and Muncie, Ind.

Elgin Leases Airport Site.

The Elgin Association of Commerce has leased 173 acres of land north of that city and is now at work laying runways and installing night lighting equipment. The field will be completed by March 1 when Northwest Airways expects to establish a spur line from Chicago to Madison, Wis., stopping at Elgin, Rockford, Beloit, and Janesville. Although the plan is only a week old, Elgin business men have subscribed $10,000 of a $20,000 fund for the development.

A. F. Youngberg, head of Youngberg, Brown & Youngberg, Chicago airport engineers, yesterday announced that work had been started on a 173 acre tract west of Joliet. That city is spending $300,000 on the project which includes a modern passenger terminal with hotel accomodations. The improvement will be completed by July 1.

Rockford to Vote on Change.

Rockford in April will vote on a proposal to have the city's park district take over the present chamber of commerce air field and develop it with funds received from the assessment of one mill or less for airport maintenance. Such an assessment would provide the city with $80,000 annually for airport use.

Moline plans the expenditure of $150,000 on a 165 acre tract now used by the air mail. Rock Island is contemplating a 160 acre field for which it may spend $350,000. Iowa City will spend $70,000 for the purchase and expansion of Smith airport, the first in that state. Muncie has voted $125,000 to improve a 165 acre city field. Dubuque, Ia., and Janesville and Beloit, Wis., are also planning better local facilities for air transports.

In its four years of existence the expenditure on Chicago's Municipal field has not reached $300,000. The field now comprises 120 usable acres.

Flying Instructor Killed and Pupil Hurt in Crash

Tulsa, Okla., Feb. 12.—(AP)—P. E. Caraway, chief flying instructor for the Spartan School of Aeronautics here, was killed and John F. Tobin of New Rochelle, N. Y., a student flyer, was injured in an aeroplane crash at Municipal airport late today.

SAYS CANCER CELLS ARE RACKETEERS OF CELL LIFE IN BODY

"Cancer cells are body cells which have gone wrong; they are the racketeers of the body," Dr. J. P. Simonds, head of the pathology department at Northwestern university, told the members of the Chicago Medical society last night. He added that as racketeers, "they push their way into places where they do not belong."

"Cancer is simply a lawless and purposeless growth of cells," the pathologist continued. "These racketeers of the body, like human racketeers immediately build up an 'organization' from cells they have invaded and corrupted, forming a solid mass of bad cells. These form corrupt alliances with the lymph and blood streams and thus reach distant organs where they form new cancerous masses."

Dr. Simonds said that cancer is not a germ disease, is not a blood disease, is not contagious and that the chances of inheriting it are seemingly regulated and lessened by a law of biology known as the "Mendelian recessive." This law, he said, means that in a family with a cancer history more members will escape it than develop it. A cancer heredity, he concluded, need not cause a panicky feeling of dread.

MYSTERY VEILS SHOTGUN DEATH OF YOUNG GIRL

Jeffersonville, Ind., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Mystery increased today in the shotgun death of Vada Weaver, 13, Sellersburg. Dr. S. S. Foss revealed that a gun the coroner found lying across the girl's legs was standing in the corner of the room when he was called to her home shortly after her death. An iron poker the coroner found beside the body was not there when he arrived, the physician said. Clark county authorities still incline to the theory of suicide, but admit they are puzzled anew. The girl's face and head were cut, apparently by some sharp instrument.

Officers today began intensive search for a hatchet or other instrument other than the shotgun, which may have been used by a murderer.

Dr. Foss thinks the girl stood the shotgun in the corner, placed her forehead against it and pulled the trigger with the poker.

Dr. Foss said that on the way out of the house to call the coroner he met the girl's father, George Weaver, and warned him to disturb nothing. The father said the gun lay across the girl's legs when he first saw the body.

COMPLICATIONS FROM FALL FATAL.

Robert V. Brown, 79 years old, 7712 South Green street, a retired salesman, died yesterday in the German Evangelical Deaconess hospital of pneumonia which developed after he had been injured in a fall at his home on Feb. 5.

Runs City Twelve Years, Tells where he Gets his Pep

Texas City Executive Hopes to Live to be a Hundred, He Feels so Fine!

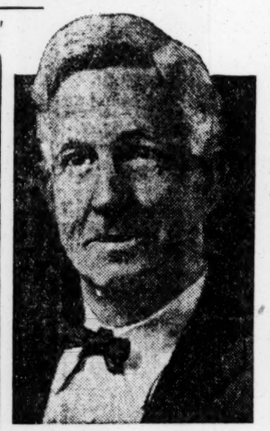
WHEN a man who has been mayor of a big city for twelve years finds out how to live, his words are worth listening to. Ex-Mayor E. N. Kirby, of Abilene, Texas, discovered the simple way to health just about ten years ago (he is now 64). This is how he feels about it:

"I am now a new man, and as active as a boy," writes Mr. Kirby. "I feel fine all the time and rarely have an ache or a pain, although for twenty-five years I suffered with rheumatism, and sometimes was unable to stand or walk. I would not give up my simple health discovery —no, not for five thousand dollars in gold! That discovery was Nujol."

Of course you can understand why this is so: we all of us have natural poisons in our bodies that make us feel headachy, sick, and low in our minds. Nujol, which is as tasteless and colorless as pure water, helps to absorb these and carry them away, easily, surely, regularly as clock work.

That's the wonderful thing about Nujol. Although it is not a medicine and contains absolutely no drugs, its harmless internal lubrication seems to make people feel better and look on the brighter side of life, whether they are old or young.

Instead of drugging and irritating your body with pills, cathartics, laxatives, and other habit-forming drugs, give your body the internal lubrication which it needs, just as much as any other machine. After a few days you will be surprised at the difference in the way you feel. You can get Nujol in a sealed package in any drug store. It costs only a few cents, and it makes you feel like a million dollars. If you are like the millions of other people who have discovered this simple way to health and happiness, Nujol will change your whole outlook on life. Give yourself a chance to be well! Get a bottle today.

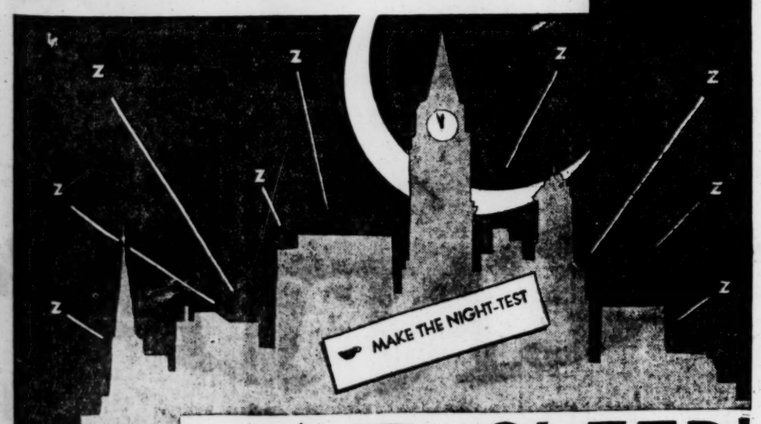


Hon. E. N. Kirby, for twelve years Mayor of Abilene, Texas, who has discovered secret of success

(From the end of Mr. Kirby's letter.) Cordially, E. N. Kirby

We have a city of about Thirty Thousand people, and I was their Mayor for Twelve years in succession, and thousands of my friends have witnessed the change Nujol brought to me.

DRINK COFFEE—



AND SLEEP!

IF YOU find it hard to get to sleep—if your sleep is fitful and broken—don't blame coffee. Don't give it up. One single ingredient of coffee —caffein—is the cause of your trouble. Drink Sanka Coffee—genuine, delicious coffee from which 97% of the caffein has been removed.

And such delicious coffee! . . . . . .

A single cup of Sanka Coffee will prove that coffee without caffein tastes just as good and better than the coffee that keeps you awake. For caffein is odorless. It contributes nothing to coffee's spicy flavor, to its steaming fragrance—although it may rob you of sleep.

And such flavor, such fragrance, as you find in Sanka Coffee! The choicest of Central and South American coffees are roasted and blended with such skill that coffee experts declare no other blend is finer—in quality, in flavor or in aroma.

Physicians here and abroad endorse Sanka Coffee whole-heartedly. Your grocer carries it —ground or in the bean—in full-pound cans that preserve its freshness and its fragrance. He sells it on the basis of complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded. Get a can of Sanka Coffee today—and sleep tonight.

Make the night-test! . . . . . .

The first time you try Sanka Coffee, drink it at night! It won't keep you awake. Next morning you'll know you've discovered a coffee that you can enjoy morning, noon and night—without regret!

LAMBS SO CHEAP THEIR SHEPHERDS ARE PROUD OF IT

Western Feeders Want Housewives to Know.

BY PAUL POTTER.

A coterie of shepherds came out of the west yesterday to pay Chicago, the stockyards metropolis, a visit and incidentally to tell the world that many car loads of fine fat lambs are on their way to market at the lowest price since 1921.

In the course of their meetings with officials of Packingtown and others before returning to their flocks in Colorado and Nebraska these western business men asked to be remembered to housewives of the city and to pass the word along that the ladies might take advantage of the present rock bottom costs of lamb cuts around the corner under the butcher's sign.

Senator in Party.

State Senator N. C. Warren of Fort Collins, Colo., a feeder of thousands of spring lambs, was accompanied by H. W. Farr of Greeley, Colo., president of the Nebraska-Colorado Lamb Feeders' association, which includes some 2,000 members in these two leading states of lamb production. Their annual feeding operations place about one-fifth of the nation's lamb production in shape for a select market, this year numbering over two million lambs.

"This rapidly growing lamb industry now supplies trim dressed carcasses weighing about 40 pounds by the trainload each spring," said Mr. Farr. "We estimate that at least $220,000,000 is represented in the American food budget now being paid out for lamb cuts. Under the modern methods of neat, wasteless cutting of the carcass there are some fifteen tender cuts of lamb available at varying prices, nearly all of them boneless and with very little fat."

A Pair of Modern Shepherds.

Fred Klink of Denver admitted yesterday that he had relinquished the honor of being the nation's largest lamb feeder to E. J. Wagner of Fort Collins, who is with him here. Both men represent the typical well dressed, businesslike shepherd of 1930, who buys thousands of young weaned lambs from the plains of Arizona, Wyoming, and New Mexico, to fatten on corn and alfalfa for the spring trade.

"We naturally think we have about the finest meat that can be produced," said Mr. Wagner. "Americans haven't realized as well as the English how good lamb really is, for our present per capita consumption is about 6 to 7 pounds compared with over 25 pounds annually in Great Britain. Our lambs are fed at high altitudes, most of them a mile above sea level."

Here is an agricultural industry not looking for government aid in marketing a large crop. Western sheepmen are topping out the lambs as the demand requires, within a few weeks' period. They have a plan of orderly marketing that brings about 25,000 lambs to market each day, thus avoiding gluts in transportation, packing, and delivery to the retailer.

NEGRO CONVICTED OF 1ST DEGREE MURDER; JURY OUT 4 MINUTES

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Lorenzo Price, Negro, today was found guilty of first degree murder without recommendation for mercy, by the jury in Criminal court, which heard testimony in his three day trial for the killing of Reuben Heyman on Jan. 2. The verdict carries the death penalty, and was reached after four minutes' deliberation.

Price was accused of the murder of Heyman and assault on his companion, Mrs. Dorothy Burgess, after he had forced them to drive to a lonely spot. During the trial efforts were made by the defense to show that Price and Mrs. Burgess had met at an interracial dance and had kept engagements since.

Price appeared in the courtroom throughout the trial still suffering from wounds inflicted by a Baltimore county policeman in a gun battle, in which he was captured the day after the murder.

Two days were given defense attorneys to file motions for an appeal.

ALFORD DISPOSES OF $40,000,000 IN 36 WORD WILL

Nash Official's Estate Goes to Widow.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Kenosha, Wis., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—The will of Walter H. Alford, vice president and controller of the Nash Motors company, who died here on Feb. 5 after a short illness, was submitted for probate in the Probate court of Kenosha county late today. The document estimated the estate value at $2,400,000.

The will was written in Detroit, Mich., on May 11, 1915, and this estimate is believed to have been based on the property as of that time. It is known to be much greater now. Mr. Alford then was controller of the Buick Motor company.

Shortest on Record.

The will is the shortest on record here. It consists of thirty-six words. "I, Walter H. Alford," the will written in long hand by Mr. Alford reads, "devise and bequeath to my wife, Gertrude M. Alford, all of my property, real and mixed, knowing full well that she will provide and care for my son, Ferrin Hulbert Alford."

Standish Backus and William P. Winch, both of Detroit, were the witnesses to the will.

Son Killed in 1928.

The son was 4 years old at that time. He was killed in an automobile accident at the age of 18, on Dec. 28, 1928.

The low value written into the estate is understood to have been Alford's worth in 1915. Since that time his estate has grown to proportions estimated at between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000.

An inventory will be taken immediately. Mrs. Alford is the executrix.

"Drunkenness Is a Disease and I Can Cure It"
—Leslie E. Keeley, M. D., LL. D.

THE EDITOR of a powerful Chicago Newspaper before his death, challenged this statement of Dr. Keeley that "Drunkenness is a disease and I can cure it." He defied Dr. Keeley to cure the men whom he would send to the Institute. The results were so convincing that, through his great newspaper, he was personally responsible for thousands of men and women taking The Keeley Treatment for Liquor.

(right) ELINOR GLYN famous writer on problems of romance

"It is color that makes clothes charming, alluring, expressive of you"

"CLOTHES, clothes, clothes! Clothes in courtship! Clothes after marriage! How steadily the note runs through all my correspondence with women," says Elinor Glyn, "and how much of a mystery clothes still seem to be!

"Yet it really shouldn't be a problem . . . when you realize why clothes are so important.

"You know that you look best in certain colors. There is the clue . . . for it is color that makes clothes charming, alluring, expressive of you.

"So if you would be successful in romance or in married life, let me give you two rules . . .

"ONE: Wear the colors that suit you best;

"TWO: Keep those colors fresh and new and vital, just as you keep your things clean and dainty.

"The slightest loss in hue, the least deviation from the original tint, spoil the effect . . . and, of course, the charm that the gown or frock brings.

"I have found that the allure that lies in color is protected by Lux. Repeated washings leave things color-fresh and color-vital . . . new-like in hue and power to charm.

And let your surroundings reflect YOU . . .

"Not only in your frocks and accessories, such as gloves, scarfs and handkerchiefs, but equally important in your very surroundings, color is vital. The curtains, draperies and slip covers of your living room form part of the magic spell. And here, too, Lux is invaluable."

How Ford Methods Cut Cost of Distribution

Lower profits in selling save you at least $50 to $75 in addition to the many savings in manufacturing

TWENTY-SEVEN years ago the Ford Motor Company was formed to provide reliable, economical transportation for all the people. That original purpose has never changed. The constant effort in every activity is to find ways to give you greater and greater value without extra cost—frequently at lowered cost. This applies to distribution and similar important factors, as well as manufacture.

For the Ford Motor Company believes that its full duty is not only to make a good automobile at the lowest possible price, but to see that there is no waste, extravagance, or undue profit in any transaction from the time the car leaves the factory until it is delivered to your home. It is obvious that hard-won savings in production will be of little value if they are sacrificed later through excessive selling costs.

EVERY purchaser of a motor car has the right to know how much of the money he pays is for the car itself and how much is taken up by dealer charges. If these charges are too high, one of two things must happen. Either the price of the car must be raised or the quality lowered. There is no other way. The money must come from somewhere.

In the case of the Ford, the low charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories mean a saving of at least $50 to $75 to every purchaser in addition to the still greater savings made possible by economies in manufacturing. Ford charges are not marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on a used car.

The profit margin on the Ford car has always been fair to both the dealer and the public. Within the past three months, it has been possible to effect still further economies. Today, the discount or commission of the Ford dealer is the lowest of any automobile dealer. The difference, ranging from 25% to nearly 50%, comes right off the price you pay for the car.

THE business of the Ford dealer is good because he makes a small profit on a large number of sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales. He knows, too, that the extra dollar-for-dollar value of the car makes it easier to sell and more certain to give satisfactory service after purchase.

Consider also that the Ford car is delivered to the purchaser equipped with a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, an extra steel-spoke wheel, and bright, enduring Rustless Steel for many exterior metal parts, in addition to four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers and fully enclosed four-wheel brakes.

If for any reason you wish to buy certain small accessories, you will find that these, too, are sold at the usual Ford low prices. Replacement parts are also available at low prices through Ford dealers in every section of the country.

THESE are important points to remember in considering the purchase of a motor car. They show why it is possible to put so much extra quality into the new Ford and still maintain the low price. They are also the reasons why more than 35% of all cars sold today are Model A Fords.

WHY CHICAGO GOVERNMENT IS WHERE IT IS.

Citizens who are willing to provide money to meet exigent bills and give public employés their much needed pay demand that the city government and other taxing bodies submit to conditions for the safeguarding of the loan. It is required that the spending shall be supervised by or for the men who put up the cash. There must be a guaranty that it is honestly used to pay honest debts.

Many foreign nations have had to agree to such a service of the loan when they borrowed American money to get back on their feet, but Chicago city officials have protested that such an attitude on the part of the lenders would indicate a lack of confidence in public officers and might arouse the people to a sense of distrust.

The assumption that such a distrust would be injurious to the citizens and not good for them could be used by the Marx Brothers in "Animal Crackers." The city looks as if Harpo had been turned loose on it, and if there is a comedy relief in the serious matter this is it.

Three elements compose the situation:

First—Assessments of property so grotesque in their inequalities and injustices that they had to be done over again, preventing the collection of taxes and exhausting the credit the taxing bodies could use through the sale of tax anticipation warrants. The assessments were not unequal by mishap, but by intent. It was the climax of political jobbery in peddling tax reductions.

Second—Accumulating deficits caused by spending above income and hiding the increasing debt.

Third—Boodling, pay roll stuffing, and corruption in the making of public improvements, the purchase of supplies, and the hiring of services.

The looting of public funds has caused the deficits, and political jobbery in the assessments has caused the delay in the collection of taxes. The three have produced the situation. The causes had to bring the consequences. They were unescapable.

The distrust of city officials and the demand for an honest supervision of the proposed loan are properly based upon exhibits of facts, a few of which will refresh the memory of citizens.

1. In May, 1926, William S. Adams was sentenced in the federal court to a fine and to imprisonment in the Du Page county jail for falsification of his income tax schedules for 1920 and 1921. He was the head of the Adams-Beatty-Francois company, which had been paid $286,703 by the city, under Thompson, for appraisal work on the surface lines. Of this at least $100,000 had been paid on fraudulent representations. The company was a political selection. Adams' defense in the federal court was that his tax returns were not false because he had not retained the money, but he refused to make good this defense by saying where it had gone, preferring the jail sentence.

2. The latter part of last year Attorney Jay Schiller, hired by the council to recover $648,000 in income taxes, was recalled from Washington by Corporation Counsel Ettelson. Mr. Schiller had asked the federal government to return this money because it had been paid on funds stolen from the city in expert fees. The city council hired him to make this case on the facts. The corporation counsel recalled him because he did.

3. Real estate experts employed on five street widenings collected $1,738,000 in fees which Judge Friend, in a suit begun by THE TRIBUNE, ordered restored to the city by Thompson, Faherty, and other city officials against whom judgment was issued for recovery. That suit is now in the Supreme court. The amount with interest is $2,442,000 to date.

4. Experts employed by Faherty to appraise buildings in this same improvement collected $1,004,000 and had claims for $1,781,000, collection of which was stopped by a suit begun by THE TRIBUNE to prevent it and to recover the money already paid out. That suit is pending in the Superior court.

5. George E. Carlson, city electrician, was indicted in May, 1922, for conspiracy to defraud the city in the purchase of materials for street light extension in a contract given the Electrical Materials company. On one order of goods $168,000 was paid and only $40,000 worth delivered. The total loss was estimated at $360,000. Criminal prosecution failed in two trials, but under Mayor Dever the city brought civil suit for recovery and the report of the master in chancery found that the city had been swindled out of $145,000. Recently an offer of settlement was refused by Ald. Govier's subcommittee as ridiculously insufficient.

In April, 1921, $215,000 was paid to A. Thompson traction commission which reported on a five cent street car fare. The report was generally known to be worthless, unneeded, and unusable, merely a means of distributing city funds to political worthies, one of which was the Negro attorney, Edward Wright, who was paid $30,600, and another, Charles S. Wharton, now in the federal prison, sentenced for complicity in mail robbery.

These are some of the items in the distrust of the present city government. Its purpose has been the misuse of city money which has been sluiced out of the public treasury to all levels of politics. Taxes will never be sufficient for such practices. If the credit of the city is to be restored there must be permanent guaranties and they will be reliable when the character of the government has been changed.

MR. HOOVER STILL AT THE CROSSROADS.

Senator Borah has directed three pronouncements against President Hoover. Two were delivered Tuesday and the other several weeks ago. In the two a day delivery Mr. Borah protested the appointment of Mr. Hughes to be chief justice of the Supreme court and declared the administration naval reduction program hopeless. In the other declaration he said that prohibition enforcement was hopeless with the present personnel. In the case of Mr. Hughes, Borah and Senator Norris, the radical Republican, if Republican, of Nebraska indicate that they agree. Theirs, apparently, are the voices of radicalism in the party.

As to the navy, Mr. Borah is speaking the sentiments of pacifists, Kellogg pact addicts, many political clerics and internationalists who want to scrap battleships. With regard to prohibition he voices the opinion of many fanatical prohibitionists who say that the administration is not giving the law a chance.

It must seem clear from this, Senator Borah being authoritative in his association with the people who have these various ideas, that President Hoover is not acceptable to them. Although he has endeavored to please them, he has failed to do so. The points complained of relate to large matters of administration. The President is accused of naming an objectionable ultra conservative for the head of the Supreme bench. He is accused of failing to get battleship reduction. He is accused of maintaining an unworthy prohibition organization. These are the opinions of elements in his party to which he has conspicuously and sympathetically devoted himself. Within less than a year the verdict is being pronounced against him.

These associations were not regarded, when Mr. Hoover was a candidate, as being natural to him. The picture of the candidate was that of a man of eminent ability in administration, the candidate of the sound and moderate majority in his party. He was accepted as a realist. He was the engineer and executor, not the ideologue and doctrinaire. It was not thought that extremes of political thought would attract him or that excesses in pacifism, internationalism, sumptuary coercions, or economic doctrine would interest him.

The prospect as perceived by the average man in the Republican party when Mr. Hoover was elected was for an administration of American achievement, with an imaginative but practical eye to the future, and a forceful advancement of national interests. It was with a great deal of astonishment that the President's direction to the doctrinal extremes was observed. He had not prepared people to find him seeking to retain the support of radicals, anti-nationalists, economic eccentrics, illiterates, and fanatics.

In taking this direction it is clear that he is not succeeding. The pointed attacks upon his program reveal that. The radicals are ready to abandon his administration. The moderate elements in his party, although they have not received much encouragement from him, are not that quick on the trigger, being moderate, and are not unkind or impetuous in reaching unfriendly judgments. Their support is still available. The radicals are saying that no matter what he does he will not do. There is still time to break the connection and reëstablish the old one, and some of Mr. Hoover's supporters hope that he will recognize that in time.

AN AMERICAN ORGANIZATION.

Dr. Valerie H. Parker, described as "a prominent social worker in New York," has charged the Daughters of the American Revolution with opposing our glorious march toward world peace by supporting measures of national defense. To which charge the president general of the society, Mrs. Hobart, replies that the Daughters "stand for no principle or policy not based upon the very words of Washington and his revolutionary compatriots." "In other words," says Mrs. Hobart, "the body is opposed to pacifism, socialism, and any form of internationalism which would sacrifice just national rights or interests, threaten the national safety, or subvert the federal constitution."

The Daughters of the American Revolution represent a high level of American citizenship and, we think, speak for a good many more American women—and men—than the pacifist and internationalist organizations which are always to the fore at Washington resisting measures of national defense and urging experiments in international altruism. The political influence at Washington of these organizations sometimes seems to be in inverse proportion to their membership or actual representativeness, and it is well that we have at least one outstanding organization of American women who will speak for the unorganized woman citizenship which cherishes the American heritage of American independence and regards American interests as deserving of consideration in American policy and of defense by American government.

PEDESTRIANISM IN CLEVELAND.

[Detroit News.]

The long contest between pedestrians and vehicular traffic for right of way and safety finally has culminated in Cleveland in pedestrians taking to burrows. To provide safety at certain specially congested crossings the subway is in use in most large cities, and London and other European cities have provided quite elaborate underground approaches to railway stations and other public buildings.

The Cleveland project, however, is somewhat more ambitious and its promoters plan to extend it largely. It consists of an underground thoroughfare eight feet wide, a virtual substreet, enabling the public to go in peace and quiet from one to another of several downtown office buildings, a distance of more than a quarter of a mile. Eventually, the engineers who planned this system say, subterranean passages will connect every building in the new Cleveland Union Terminal district and will have the usual intersections of ground level streets.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

YESSIR, BETCHA IT'S THE WHISKERS!

Now, what is the reason Charley Hughes is always bumping into hard luck? He ran for President and it looked like he was going to be elected; in fact, for a couple of hours on election night he was elected. The Democrats gave up, as usual, and went home licked. They're so used to going home licked that they usually give up about two weeks before the election comes off, but that time they held on pretty near up to the time the polls were open and then they shook their heads sadly and said, "As usual! The damn Republicans win!" And it wasn't until the next morning that people woke up and found that Wilson was elected and Charley Hughes was beaten. Nobody has figured it out yet. The Republicans insist that by all the rules of the game Charley should have won. Then why didn't he? Well, it must have been his whiskers. What else could it have been?

Now Charley's been given the chief justice's job on the Supreme bench. Just three and one-half seconds after Chief Justice Taft resigned Mr. Hoover called up Charley Hughes and says, "You're it." Some people think it was three and a half seconds before Mr. Taft resigned. Or three and a half hours or three and a half days. (Senator Cole Blease, please write.) Anyhow, Charley Hughes got the job and that was that. Charley got down the old gown he used to wear when he was on the Supreme bench, shook out the moth balls, packed it in his suitcase, and went to Washington. Everything settled. And then, BANG! Up jump Bill Borah, and George Norris, and a lot more of the boys in the senate and holler bloody murder. They say that Charley Hughes would be chief justice only over their dead bodies. And yet everybody thought it was all settled. How come? We can't see anything else in it but those whiskers. And, still we can't feel sorry for Charley, because while a man may be a victim of circumstances about a lot of things, whiskers are his own fault.

CONFESSION.

Of course, you've quite forgotten that I'm B. D. F., who had a cat—
A literary feline, fraught
With doubtful ancestry. You ought To know the truth about the beast.
He's brass and came from 'way down east—
From Rena Rosenthal's, no less.
And that is wholly that, I guess.

P. S. My wire-haired pup requests
That I discard my feline jests
Or else he'll tip your Sealyham
My verses aren't worth a damn.
There's nothing left for me to do
But swear that cats and I are through.

TOMORROW is the anniversary of the St. Valentine's day massacre. It'll be easy tomorrow to find out whether a man's a bootlegger or a hijacker. Just say to the man you're suspicious of, "Oh, hello! Come with me into this pretty garage." If he turns around and runs like a scared wolf, then you know. For they remember what happened a year ago.

FRANK JAY GOULD has issued orders that guys dressed in tuxedos cannot enter his new five million dollar gambling place at Nice. No, sir, they've got to have on their long tailed, full dress suits. That's going to be hard on the bootleggers because tuxedos are about the only duds they've got.

Nothing Personal, Alfonso. It Just Reminds Us.

"Spain's King Told to Get Out or Hang."—The Trib. Oh, listen, Alfonso, take your crown off and quit shooting grouse for a minute and we'll tell you a funny story. A man saw a brilliant light on the third flood of a building and heard music and some one said they were having a dance up there. So the man went up and the doorkeeper said, "Ya got a ticket?" "No," said the man, "but this looks like a good party, so I'm coming in anyhow." Then the doorkeeper socked the man in the jaw and threw him down the stairs. The man got up and went back. "Ya got a ticket?" asked the doorkeeper. "No," said the man, "but this looks like a good party—" The doorkeeper socked him in the jaw again and threw him downstairs some more. But the man got up and brushed off his clothes and went back up the stairs. "Ya got a ticket?" asked the doorkeeper. "No," said the man, "but this looks like—" So the doorkeeper picked him up and threw him through the window, and when the man came to he was sitting in the middle of the street with the window frame around his neck. He looked up at the brightly lighted dance hall on the third floor and listened to the music, and then he spit out three teeth and felt to see if both legs were broken, or only one, and said, "You can't fool me; they don't want me up there!" Isn't that a funny story, king? Think it over.

LAGNIAPPE.

AN INVENTOR thrills the experts and first pages all over the place by declaring he has a device that will take the humming out of radio. The hum doesn't bother us, but what we wish that the inventor would take out of radio is "A Little Kiss Each Morning, A Little Kiss Each Night." If there's some dingus he can put in our loud speaker that will neutralize that doggoned thing, we won't worry about the hum.

THE Second Congressional district of Massachusetts, that has always gone Republican since the Pilgrim Fathers landed on Plymouth Rock and is the home town of Cal Coolidge, turned upside down Tuesday and elected a Democrat (and soaking wet at that) by a hilarious majority. Mr. Hoover may have caught another sailfish down around Florida yesterday, but we bet that when he heard the news from Massachusetts his day was darned near spoiled. What was it that so upset Belshazzar? Something about handwriting, wasn't it? And up on the wall or somewhere.

CUBA has just put in a new law that boosts divorce grounds from 4 to 16. So, even if Cuba is losing a lot of money on sugar, they ought to get it all back on the big crowds that come down to get divorces. Havana will have Reno and Paris (not to mention Chicago) pushed off the boards, for you can watch the jailai matches, visit Morro Castle by moonlight, and sip Daiquiri cocktails at Dos Hermanos while you wait. Oh, mañana! Qué hermoso!

WHAT ABOUT PIMPLES?

E. S. WANTS to know what to do for pimples. I wish I could tell her some way to get rid of her pimples overnight and never have another one so long as she lives. I am forced to confess that I know no such magic. The fact is that pimples come so near to being normal that they are not easily disposed of. They are nothing but accumulations of nearly normal grease in nearly normal grease glands, which later become infected with a coccus that is almost always on the skin and almost harmless there.

The skin is full of grease glands—or it should be. They are everywhere except in the palms of the hands and soles of the feet. Nominally the grease is an oil which flows readily from the gland into the skin or into the hair. As the changes which life brings unfold themselves this grease loses some of its oiliness and becomes more solid.

This tendency first shows itself about puberty time. The first part of the body on which the tendency is noted is the fleshy part of the nose. In fact, one of the earlier signs of oncoming puberty is this tendency of the nose to take on a certain heftiness. The parts of the body in which the grease tends to accumulate in the grease glands are the face, cheeks, and scalp. A few blackheads develop in the skin of the neck. There is a slight tendency in that direction in the skin of the body, particularly the shoulders. The skin of the arms and legs rarely participates.

A blackhead is merely a mass of grease, the outer part of which has been filled with dirt. Men who shave rarely have blackheads in the beard areas. The daily lathering, washing, and scraping removes the dirty heads of blackheads.

A whitehead is nothing more than an accumulation of grease in a grease gland, the opening of which has been covered by skin. No dirt can reach a whitehead to blacken it. Whiteheads are found in skin that is pressed on by glasses and around the eyelids, where there is also a tendency for skin to stop up the grease glands. A blackhead becomes a pimple when the ordinary skin pus cocci get into the grease and start a little boil formation.

From childhood to old age there is a progressive tendency of the sebaceous gland grease toward solidity and dryness. Old people do not have many blackheads, but those they have are apt to be large and the grease in them is apt to be quite dry and solid. Theirs has been called the greaseless age. Not much grease is poured on to the skin by the grease glands, partly because not much is secreted and that which is secreted does not flow readily.

BLOOD IS NOT TO BLAME.

N. F. O. writes: Please advise what causes a terrible irritation of the skin which causes one to scratch almost continuously. I do not have any breaking out, at all, but my skin itches so at times it is almost unbearable. I presume it is caused from some blood trouble or something like that.

REPLY.

Your blood has nothing to do with it. You probably have winter itch caused by living too much in hot, dry air. Get out and stay out, and get well.

Or, it may be bath itch. If so, bathe less, or use little or no soap, and follow with a shower bath.

PITY BARBER AND DENTIST.

F. F. E. writes: Pity the poor barber and dentist. The writer used to be a barber and now is a toothpuller. To overcome bad odors from the customers' breath I use a miniature fan. It works equally well for a barber as for a toothpuller. It beats chewing tobacco a thousand times, is much more healthful, and may even prevent the loss of a customer who does not appreciate a tobacco breath from the operator.

PRACTICALLY NO DANGER.

A constant reader writes: A child has chicken pox. The mother of the child goes to school to get some home work for the sick child, and also to tell the teacher the cause of the child's absence. The teacher, knowing the nature of the child's ailment, gives the mother a number of textbooks (the property of the board of education) to take home so that the child can study. These books will, of course, come back to the school. Is the next child who handles these books liable to take the sickness from the books? A says no, while B says yes.

REPLY:

There is practically no danger.
A is almost right, but perhaps not one hundred per cent so.

SON'S SHARE IN ESTATE.

Cicero, Ill., Feb. 9.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A man dies leaving no will. He is survived by a wife and one son. All finances under joint account of husband and wife. Widow marries again and invests the money with that of her second husband in a home. 1. What share belongs to the son from his father's estate? 2. Can he demand immediate payment of this share? W. A. S.

1. None, if you are right in your statement that all assets were held jointly and if you are using this word in its technical sense. If you mean merely that both names appeared but that as to some assets there was no provision for survivorship, then the son would be entitled to a part of the father's share. 2. If you are entitled to a share, probate proceedings would be necessary to force the matter and this would involve some delay.

LIABILITY ON LEASE AFTER HUSBAND'S DEATH.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. My husband passed away recently, and I now wish to vacate my apartment. In my lease, terminating May 1st, there is a clause stating that the heirs are responsible for the unexpired term. 2. Can I be held responsible for rent when my husband's salary has ceased and I have no property yielding an income? H. L.

1. If this clause is in the usual wording it merely means that the lease is binding upon the assets in the hands of the heirs. If the deceased leaves no estate, the heirs would not be personally liable unless the deceased had authority to act as their agent and did so act. 2. If you have no assets or income, obviously they cannot collect.

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 13, 1865.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Richmond papers of yesterday confirm the capture of Branchville by Gen. Sherman's forces and the evacuation of Charleston. One dispatch from Branchville concerning Sherman's operations says: "The enemy have made their appearance along the South Carolina railroad beyond the Edisto river. Our troops were withdrawn to this side of the river and the bridge burned. The destruction of this bridge severs all communication with Augusta." A Charleston dispatch gives a report from Gen. Wheeler of an attack by three brigades of Sherman's cavalry near Blackville, 28 miles from Branchville, which was repulsed.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Senator Hicks, who is lying very low at the National hotel with paralysis, was visited by President Lincoln. His physicians have given up all hope for his recovery.

NEW YORK.—Henry S. Foote, rebel congressman, sailed for Liverpool on the steamship City of Cork He has been stopping several days at the St. Nicholas hotel, and steadily refused to take the oath of allegiance.

CAIRO.—Army officers who arrived here bring this information: Gen. Hood with his rebel command is marching into South Carolina, Gen. Forrest remaining at Tupelo with 2,500 men. Gen. Dick Taylor has not yet taken command of Hood's force, which is estimated at 25,000.

CHICAGO.—Maj. Gen. Samuel R. Curtis of Iowa and his son, Maj. S. S. Curtis, arrived in the city and are entertained at the residence of A. Buckingham, 316 Michigan avenue. They leave on Monday for Milwaukee, which will be headquarters of Gen. Curtis' department.

NEW YORK.—Commodore Vanderbilt is to have a gold medal from congress for being a good boy and giving his steamer to the country.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 13, 1900.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—It is said the Hanna-Payne shipping subsidy bill is in a bad way. From present indications Chairman Grosvenor will find it a difficult task to get the bill out of his committee with a favorable report.

CHICAGO.—At the Marquette club's Lincoln day banquet ex-Congressman George E. Adams was enthusiastically put forth as a candidate for Vice President at the Republican national convention.

LONDON.—Gen. Methuen, who has been considered unfit to command since the battle of Belmont, and to whose madness the serious reverse at Magersfontein is charged, has been superseded as commander of the central column of the British army in the Transvaal by Lord Roberts. Gen. Methuen is said to have protested to the war office. Gen. Roberts has 35,000 or 40,000 men at Modder river and is expected to advance immediately in an effort to flank the Boers and compel Gen. Cronje to raise the siege of Kimberley.

CHICAGO.—Dr. Edward L. Holmes, former president of Rush Medical college, died at the home of his son-in-law, Dr. E. A. Gray, 158 Evanston avenue, from pneumonia which followed a cold contracted a week ago while firemen were extinguishing a blaze in Dr. Gray's house. He was 72 years old. He was one of the earliest promoters of the Chicago Medical society, and regarded as a leader of specialists in eye and ear diseases. He was connected with so many charitable dispensaries, medical societies and physicians' clubs that practically every doctor in Chicago knew him.

CHICAGO.—Miss Marcia Patrick, daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Patrick, 6159 Lexington avenue, and John Devereaux York were married at the residence of the bride's mother.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 13, 1920.

LONDON.—The allied council of ambassadors, after discussing the situation arising from Germany's violent protest over the demands for the extradition of the German leaders held responsible for the war, agreed to insist upon those demands. It had been reported there were differences between France and Great Britain as to whether the demands should be modified.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Wilson tomorrow will meet a committee of three from the railroad employés' organizations and give them his answer to their billion dollar wage increase demands. The President is expected to announce his support of Director General Hines' position in refusing the demands, but to urge the committee to wait patiently until general conditions can be adjusted after the railroads are returned to private ownership. He is also expected to pledge more vigorous attack on the high cost of living.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—John Barton Payne of Chicago will be President Wilson's new secretary of the interior, succeeding Franklin K. Lane, who retires on March 1. His appointment will be sent to the senate tomorrow.

CHICAGO.—Several affairs have been arranged for Maurice Maeterlinck, who will arrive this morning for a day here on his way to California. They include a visit to the University of Chicago, a reception at Hyde Park High school, a luncheon at the Cliff Dwellers and a reception at the Alliance Française.

CHICAGO.—William A. Pritchard, 45, of Detroit, vice president of Critchfield & Co., advertising agents, 223 Jackson boulevard, died supposedly of heart disease en route to Chicago from Detroit.

THE NEW ENFORCEMENT.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—At last the government is on the right track. At last it admits its inability or unwillingness to make prohibition prohibit. At last it takes the job from blundering bureaucracy and drops it into the lap of corporate enterprise. Passing the buck to private business is the way to secure honest and efficient suppression of the demon rum.

They have indicted the Fleischmann and Corn Products companies, whose products may be and quite likely are used for making verboten liquids. But this is only a beginning. Let them go on and indict General Motors, some of whose cars and trucks are used by rum runners. Indict Standard Oil, at one of whose stations a rum runner bought fuel and oil to haul his contraband cargo. Indict Frigidaire for furnishing the machines wherewith the unspeakable speakeasy beer is cooled. Indict Sam Insull for compounding the felony by supplying the juice that runs the Frigidaire. In cities where a corporation operates the waterworks, indict it for providing the water whereby the beer is brewed and the bourbon cut.

As for transferring the prohibition business from treasury to justice, let the tumult and the shouting cease. Let private business take up the white man's burden. Let every board of directors meet in special session and appoint a vice president in charge of Volstead enforcement. Let the 18th amendment take its place beside the Clayton and Sherman acts to make work for corporation lawyers. Let enforcement of the unenforceable be the price of business existence. W. B. JONES.

ADVICE FROM TULLAHOMA.

Tullahoma, Tenn., Feb. 10.—I have written to Mayor Thompson suggesting a plan that might pull your city out of its difficulty.

Have authorized an issue of $50,000 interest bearing warrants, or certificates, of $100 each, callable in ten day periods. Raise the money for payment by 5 cents addition to street car fares and other transportation, theater, park and amusement tickets.

Of course people would growl, but in the name of loyalty, sportsmanship, etc., appeal to the people fairly and squarely, city needs their help, all to take part in helping her out. Some might claim it bears down on the poorer classes, yet, in proportion, do not the poorer people get the greater benefit from city schools, etc.?

The farm depression was serious for me and I am trying to raise $10,000 to save my farm, so would like to have included a fee of that amount for the feasibility of the suggestion.

DOAK ADDELOTT.

BENEDICT ARNOLD.

Chicago, Feb. 9.—The editorial in THE TRIBUNE of today has been read with great interest by me, as Benedict Arnold is associated with two events connected with my family and early home. I have just been reviewing the battle of Saratoga in preparing a paper for the lending bureau of the National society, D. A. R., and rereading the histories of that event. Benedict Arnold, the hero at Saratoga [I was born and reared in Saratoga Springs], was the traitor and dastard in the sacking of New London, Conn. [the home of my mother's ancestors], a place where he was known and had many friends, as he was born in Norwich. I am reminded by your editorial of a story told about him. When an Irishman was asked what would be done with Arnold if he were caught the man replied, "Bedad! we'll cut off the leg that was wounded at Saratoga and bury it with military honors, and hang the rest of the rascal." Your editorial was most just in its summary of the career of Arnold, a man who might have been a real hero, who died in disgrace, for it was said that he was despised as a turncoat in London, where he passed his later years.

CAROLINE ALDEN HULING.

AMERICAN DIPLOMATIC FAILURES.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—At last the real purpose of Prime Minister MacDonald's visit with President Hoover has been divulged. Herbert promised the United States navy and Ramsay promised personal good will to Herbert, and then you have it! Why all this condemnation of Mr. Stimson? Is he not the most piece of the President? Please recall telephone conversation a few days ago between the President and secretary following day the latter gave in on of the biggest issues. He presumably received his orders on the phone.

This nation is now the wealthiest in the world, but prior to recent years Europe considered us a "nobody." Then we have so suddenly become popular in leagues, courts and conferences. By reason of our wealth, resources and geographical position we should be the most independent country in the world and when attending a conference should at least be at the dictating end of the table and not at the "yes-yes" end of it. It is about time the American people resented the subtle "remote-control" policies of England toward America. An English financier recently called on us on another famous good will tour and he returned home with a slap. Wall street and a promise from the disagreeable men at Washington to raise our rediscount rate—which they did even with a sacrifice of enormous stock market profits to the American people, but it seems England must be pleased. Why?

Nobody knows! Let us hope the President loses his pro-English complex soon and sends some Boy Scouts to the next conference!

HELEN JOYCE MORAN.

VITAL AMERICAN INTERESTS.

Grenada, Miss., Feb. 10.—Please allow me to indorse your articles and editorials on the naval conference where President Hoover and Secretary Stimson are sacrificing vital American interests. Admiral Hilary P. Jones is the only member of the delegation who can be relied on to fully protect our interests and I hope and believe that he will resign rather than consent to any agreement that he considers unfair to our country.

JOHN BOMAR.

BUT WILL THEY FOLLOW?

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 11.—THE TRIBUNE apparently enjoys flaying every proposal made by the American delegation to England toward limitation of armaments. The paper appears to lose sight of the goal sought, and becomes lost in a maze of quibbling over the alleged ability of killing men and sinking ships with bullets 14 inches or 16 inches in diameter. Personally I have little preference for either.

The objective sought by the world is peace and cessation of competitive preparation for war. But the suspicions and fears of olden diplomacy yet linger in the minds of nations. These are obsolete appendages of the human mind, shorn of their value, waiting for evolution or an operation to remove them. Some one must sweep these cobwebs of ancient trickery away. America has taken a broom and began to sweep by conceding a few ships in the interest of disarmament and the world. Where we lead others will follow, perhaps not today but tomorrow.

If America has grown so weak that allowing another nation to possess a few ships more than we will lead is to doom, then America is surely in a precarious condition, an empty shell to be crushed by a touch. The logic of these critics is to declare a dog's tooth extracted cannot bite. Who will let the dog try it?

P. T. LUTTO.

JUSTICE AND LOVE.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—The smile on the Savior's face must have been a beautiful sight to behold when he heard that is some justice and love left in the world steeped in bigotry and hate. As a Carpenter was lenient to a little woman who likes beer.

WM. G. WEBSTER AGAIN RUNNING FOR CONGRESS

"Perennial Candidate" Sees Victory This Time.

William Grant Webster, who has run for many offices in the last 24 years has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for congressman at large in Illinois. Mr. Webster has never been elected to office, but he is confident of victory this time.

W. G. WEBSTER. [Palmer Studio.]

The offices for which Mr. Webster has run include those of President, Vice President, United States senator, congressman, and state treasurer. He has been a candidate in New York, Ohio, Minnesota, Iowa, Indiana, South Dakota, North Dakota, Nebraska, and Oregon in addition to Illinois. He is now living at the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity house at 5725 Woodlawn avenue.

Reticent on His Platform.

Interviewed concerning his present platform, Mr. Webster said he was withholding a statement of his principles until later in the campaign. He exhibited irritation when questioned about his age and the many times he has run for office.

"Put me down as 80 years old if you like," he said. "I can still work 16 hours a day and I'm as vigorous and quick thinking as any man on the tickets. As for the many times I've been a candidate, is it any crime to be often defeated? I'll be a worthy representative of the people if I'm elected."

Mr. Webster was born in Kingston, Ill., the son of a clergyman. He received his early schooling in Evanston and later was graduated at Harvard. He was admitted to the bar in 1893 and entered the law firm of Isham, Lincoln and Beale in Chicago.

His political career began in 1906.

"In that year," he said, "I was a candidate for United States senator and to the great surprise of the entire state, I polled 12,000 votes. Shelby M. Cullom was nominated. In 1908, I ran again and received 14,000 votes."

High Point in Career.

Mr. Webster again was a losing candidate for the same office in 1910. In 1912, he ran both for senator and for congressman at large, polling 24,500 votes for the former office and 48,000 votes for the latter. In 1914 came the high point of his career as a vote-getter because he polled more votes in Chicago than any of the other 12 candidates for congressman at large, although the downstate vote defeated him.

In 1916, Mr. Webster entered the presidential race, running for the Republican nomination in three states, and he was a candidate for the vice presidential nomination in Iowa and Oregon. He won in the Oregon primary and the delegates were instructed for him although he had never been in Oregon and was not known there.

In the same year, he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Illinois state treasurer and also for congressman of the 7th district.

In 1918, he ran for congressman at large, congressman from the 7th district, and congressman from New Jersey. He contended that the fact that he was a resident of New Jersey should not bar him. In 1920, he won the votes of five states for the nomination for Vice President. In 1924 he again sought the nomination for President, filing from New York.

PRELATE MAY PLACE RED WAR ON CHURCH BEFORE PARLIAMENT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The archbishops of Canterbury and York, church of England prelates, and Cardinal Bourne of the Roman Catholic church, made spirited protests today against Russian anti-religious persecution. The church of England leaders spoke at the convocations of their provinces, and Cardinal Bourne at the dedication of a church at Hatfield in Hertfordshire.

"I am taking steps to have a careful inquiry made into the present facts about religious persecution in Russia," said the archbishop of Canterbury. "Unless there is evidence of real improvement, I may feel bound to deal with the matter in parliament."

The indication of the possibility of bringing this matter up in parliament, suggests that the archbishop may raise the question in the house of lords as he is a member of that body by virtue of his office.

The archbishop of York spoke of the religious persecution in Russia as "incompatible with the elementary principles of civilization," which Cardinal Bourne warned Catholics that they "must not think they are interfering with national affairs of another nation" by doing what they could to remedy matters since "those at the foot of things in Russia are determined to do the same in every country in the world."

Young Robbers Escape Under Fire of Police

Two youths, one of whom posed as a deaf-mute, were being sought last night after they escaped under fire from a squad of policemen who were chasing them for the robbery of a National Tea company store at 7044 South Western avenue. The pair robbed Miss Jeanne Albim, the manager, of $30, and were driving away in a stolen car when Miss Albim shouted to a passing "flivver" squad. The bandits abandoned the car at 69th street and Western avenue.

E. I. WILLIAMS IN CONGRESS CONTEST AS WET

Is 14th to Seek G. O. P. State-Wide Post.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Another Republican candidate for congressman at large on a wet platform came forward yesterday. Edward I. Williams, 612 North Ogden avenue, announced that he had mailed his petition to Springfield for filing and that his chief plank will be modification of the federal prohibition statutes.

Williams is a former sanitary trustee, having been elected twice to the board, once to a vacancy in 1905 and again in 1906 to a full term. In 1912 he was one of the Republicans who lost out because of the Bull Moose movement. He has been affiliated with the Deneen organization, but it is not expected that faction will indorse any one for the position he seeks.

Expect Fourteen in Race.

His announcement, following on the heels of that of Frank L. Smith, makes the probable total of Republican entries for congressman at large fourteen, one of the longest lists on record for this office.

With the public refusing to believe any longer that luck plays a part in determining what candidates get the first places on the primary ballots, there was some surprise expressed yesterday when Patrick Sheridan Smith, city clerk, reported that James A. Kearns, chief clerk of the Municipal court, will head the list of Republican candidates for that place on April 8.

Clerk Smith is a Thompsonite. Clerk Kearns is a Deneenite. It had been expected that first place would go to Carl U. Johanson, 6701 North Campbell avenue, who is considered the Snow or city hall entry. But Kearns was first, Johanson was second, and William F. Biesterfeld, politically unidentified, landed in third place.

Kelly Heads Bailiff Ballot.

The filings for the office of bailiff came out more in conformity with the rules of the game. Bernard J. Kelly, now secretary of the bailiff's office under County Chairman Snow, was awarded first place. Then came two political unknowns, Henry J. Hanson and C. Carl Koehler, and in fourth or last place for the day, State Senator Theodore R. Steinert, the Deneen choice.

The regular Democratic selections, State Representative Joseph L. Gill for clerk and Ald. Albert J. Horan for bailiff, were the only ones who filed for their party ballot.

Supreme Court Hears Plea to Give Preston New Trial

An argument that the state did not conclusively prove the "corpus delicti" in the murder of Miss Agnes Johnston, Chicago girl, slain near West Chicago last autumn, was made yesterday before the Illinois Supreme court at Springfield, by Eugene L. McGarry, counsel for John E. Preston, Chicago. Preston is under a death sentence. Attorney McGarry in asking a new trial also pointed to alleged discrepancies in the court's instruction to the jury. The trial was held before Judge William J. Fulton at Wheaton.

OWNER OF HAVEN FOR DOGS GETS THREAT LETTER

A detail of policemen was guarding the North Side dog shelter at 6500 North Clark street last night after Miss Dorothy Eagles, the owner, had received an unsigned letter threatening her with "something worse than Irene Castle got" unless she got rid of her dogs. Miss Eagles has about 50 dogs in the kennels.

Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin of Lake Forest left yesterday for Palm Beach with her husband, Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, after announcing that her dog refuge, "Orphans of the Storm," which was destroyed by fire early Tuesday, would be rebuilt at a cost of $10,000. At her home it was announced that Mrs. McLaughlin had been ordered by her physician to take a rest of three or four weeks as a result of the nervous strain caused by the fire. Lake county officials continued their investigation but found no clew to the incendiaries who set fire to the kennel.

RUSSIAN PLOT TO WRECK LATVIA REPUBLIC BARED

Parliament Row Stirs Up Bolshevik Deputies.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Feb. 12.—The communist deputies in the Latvian parliament, who sneaked through in the last election on the radical Socialist ticket, attempted to start a rough house today when Minister of the Interior Lalmin defended action of the police who searched a brief case, said to contain detailed instructions from the Latvian section of the communist internationale ordering local Reds to fight more energetically for the overthrow of the government.

These same instructions are reported to have ordered communists here to demand that the government legalize the existence of the communist party and not oppose its revolutionary activities.

Demands Court Action.

The documents were signed by Comissar Stuchka, called the "hangman of Riga," because during his reign here in 1919 he ordered 4,000 executions. Stutchka, it is said, approved of the rough house tactics of the communist deputies in parliament, and pledged greater financial support for the communist party at the next elections.

Minister Lalmin informed parliament that these documents have been delivered to the state prosecutor and that court action against the Reds will follow.

The Latvian Reds, observers say, have been receiving money and instructions from Moscow through the local soviet legation for years. Police have caught officials from bolshevik bodies in the act of giving the communications to the Reds. The Latvian government is so accustomed to soviet interference in internal affairs that she has given up protesting to Moscow.

Many Latvian statesmen formerly held high positions under the old Russian government, and are thus able to deal effectively with the bolshevik menace. At present more communists are interned in Latvia jails than are at liberty in the nation.

WARSAW, Poland, Feb. 12. — A noted French detective, Pierre Durois, here in connection with the disappearance of Gen. Alexander Koutlepoff, leader of white Russians in Paris, believes that the Russian, Peter Lamboff, who was murdered here two months ago under mysterious circumstances, is none other than Gen. Koutlepoff's chauffeur. This crime led Durois to Warsaw, where it is rumored that Koutlepoff may have met his fate.

Songs of '61 Put Elmer in Happy Mood

Calls Lincoln Day Program a Grand One.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

It was a grand Lincoln day. The program of civil war period music, from New York, through W-G-N, 7:30 to 8, must have made a great appeal. The songs, marches and patriotic compositions of that period are singable and lovable, and they will live on. Edna Kellog, soprano, and a descendant of Robert E. Lee, was the soloist, and a pleasing one.

One miscellaneous Wednesday evening program, an hour long, is interesting because it is broadcast through three Chicago stations in a sort of split up fashion. WLS carries it from 7:30 to 8, WBBM chimes in with it from 8 to 8:30, and WIBO stays with it for the entire program.

The Century of Progress band, Max Bendix conducting, presented an attractive concert from WLS, 8:30 to 9. Mr. Bendix sticks to the business of giving us good music, and good music is usually entertaining. The musical world can be assured of the music that will be forthcoming during the World's Fair with Max Bendix as its musical director.

Floyd Gibbons' talk from New York through W-G-N, 9:30 to 10, was a narrative of a trip to the front line trenches during the world war, and it was a humdinger.

There was, as always, laughter in the comedy dialogue on the WENR 9 to 10 orchestral program.

PERSHING BALKED AT RISKING GREEN MEN, 'TIGER' SAYS

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Feb. 12.—The first résumé of the widely discussed posthumously published book by Georges Clemenceau, "The Grandeur and Misery of Victory," discloses that the most absorbing of all thirteen chapters is the one which relates the story of Gen. Pershing's blunt refusal, early in 1918, in the face of the utmost pressure from France's great wartime premier, to throw his large forces of untrained American doughboys into the trenches, to forestall a repetition of the disaster on the British front.

Premier Clemenceau went to the commander in chief of the American expeditionary forces and urged him in the most importunate terms to send his fresh, enthusiastic troops to replace the decimated, discouraged French poilus, then hard pressed at all points by the German offensive.

Despite his plea, the late premier relates, Gen. Pershing steadfastly refused to send "green recruits" into the thick of the most complicated modern warfare.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

Indiana's fire department brand of basketball never had a better demonstration than at Patten gym last night, when the Hoosiers galloped up and down the hardwood and finished the length of four baskets in front of Northwestern. The score was 39 to 31 which seems a fairly wide margin in cold figures, but the Wildcats gave the leaping Hoosiers a stern chase.

The Crimson and Cream of Indiana was flashing up and down the floor from the start of the game to the last few minutes.

From the first whistle it was gallop, gallop, gallop, with three Indiana men sprinting down the floor every time they got hold of the ball. And often enough they got away in front of the Northwestern men so they could pass to short shots.

Veller Lends a Hand.

Leading that attack was Capt. Russell McCracken, who looped eight baskets through the hoop on sixteen shots, eight short ones and eight long ones, and added a couple of free throws. That was only part of his game, however, for the big fellow controlled the tipoff throughout the game, batting it practically wherever he wished.

Little Claron Veller, floor guard, was almost equally potent, however, as his dribbling and bullet passes gave McCracken several of his short baskets.

A queer contrast of the game was in the fouls called, for outside of the four on Riel in the first 12 minutes, not another was called on Northwestern until the last minute of the game. Meanwhile, the Hoosiers had piled up a total of 16 fouls. The game wasn't rough, but the rule violations were called closely.

McCracken Gets Jump.

Northwestern wasn't lacking in drive, they were merely playing a basketball team which was a little better all around than they were. In fact, the Purple showed more stuff than they have in many earlier encounters. Capt. Rut Walter in particular displayed occasional flashes of the drive he packed in his sophomore year. He played most of the game for the first time this season. McCracken outjumped him at center, but the Indiana captain also outleaped Bergherm, who replaced Walter in the second half.

The first half was a tight contest, though Northwestern received a severe blow when Bert Riel, brilliant floor guard, went out on four personal fouls. Northwestern scored first to lead 3 to 1 and 5 to 2, and after Indiana had taken a momentary lead of a point, the Purple moved on to lead 9 to 6. Big McCracken, who had scored two of Indiana's three baskets, hit a long one, another from under the basket in quick succession, and Indiana moved out in front to stay there until the end of the game.

Indiana was leading by two points when Riel was sent to the bench, and the Hoosiers immediately stepped on to a 19 to 13 lead. Lockhart's free throw and long shot cut the Purple's deficit to three points by the end of the half.

Hoosiers Step Out.

Strickland and Walter, Veller and McCarnes alternated with baskets at the start of the second half, and then McCracken and Miller sank a couple of short ones to give the Crimson a seven point lead. They held that to the finish. McCarnes hit with a midcourt shot, but Veller duplicated it, and the Purple were held to four foul shots in the next few minutes, while McCracken sank two from underneath the basket.

Mundy's sleeper left the Purple in arrears, 33 to 28, and with five minutes to go Indiana began to stall. It grew out the Purple, and in quick succession Zeller and McCracken scored fellow shots. That spelled the end; for though Veller and Zeller went out in the next minutes on four fouls each and the Purple added three free throws, they couldn't break up the Hoosiers' fast passing and dribbling drill.

BRUINS DEFEAT BROOKLYN IN OVERTIME, 28-23

Kennedy's Long Goal Ties Score Before Gun.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—A brilliant rally by the Chicago Bruins enabled them to gain a 28 to 23 extra period victory over the Brooklyn Visitation Triangles tonight. Ray Kennedy's shot which traveled almost three-quarters of the court gave Chicago a 22 all tie ten seconds before the end of the second half.

Kennedy then continued his excellent performance by passing to Nat Hickey, who caged a backhand shot while going at full speed to give Chicago a 24 to 23 lead in the extra session. Red Conaty's foul throw gave Brooklyn its only point of the extra session.

Kennedy Sinks Free Throws.

Kennedy clinched the game for Chicago when he drew two foul shots and made good with both efforts. The Bruins completed their scoring on a play out of a jump ball. Hickey opposed Cooney on the jump near the Brooklyn basket. Nat went up high for the ball, tapped to Voss, and then headed for his own basket where Voss met him with a pass almost the length of the court. It was an easy shot for Hickey, and with only a minute of play remaining Chicago was assured of victory. Lineup:

Taylor Trunks Defeat London Team, 23-22

The Taylor Trunks won the first of a two game series from the London, Ont., girls' basketball team last night at the Broadway armory, 23 to 22. The Canadian girls are eastern Ontario champions, and in their Chicago series total points will determine the better team.

Marie Curtin's seven field goals saved the Trunks from defeat, although it was Violet Krubaeck who counted the winning basket in the last minute.

The Goldes defeated the East Chicago, Ind., Davis Sports, 36 to 26, in a preliminary game. Trunks' lineup:

De La Salle Runs Over Spalding Institute, 38-28

De La Salle of the Catholic league defeated Spalding institute of Peoria, 38 to 28, on the former's floor last night. Ed Krause made five baskets and eight free throws for De La Salle.

North Carolina Falls Before Loyola, 26-25

Chapel Hill, N. C., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Loyola university basketball team of Chicago, tonight defeated North Carolina, 26 to 25. With 25 seconds to go, Charlie Murphy scored a short shot for the winning basket. Loyola led at the half, 15 to 7.

Murphy's passing opened the way for the Ramblers' victory. He also made four baskets. Dick Butzen, flashy sophomore guard, led the scoring with nine points.

Loyola apparently had the game tucked away, 22 to 15, when the floor work of Johnny Green, a Rockford, Ill., boy, and the shooting of Marpet and Brown brought the score to 25 to 24. Then Murphy broke loose to score the deciding basket.

Leader—De Baets.

Gerard De Baets and Tony Beckman took the lead in the six day bicycle race in the Stadium shortly before midnight last night. The night was marked by three hours of jamming. Seventy-three laps were gained, bringing the total for the week to 199.

The jamming came to an end when Charley Winter crashed to the saucer, falling from exhaustion. It was the only spill of the night.

Two Tied for Second.

Freddie Spencer and Winter are tied for second place, one lap behind the leaders, along with the reconstructed Italian-French team of Paul Brocardo and Alfonso Zuchetti. Jimmy Walthour and Franz Deulberg are two laps back, while Reggie McNamara and Gaetano Belloni, along with Harris Horder and Harry Horan, are three laps behind.

At 9 o'clock there was a four cornered tie among the teams of De Baets and Beckman, Belloni and McNamara, Brocardo and Zuchetti and Spencer and Winter. The first team to crack was the veteran combination of McNamara and Belloni, which soon fell to the rear.

Deulberg Wilts Under Pace.

The hard riding also told on Walthour and Deulberg, for at ten o'clock they were tied for first place with De Baets and Beckman, and going strong, but at midnight they had dropped back two laps behind the leaders. Walthour is riding exceptionally well, but Deulberg does not seem to be holding up.

The grind is more than half over and there appear to be at least six teams with a chance to win.

Carl Hubbell's Friends Learn He's a Married Man

Oklahoma City, Okla., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Carl Hubbell, New York Giant pitcher, who hails from Meeker, Colo., slipped a fast one over on his friends, it was learned today. Hubbell and Miss Lucile Herrington of Shawnee were married at McAlester Jan. 26. The baseball hurler and his bride formerly attended the Meeker High school together.

North Sectional Trials at Fronton Start Tonight

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

North sectional trials of THE TRIBUNE'S Golden Gloves tournament will start tonight at the Fronton, Clark street and Lawrence avenue, with bouts in all classes. Second round contests will be decided tomorrow night, when four boxers in each class will qualify for the finals at the Coliseum Feb. 25, 26, 27, and 28.

The first bout will go on at 7 o'clock. All contestants must report for their examinations and be weighed before 6 o'clock. Drawings will be made at 6:30 o'clock. Officials will be on hand at 5 o'clock to weigh the fighters so they may have dinner before reporting back for the physical examinations.

Indications are the fighting at the Fronton will be as interesting as that at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium, where the 32 fighters who will represent the central district were determined.

Trials on the west side indicate Chicago will be represented by a stronger team for the intercity series with New York at the Chicago Stadium March 19. The scarcity of knockouts indicates the boys are more experienced than last winter. It also shows they have been training for the tournament.

One of the features of the Ashland boulevard trials was the comeback of Nick Fosco, a member of last year's team who lost his bout in the New York series. Fosco was not at his best in New York and is bent on redeeming himself.

Quail Coveys Find Haven in Florida Wilds

BY BOB BECKER.

Punta Gorda, Fla., Feb. 12.—There doesn't seem to be much danger of the quail in this territory being shot out. This is one of the encouraging impressions of Florida bird life after a day in the palmettos or on the prairies.

In the north we have to worry about intensive cultivation of farm lands depriving quail of cover and food, but down here there are miles and miles of uncultivated pine country, swales, meadows, and cabbage palm hammocks which give the little bobwhite a wonderful break.

There are sections not far from here where dozens of coveys live undisturbed from one year's end to the other, as far as visits from hunters are concerned. Of course, there are hawks, skunks, and other enemies of birds which levy a heavy toll. But so vast is this Florida quail country and some of it so inaccessible that more than one covey does not have to worry about No 8 shot.

After getting acquainted with the quail in southern Georgia it is something of a surprise to flush your first Florida covey of quail and find as you squint down the barrel of your double gun that your target is smaller than you figured. This certainly gives one a dandy alibi on his first hunt.

No doubt about it, the quail in this country are smaller and blacker than those in Georgia, and you'll see an even greater difference between our northern bobwhite and the birds here. Moreover, those southern Florida quail give you more trouble because they prefer to run like rabbits rather than flush.

The other day we twice saw birds running ahead of the dogs before we stopped the car in which we were riding across the prairie. And they kept right on running, too. They are small, run "like everything," and sometimes refuse to "stay put" to a dog's point, all of which makes these southern quail more difficult to shoot.

La Grange Junior College Whips Wheaton, 18 to 16

La Grange junior college defeated Wheaton college, 18 to 16, on the La Grange floor last night. Wheaton led at the half, 6 to 4. Boose of La Grange, substituting for Stoley at right guard, sank three shots in the final minutes.

32 MAKE TEAM FOR CITY FINAL AT COLISEUM

Tournament Shifts to North Side.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Thirty-two fighting boys—the pick of the amateurs on the great west side—battled their way into THE TRIBUNE'S Golden Gloves tournament at the Ashland Boulevard auditorium last night. They advanced to the title struggles in the finals of the west-central sectional meet.

Boys whose eyes were black, who carried bruises and scars of their preliminary struggles, but who refused to quit when the leather popped against a sore spot, fought on until they had conquered their foes.

A crowd of 1,500 cheered every battle. There may be greater fights before the Golden Gloves are won or lost, but west side boxing and amateur athletic fans will have to see them before they believe it.

Benny Goldblatt Wins.

A field of 246 ranging from flyweights to heavyweights began the combat for west section honors on Tuesday night. It was a cosmopolitan group of fighting boys. Irishmen, Mexicans, Negroes, Chinamen, Greeks, Italians, Jews, Poles, Russians, and Yankees were in the struggle. And only the gamest survived. The west siders can be satisfied they will get a run for their money when the Golden Gloves are at stake.

From out of the meet came victories for two old time favorites. Benny Goldblatt, the Central A. A. U. 126 pound champion, was forced to put everything he had into the battle, but he won his way to the 126 pound Golden Gloves competition. Nick Fosco, a member of the Chicago team which invaded New York last year, battered his way back to the Golden Gloves carnival when he whipped a husky, hard hitting colored boy who answered to the name of John Phegan.

Also among the qualifiers was Dick Mastro, brother of Earl Mastro, the noted featherweight. Dick fights like his brother and it looks like Earl has been teaching him some pointers. Then there was Charley Zak, a 160 pounder, who knocked Mike O'Brien, a tough Cicero Irishman, out in a round. Carl Sand, the unattached boy, who was never heard of until this tournament opened, scored a brilliant victory over Frank Szarfinski in three rounds.

How This Boy Can Go.

And that Greek boy, Jimmy Curtis. He's so short he looks like one of Singer's Midgets when he steps out for action. On opening night he knocked out a lad who was seven inches taller and had him floundering in the resin in the second round. When he qualified last night his foe was Roger Lodwick, another tall boy and a lad who could hit.

And what did Jimmy do? He knocked Mr. Lodwick cold in the second round. Jimmy weighs 111 pounds. From the way the west side audience cheered him he is a coming champion.

I'm sure those noisy west side rooters would want something said about Mathew Gurzyns of Pulaski park. Mathew isn't a member of the west side team going into the Golden Gloves struggle. But he put up such a game fight against Harry Weiner from the Boys Brotherhood of the Republic, he got the biggest ovation of the night. One of Mathew's eyes was closed in a preliminary battle. But he went after Weiner from the opening bell and stuck it out for three rounds.

BLESSEFIELD IS AN EASY WINNER AT HIALEAH PARK

Leads Griffin Under Wire by 1½ Lengths.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 12.—With the energetic little Willie Garner in the saddle, the Royal stable's five year old Blessefield romped home to an impressive victory today in the Lincoln handicap over the Hialeah park track.

Going to the post the 7 to 10 favorite, the speedy son of Noblesse Oblige, never lost control of the race during the mile and sixteenth journey. After delaying the start for a few minutes with a bit of bad acting, Blessefield broke from the barrier running. Garner sent him into a lead of a length over Griffin at the far turn. Soon the advantage over the field of three other prominent routers was two lengths.

Garner, however, was forced to go to the whip in the final stages as his mount tired. The game gelding responded and finished a length and a half in front of Griffin, an outsider in the betting. Nearby from George D. Widener's stable was third, beaten by five lengths with Ormonbird fourth and last.

Missing Contract Mystery Cleared by Cub Official

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The mystery of the one signed contract missing from the Cub files was solved yesterday. Secretary Bob Lewis had the key to the solution, but had forgotten to tell about it. The lad who was thought, because of his silence, to be dissatisfied with the terms submitted was Dan Taylor, the clouting outfielder recalled from the Reading farm. Dan is all set and ready to start. The story runs this way:

Taylor was sent a contract in mid-January, and he promptly wrote back to Secretary Lewis that the salary was O. K. and that he would bring his signed paper with him when he arrived here. Subsequently President Veeck returned to his office to find that everybody with the exception of Taylor had been accounted for. Lewis said nothing about the letter. Belief on Veeck's part that Taylor eventually would register a kick persisted until yesterday, when Lewis suddenly revealed the secret.

So many have deserted the party by going on ahead that only eight Cub players will be in the first squad leaving here Tuesday noon for the Catalina island training camp. The eight will be Pitchers Carlson, Grampp, Lautenbacher, McAfee, and Shealy; Catchers Hartnett and Taylor, and Outfielder Heathcote. Manager McCarthy and Coach Schalk also will be present. Coach Burke, Catcher Schulte, and Pitcher Nelson will be picked up at Kansas City. The other members of the battery squad, nine in all, will join up at Catalina.

When the advance party of White Sox leaves here Saturday there may not be more than eight or ten athletes in the lot. Most of them are going straight to San Antonio from their homes.

The squad will be made up of seventeen pitchers and three catchers. The seventeenth hurler was added yesterday when Harold McKain wrote in that he would like to bring along his brother, Harwood. The brother is a left handed hurler, and Harold rates him more than an every day prospect.

Charles Comiskey, the Sox owner, returned yesterday from a Florida vacation, but gave out no information on signed contracts, this being a matter the Sox chief regards as club business. However, holdouts or no holdouts, all the boys come in sooner or later, so there is no cause for excitement. Even the Great Shires won't be among the missing for long, if at all. Under baseball law, a contract must be submitted to a player on or before Feb. 15, and if Art doesn't sign it voluntarily he probably will be summoned for a conference after the Sox officials reach San Antonio.

The dozen American league umpires spent six hours with President E. S. Barnard yesterday in the first of a two day session on rules interpretations. They will argue some more today and then go back to their winter abodes. Barnard is not going to reveal anything that happened in the meeting. No radical interpretations are under consideration.

MICHIGAN CITY FANS STORM AS COP HALTS BOUT

Indiana Town Picks Its Golden Gloves Team.

Michigan City, Ind., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—A near stampede occurred tonight at the finals of the Michigan City Dispatch-CHICAGO TRIBUNE Golden Glove finals when Anthony Piotrowski, a motorcycle policeman, stepped into the ring and stopped a bout between Willard Schudorick, 19, a bicycle maker, and Stanley Nespo, 21, who works at the Pullman company here.

It was the last bout on the card to pick a team for the Golden Gloves tournament in Chicago Feb. 25, 26, 27, and 28 at the Coliseum. At the time the officer interfered Nespo was holding on as Schudorick, who eventually won on a technical knockout, was punching him energetically. The action of the policeman, prompted because he believed Nespo would be unduly injured, did not meet the approval of the 1,500 fans. Many climbed into the ring, and it was several minutes before order was restored.

Maj. George Oliver Redpath presented medals to the winners. Summaries:

FLYWEIGHT—Stanley Movinski, 16, won on a technical knockout over John Tomasso, 18, in the second round.
BANTAMWEIGHT—Tommy Bennis, 18, won by default.
FEATHERWEIGHT — Leo Bennis, 20, knocked out Emmett Turner, 16, in first round.
LIGHTWEIGHT—Frank Bennis, 21, knocked out John Manske, 22, in first round.
WELTERWEIGHT—Wesley Heusser, 21, won by default.
MIDDLEWEIGHT—Willard Schudorick, 19, was given a technical knockout over Stanley Nespo, 22.
LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT—Homer Matthews, 20, a truck driver, was unopposed.
HEAVYWEIGHT—No entry.

VINCENNES CHAMPIONS

Vincennes, Ind., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Eight hard-hitting champions were crowned tonight in the Vincennes Sun-CHICAGO TRIBUNE Golden Gloves tournament.

Three local boys were among the victors: Gus Fields, bantamweight; Thomas Gordon, featherweight; and James Davidson, heavyweight. Both Terre Haute and Evansville will be represented by two champions and Oaktown by one.

The eight leather pushers who will encounter the winners of other sectionals in the Chicago finals are:

112 POUNDS—Bud Carnahan, Evansville, Ind.
118 POUNDS—Gus Fields, Vincennes, Ind.
126 POUNDS—Thomas Gordon, Vincennes, Ind.
135 POUNDS—Harold Howard, Evansville, Ind.

West Siders Cheer Golden Glove Bouts

always beaten but always trying to sneak over a knockout punch.

The great fight of the west section tournament came in the 160 pound class and it was next to the last on the program. It brought Johnny Baima of the Lawndale gym and Jimmy Toman, of the Opal Athletic club together. Each scored three knockdowns and each took a nine count. They were delivering real wallops and landing them where they did the most damage. But both were on their feet at the end of three rounds and they were still on their feet at the end of the fourth round. Baima got the decision.

SECOND ROUND.

112 POUND CLASS.

Sammy Levine [Majestic Radio] defeated Tom Vittacco [Kid Howard's gym], 4.
Dick Maestro [West Side K. of C.] defeated Stanley Prundota [Barry's gym], 3.
Jimmy Curtis [Greek Olympic A. C.] defeated Roger C. Lodwick [unattached], technical knockout, two rounds.

126 POUND CLASS.

Joseph Roman defeated James Dunnington [4].
Benny Goldblatt defeated Sammy Genaro [3].
Pat Rooney defeated Leo Banieri [3].

135 POUND CLASS.

William K. Clark stopped Eddie Bulat [3].
Earl Watson defeated Peter Verri [3].
Carl Sand [unattached] defeated Frank Szarfinski [Lawndale gym] [3].
Harry Weiner [Boys Brotherhoods Republic] defeated Mathew Gurzyns [Pulaski Park] [3].

147 POUND CLASS.

James Nelson defeated Harvey Dunnington by default.
Nick Fosco [Dave Barry's gym] defeated John Phegan [Lawndale gym] [3].

160 POUND CLASS.

Lawrence Dibona [unattached] defeated Roland Johnston [unattached] [3].

Neenah's Best Cub Fan Dies at Age of 66

Neenah, Wis., Feb. 12.—[Special.]—Pat Lynch could name every player in both major leagues and most of the minor leagues, but he was first, last, and always a Cub fan. Ever since the "Tinker to Evers to Chance" days Pat had been pulling for his team, but when Philadelphia scored eleven runs in one immortal inning last fall Pat kicked over his radio, went out and paid his bets and wasn't seen in his customary haunts for weeks.

Pat died last night at the age of 66.

Morgan Park M. A. Beats Pullman Tech, 37 to 22

Morgan Park Military academy heavyweight basketball team defeated Pullman Tech, 37 to 22, on the former's floor yesterday. Rosenberg and Thrasher divided scoring honors for the Cadets. La Grange lights triumphed over Morgan Park Ponies, 11 to 7, in the curtain raiser. Hoyte and Lundeen featured for the victors, each collecting 7 points.

Hayes to Be White's Foe in Comeback

Charley White's foe when he attempts a comeback at Jack Dempsey's Coliseum show on the night of Feb. 21 will be Frankie Hayes of Philadelphia. Hayes and White signed the papers yesterday and the articles call for a 10 round struggle.

Hayes, like White, is a left hook artist and has quite a string of knockouts on his record. One of Hayes' most recent victories was scored over Billy Wallace, who hit the canvas three times after coming in contact with Johnny's left.

White worked out at Kid Howard's gymnasium yesterday, and old time fans say he has all his old time speed, but they haven't had a chance to discover how much of the punch he has left.

Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion of the world, will begin training at Howard's gymnasium today for his battle with Jimmy McLarnin at the Chicago stadium on Feb. 24. Sammy is going to put in some extra training licks for this fight as he wants to demonstrate McLarnin's victory over him at the Stadium several weeks ago was a fluke.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

PACIFIC COAST FOOTBALL.

JUDGE WALTER P. STEFFEN, remote control coach of Carnegie Tech, as he has been termed, has an ex parte theory which differs somewhat from others why eastern teams fare so poorly in post-season football contests out there against Pacific coast elevens.

Of course, climate is at the bottom of it. Judge Steffen does not attach so much importance to the handicap of the long trip, or even its excitements and sightseeing, which are new to most of the players. He attributes it to lassitude on the part of the invaders, especially after they have played and been taken out for rest, to be sent back later.

"When we played Southern California," he remarked in a fanning session, "we were going well at the start and I took out my star back after the first period because I felt we would need him in the third or fourth period. You know, a football player taken out always is crazy to get back into the game. All players want to play.

"Well, when it came time to send him back he was indifferent to going, quite the opposite of all other occasions. All other players taken out acted the same way. I realized I had made a mistake.

"My theory is that playing in this warmer climate takes much more out of them physically than here. As a result they become less keen. In support of this, southern elevens playing on the coast have had more consistent results than those from the east and middle west.

"Now, don't regard this as an excuse. Pacific coast football is of the highest grade. It has coaching, than which there is no better, of big strong fellows chosen from student bodies as large as the largest middle western universities. You see," explained Steffen with a smile, "I'm only theorizing why we were beaten so badly in the second half."

BOWMAN BREAKS WORLD MARK IN 45 YARD SPRINT

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Two world's records were hung up tonight in the annual indoor track and field meet of the Meadowbrook club at the Arena. Chet Bowman of the Newark A. C. established an indoor mark of 5 seconds flat in the 45 yard invitation sprint and Stella Walsh of Cleveland lowered the old record in the 220 yard sprint for girls to 26 4-5 seconds.

Jack Elder of Notre Dame forced Bowman to the limit every inch of the distance and the finish was so close that the judges were unable to decide on the winner for several minutes. The former Syracuse flash and the Hoosier meteor ran neck and neck down the last twenty yards.

The fleet footed Cleveland girl ran away from the field to beat the record in the 220 yard sprint. She shot out ahead and sped to an easy victory over Dallas Creamer of Canada, Miss Olive Kruger, Tennessee, and Mary Gilliland, Milrose, who finished second, third, and fourth, respectively.

The Canadian team, led by Myrtle Cook of Olympic fame outsprinted the colors of the United States to win the 440 yard international relay race for girls. Loretta McNeil [captain], anchor for the United States, made a brilliant spurt for victory in the last 25 yards, but could not overtake the fast stepping Peggy Mathieson.

Minnesota Swimmers Win from Maroon Squad, 59-16

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 12.—(AP)—The University of Minnesota swimming team vanquished University of Chicago paddlers, 59 to 16, in a dual meet here today. The Gophers experienced little difficulty, winning from the first race all through the several events.

GEM BLADES . . a change for the best

Officer . . . "Looks like your razor skidded today."

Motorist . . . "It's nothing to joke about. The way my blades run, I'm thinking of growing whiskers."

Officer . . . "You'd better change to the Gem, mister, and watch your shaving troubles speed away."

When you get a bad shave, it's the blade's fault. When you get two bad shaves, it's your fault for giving a bad blade a second chance.

Change to the Gem. There's not a bad blade in a thousand—but there are scores of great shaves in every package. And remember the economy of genuine Gem Blades:—you get more shaves per blade.

Why do dogs love tweeds?

It cannot be that dogs have any liking for tweeds as fabrics. It must be that they like the type of men who wear tweeds—that with their more-than-human wisdom they sense that such men love horses, rods, guns—and dogs.

There is a warm, friendly feeling to the touch in rough tweeds. They seem to belong on men who live and play outdoors as if something of the clean air of the moors, the smell of wet bracken, where grouse hide, or the faint odor of peat smoke in some inexplicable way had become interwoven in the cloth itself.

We have spent years tailoring tweeds, with an affection that is literally better than reason in dealing with them. They are hard to manage by any tailor who has not made them his major life work.

And if you happen to be hard to fit with a standard-sized suit or coat, our custom department will welcome the task of fitting you perfectly.

NATIONAL BANK RESOURCES ARE OVER 28 BILLIONS

Deposits Show Increase of 871 Millions.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—(AP)—National banks in the United States had aggregate resources of $28,882,483,000 on last Dec. 31, Controller of the Currency Pole announced today in making public the figures compiled from the last national bank call.

The recources on that date were compiled from 7,403 national banks and exceeded by $958,173,000 the amount reported by the banks on Oct. 4, but it was $1,706,673,000 less than the resources of the banks on Dec. 31, 1928.

Decrease for Year.

Loans and discounts, including rediscounts on last Dec. 31, amounted to $15,150,045,000, an increase of $188,169,000 since Oct. 4, but a decrease of $129,585,000 in the year.

Total deposits on Dec. 31 aggregated $22,773,493,000, which was an increase of $871,496,000 since Oct. 4, but a decrease of $1,573,887,000 in the year.

Included in the total deposits were demand deposits of $11,192,750,000 and time deposits of $8,434,442,000. The time deposits included postal savings of $96,767,000, time certificates of deposit of $1,308,242,000 and savings banks deposits of $6,024,199,000, which were represented by 15,660,840 accounts.

Total of Investments.

Investments in United States securities of $2,612,087,000 showed decreases in the three and twelve month periods of $32,787,000 and $396,636,000, respectively.

Paid in capital stock of the banks was $1,704,473,000, exceeding by $33,199,000 the paid in capital on Oct. 4, and was $87,297,000 greater than on Dec. 31, 1928. Surplus funds of $1,548,376,000 and net undivided profits, excluding reserve accounts, of $497,043,000, a total of $2,045,419,000 showed a reduction of $25,695,000 since October, 1929, but an increase of $63,592,000 in the year.

The circulating notes outstanding which aggregated $346,420,000 were $5,316,000 more than in October, but $3,985,000 less than a year ago.

Classes Part of Foshay Utility Assets as 'Doubtful'

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 12.—(AP)—The Public Utilities Consolidated corporation, a Foshey holding company in receivership since last November, has assets of $29,604,186 of which $7,645,321 are "of very doubtful value," according to a report filed in federal district court today by Joseph Chapman, receiver. Liabilities total approximately $29,815,423, leaving a deficit of $211,237, the report shows. The doubtful assets are listed as due from affiliated companies.

The Duke Power company announces it has placed in commission a new 150,000 horse power steam generating station at River Bend, N. C., and that it has contracted for one-half the output of the new hydro-electric power station at Mountain Island, N. C., capable of developing 90,800 horse power. The new station, one of the largest steam plants in the south, has a 50 per cent greater capacity than any of the generating plants heretofore owned or operated by the Duke Power company, and gives the company a total capacity in excess of 1,103,000 horse power.

N. Y. Life to Pay $3,500,000 on German Pre-War Claims

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Feb. 12.—German pre-war holders of policies in the New York Life Insurance company today were awarded a 15 per cent revalorization, based on the old German gold mark, of their claims against the American company by a senate of the German official insurance department. The total amount of their claims is estimated at 100 million marks, on which the American company will now pay about $3,500,000, under terms of the settlement.

German attorneys conducting the case against the New York Life announced today further litigation calculated to net a total of 25 to 40 per cent of the German claims would be initiated in New York. Today's award is viewed as a partial victory in that the 15 per cent verdict is considerably higher than the amount first proposed by the New York Life.

NO IMMEDIATE ADVANCE IN OIL PRICES: FARISH

Tulsa, Okla., Feb. 12.—(AP)—There is no immediate prospect for an increase in Midcontinent crude oil prices to the level prevailing before the recent reductions by the subsidiaries of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, W. S. Farish, president of the Humble Oil and Refining company, says in a statement to the Oil and Gas Journal.

In discussing the general situation, Mr. Farish declared that with California gasoline available at Atlantic coast markets at eight cents per gallon and under, a lowering of crude prices in territories affected by this competition was necessitated to protect refiners purchasing a large part of their crude requirements.

Until substantial cuts have been made in refinery holdings and production of both crude oil and gasoline to levels approximating consumption, the outlook for the crude oil market is most uncertain, he said.

United States Lines Plans Two Fastest Ships Afloat

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Paul W. Chapman, president of the United States Lines, Incorporated, informed the shipping board today that his concern planned to build two ships that on completion probably would be the fastest afloat. Under the provisions of a contract made in 1929 after buying vessels from the board, the United States Lines agreed to build two large passenger ships. Chapman said the vessels would be in excess of 50,000 tons and would have a sustained speed of 28½ knots. He said this would enable them to break the record for a trans-Atlantic passenger crossing held by the German ship, Bremen.

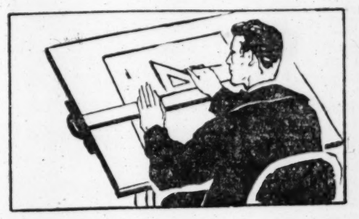
Office rent SAVED-$4,215.50

by scientific space arrangement



Note methods which make savings for large firms and small

AWAY is now open for executives to effect a saving which offsets the higher cost they might expect to pay for better offices.

Ordinary buildings, even those of recent construction, have space 28 to 30 feet from windows. In the new building described here every foot of space is within 24 feet of a window. There are no unusable corners or dark spaces like those in some offices, amounting to as high as 25% of the total space rented.

One firm availing themselves of this planning service saved $4,215.50 on a five-year lease. That represented a 26% saving on their former rent.

A Building Impressive of Quality

In the New American Bankers Insurance Building you locate your office in a new business district with ample parking space, daylight offices, and freedom from street car and elevated traffic noises. In addition the rental rate per foot is much lower than the average for buildings of this high character.

You owe it to your business to investigate these advantages. Ready for occupancy immediately. Send for floor plans, photographs and descriptive literature.

FINDS TRUSTS AID GROWTH OF U.S. INDUSTRY

Investment Firms' Future Cited.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Investment trusts will play an important part in future great developments in American industry. They will knit together combinations in basic lines, affording economies in management and operation, and they will in turn profit by the resultant larger earnings. Such developments are suggested by W. R. Burwell, president of Continental Shares, Inc., the big investment trust sponsored by the Cyrus S. Eaton interests of Cleveland, O.

"During 1929, general industry rose to new peaks of activity, followed by a decline which became pronounced in some lines in the closing months of the year," Mr. Burwell says in his annual report. "Symptoms of a prolonged or serious depression do not exist, however. In fact, improvement from recent low points already is in evidence and we view the outlook for the coming year as generally favorable.

Cites Chief Purpose.

"It seems probable that the ensuing decade will witness further great industrial expansion and revolutionary developments in industrial arts. By virtue of its partnership interests in controlling basic industries, Continental Shares will participate in and, it hopes, contribute to the industrial growth which the future holds in store.

"While the corporation places some of its funds in stock purely for investment, its chief purpose is to acquire substantial holdings, either alone or in cooperation with other important interests, in prominent companies in such basic industries as steel, rubber and public utilities. These larger investments are held with a view of promoting the interests of the companies concerned through cooperation in their financial and industrial activities."

The company is a large holder of stocks of the recently formed Republic Steel corporation, the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company and the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company.

In spite of the drastic decline in stock market prices last year the company's securities and syndicate participations had an indicated market value of $129,750,138 on Dec. 31, 1929, compared with a cost value of $121,-[illegible]. Net earnings for 1929 were $[illegible],937, equivalent to $1.13 a share on 1,144,924 common shares outstanding.

Reason for Increase.

Financing of installment purchases of automobiles and other commodities has not been adversely affected by the recent stock market collapse, according to A. E. Duncan, chairman of the Commercial Credit company, who issued his annual report yesterday.

"But little more than seasonal increase during the winter in past due paper and repossessions was or is expected to result from the 1929 stock market upheaval," he says. "Most of the increase in these items is due to the Canadian situation, the slowing up of business in industrial and automobile manufacturing centers, which began in the summer of 1929, and to the fact that outstanding paper were more seasoned at the end of 1929 than at the end of 1928, since the peak volume was acquired earlier in 1929 and in 1928."

Net Is $6,000,000.

The company purchased $442,807,262 of receivables last year, compared with $265,883,745 in 1928. Net income for 1929 was $6,254,142, equivalent to $4.33 a share on 1,037,052 common shares outstanding at the end of the year. Net income for 1928 was $4,132,391, or $3.58 a share on 774,231 common shares.

The Acme Steel company reported net income of $2,553,214 for 1929, which was equivalent to $9.30 a share on 274,437 shares of capital stock, compared with net income of $2,183,497, or $11.93 a share on 182,958 shares in 1928. The company paid a 50 per cent stock dividend last year.

Advocates Woodlots to Occupy Marginal Land

BY SCRUTATOR.

The farm problem began curing itself about ten years ago. The problem, in its simplest terms, is to get more income per person for all the people living on farms.

To this everything else is subsidiary, even in the relief plan. The return per man is more important than the return per bushel. The return per acre is, in fact, more important also than the trading value of each unit produced.

We know that in 1920 there were thirty-one million farm residents in the United States. The best estimates place the number at the beginning of 1929 at twenty-seven and a half millions. Three and a half millions were forced from farms by economic pressure. It might be well to stop and consider here and now what sort of a farm problem we would have if we adopted a policy ten years ago of keeping prices up to a level that would persuade, or allow, the three and a half millions to add their part to agricultural production.

Production Warnings.

It is now recognized that the farmers left can produce, ordinarily, all that is needed, and more. Warnings have been issued to cut acreage of certain crops in 1930, and by the federal farm board itself. Time will tell whether the advice will be heeded. One correspondent has written that they will increase rather than decrease production—that the people warned will plant more, on the theory that the other fellow will do the reducing, and the bettered price will favor most the man who plants the most. Another well informed gentleman writes that low prevailing prices and the urgings will combine to cut cotton acreage by 10 to 15 per cent.

There is now a large amount of marginal land in cultivation. It is always doubtful if this can pay its way in annual crops. The secretary of agriculture has urged reforestation and the farm board has suggested that farmers bring back the old woodlot. As it is necessary to find some use for the marginal land, it would be well to consider the extent to which forestry is practicable and why we do not have more of it, particularly in the eastern part of the country.

Some lands now being cropped undoubtedly should be in timber. An official document within the last year stated that there are twenty million acres in Minnesota, Michigan, and Wisconsin alone that are better adapted to forests than to anything else. Hundreds of farmers have been broken financially and in spirit by attempting to make a living on these cut over lands. Some millions of acres are owned by the states or counties on tax foreclosures.

Cites Tax Obstacle.

Two things, it may be stated, have prevented reforestation on a large commercial scale. One is taxes, which are levied over a long period while timber is merely growing and producing no income. The second is the fear of lumbermen that there will be no market for their product at the end of fifty years, or at least no profitable market.

Some states have adopted a system of exempting growing timber from yearly taxes, taking a percentage at the time of cutting to make up the revenues. The movement has not gone nearly far enough. The difficulty is one that can be removed with a minimum effort. With the principal stands of virgin timber on the Pacific coast and the principal lumber markets east of the Mississippi, lumber sales have slumped because of high transportation costs and cheaper substitutes.

If freedom from onerous taxation were guaranteed the lumbermen might be brought to see the advantages of replanting in the vicinity where their sales are made.

SAYS PACKERS NEVER "FULLY COMPLIED" WITH CONSENT DECREE

Washington, D. C. Feb. 12.—(AP)—The senate agriculture committee was informed today by Attorney General Mitchell, that the packers had "never fully complied" with a consent decree under which they were to confine themselves principally to meat packing.

The Mitchell letter was in response to a senate resolution asking the present status of the decree, which the packers have asked to be modified on the ground that conditions have changed since entry of the decree Feb. 27, 1920. It was placed in the record by Chairman McNary of the agriculture committee.

"The provisions of the decree, especially with reference to packer ownership of stockyard stock and handling of unrelated commodities, have never been fully complied with," Mr. Mitchell said.

He added that since the decree was made operative again on July 24, 1929, after a suspension of several years, the packers found large holdings of stockyard stock and "so called unrelated commodities" on hand that had accumulated during the suspension.

MUTUAL LIFE SETS NEW MARK FOR VOLUME

The Mutual Life Insurance company of New York yesterday reported progress for last year. During 1929 it established its highest yearly record in volume of new business written, and on Dec. 31 the total of insurance upon its books was $4,298,774,546.

On Dec. 31 the company's assets were $930,934,923.61, and its liabilities, excluding contingency reserve, were $928,085,330.85. The gain in assets was $63,617,644.09. The contingency reserve (surplus) on Dec. 31, 1929, was $62,849,592.76.

S. W. Straus Sales Drop Less Than Eight Per Cent

Sales of S. W. Strauss & Co. in 1929 were less than eight per cent below 1928 sales, Nicholas Roberts, president, says in his annual report. No income is shown from the holdings of the firm in the S. W. Straus Investing company, which was formed in 1929 and earned $318,145. The consolidated balance sheet of the company and subsidiary firms as of Dec. 31 shows total assets of $62,661,857. Capital, surplus, and reserves are carried at $28,252,258.

COLUMBIA GAS REPORTS RISE IN NET INCOME

New York, Feb. 12.—(AP)—The Columbia Gas and Electric corporation, in its preliminary earnings statement made public today, reports 1929 net income of $32,161,139, an increase of $3,005,555 over 1928.

Last year's common stock earnings were $3.11 a share on 8,477,244 common shares, against $6.97 on the 3,373,692 shares outstanding at the end of 1928.

Gross earnings for 1929 totaled $115,150,313, a high record and an increase of $7,954,655 over 1928. Net income for the last quarter of the year was $10,101,054, a 12 per cent gain over the corresponding 1928 period.

Grants B. & O. Right to Buy Control of Buffalo Road

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Permission to purchase control of the 600 mile line of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh railway was given the Baltimore and Ohio system today by the interstate commerce commission.

The Allegheny corporation, present majority owner of the Buffalo line, will turn over to the Baltimore and Ohio 84 per cent of the outstanding stock of the Buffalo line for $14,263,216.

As conditions to its approval, the commission ordered the Baltimore and Ohio after the purchase to keep open all traffic routes now established by the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, to agree to purchase at arbitrated prices control of any connecting short line which may be allocated to it, and to offer to minority holders in the Buffalo company the same price for their shares which the Allegheny corporation will receive.

Establishes New Routes.

By the transaction, the commission said, the Baltimore and Ohio will be able to establish a new direct route over its own rails from Baltimore to Buffalo. In addition, by using the eighty miles of Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh line between Butler and Dubois, Penn., the Baltimore and Ohio with its own rails will be able to establish a new short line between Chicago and New York, passing north of Pittsburgh and reducing danger of congestion in the Pittsburgh area.

Objections to the Baltimore and Ohio purchase of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh made by the Delaware and Hudson, the Wabash, and the Pittsburgh and West Virginia railroads were set aside in the decision.

The merger of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh with the Baltimore and Ohio system was projected by the commission in the recent national plan for general railroad consolidation which it promulgated. Notwithstanding, its control was sought by the objecting railroads named.

Wabash Seeks Permit.

Permission to pledge 177,900 shares of Lehigh Valley railroad stock as collateral against loan obligations was sought from the interstate commerce commission today by the Wabash railroad. The Wabash company, which has an excess of $17,000,000 invested in Lehigh Valley stock, expressly disclaimed any intent to sell the securities.

"This company having purchased the said common stock of the Lehigh Valley railroad for the purpose of protecting itself in the eastern trunk line situation," the Wabash application said, "proposed to hold such stock for such purpose and has no intention of selling."

WESTERN UNION OFFERING WILL BE MADE TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 12.—An offering of $35,000,000 principal amount Western Union Telegraph company thirty year 5 per cent gold bonds is being made tomorrow by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. at 100 and accrued interest, subject to allotment.

The purpose of this issue is to reimburse the treasury of the company for expenditures made on account of expenses, additions and improvements to its plant and equipment, outside of the state of New York, and to provide funds for further such expenditures.

This is the first financing of the Western Union Telegraph company in more than three years. An offering of $25,000,000 gold 5s was made on Dec. 1, 1926. The last previous offering consisted of $15,000,000 gold 6½s dated Aug. 1, 1921. The only other important issue now outstanding consists of $20,000,000 funding 4½s offered in May, 1900.

The company and its subsidiaries now have a total funded debt of $107,980,000, including the present issue. The company has outstanding $102,578,907 par value of stock, having a present market value of $210,000,000.

Report January Auto Sales in Illinois Are 12,555

Despite predictions of curtailed buying power, Illinois purchasers bought 12,555 new cars during the month of January, according to a statement released yesterday by the Illinois chamber of commerce. This figure is only 2,239 new car sales below the January, 1929, record sales. Cook county, with 5,262 new car sales, ranked first in the list by counties.

REPORT BRITISH MERCHANT SHIPPING IS FACING CRISIS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 12.—British merchant shipping is facing the worst crisis since the war. Thousands of tons are stated to be lying idle in ports of the United Kingdom, the owners finding it impossible to keep the ships in commission owing to the phenomenally low freight rates, the majority of which are below economic operation costs.

Members of the Baltic shipping exchange declare that ships are being sent home in ballast from the other side of the world to join the swelling ranks of idle vessels.

According to the latest official statistics the last quarter showed an increase of 86,662 tons of shipping laid up in ports of Great Britain and Ireland. The total at the beginning of the year was 352,659 tons, a figure which is declared to be swollen to date by a much higher figure. The saturation point has already been reached at the port of Cardiff, where no further ships can be accepted, owing to the fear of impeding remaining traffic.

Leading members of the Baltic exchange declare that the present situation may be attributed in a large measure to the continuance of the trans-Atlantic wheat war, as a result of which grain shipments to Europe are considerably curtailed.

NET INCOME OF N. Y. C. LINES IS AT HIGH LEVEL

Total Earnings Are Up $29,332,714.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 12.—New York Central lines had one of the most prosperous years on record during 1929, income accounts issued today showed.

A compilation of the figures of the New York Central Railroad company; Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway company; Michigan Central Railway company; Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad company; Indiana Harbor Belt Railroad company; Cincinnati Northern Railroad company; Rutland Railroad company, and Toronto, Hamilton & Buffalo Railway company showed total net income of $120,430,907 for 1929, an increase of $29,332,714 over the figures for 1928.

An Old Question — Ever New

NEW trends in financing, changing conditions in industry, the recent sharp readjustment in stock prices, are causing many investors to reconsider the old question of "bonds, stocks or both?"

There is just one sound answer to this question: each investor must be guided by his individual requirements, for both types of security have a definite place in investment.

Aid in laying out an investment plan fitted to your own needs is a valuable service given by this investment house. Such a service should be particularly helpful to you at this time.

You will be interested in reading our newly prepared pamphlet, "Helping the Investor to Manage His Funds Soundly and Profitably," which we will gladly send on request.

Big Increase In Earnings

NEGOTIATIONS are being conducted by Central Public Service Corporation for the acquisition of Portland Electric Power.

This would increase the annual gross of Central Public Service by about 40 million and make the Central Public Service Corporation, one of the leading public utility holding companies in the United States, with assets around 300 million.

We believe the Class "A" Stock of Central Public Service offers safety and unusual profit possibilities.

holdings, the New York Central Railroad company income account includes $22,015,800 received during the year as extra dividends paid on the stock of the Michigan Central Railroad company, Chicago River and Indiana Railroad company, and Indiana Harbor Belt Railroad company. Because of this payment some partial duplication in the figures may have been made in the total compilation.

New York Central Railroad company, including the Boston and Albany railroad and the Ohio Central lines, had total operating revenues of $296,917,258 in the twelve months ended Dec. 31, 1929, an increase of $15,184,014 over the $281,733,244 total operating revenues of 1928. Net revenue from railway operations was $94,303,012, an increase of $519,971, and surplus at the end of the year was $40,995,811, an increase of $25,692,056.

The item showing the largest increase was miscellaneous and non-operating income which was $59,139,763, an increase of $24,510,446. The $22,015,800 received as extra dividends during the year was the reason for this large increase.

Operating Revenues.

In the three months ended Dec. 31, 1929, New York Central Railroad company had railway operating revenues of $97,930,992, a decrease of $1,185,713 over the same period of 1928. Railway operating expenses were $77,859,387, an increase of $4,153,602. Net revenue from railway operations was $29,071,604, a decrease of $5,339,316. Net income for the last quarter was $15,218,991, an increase of $1,636,945.

The Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railway company had net income for the twelve months of $9,215,987, an increase of $596,164. Surplus was $4,899,767, an increase of $392,873.

Michigan Central Railroad company had net income of $19,335,114 for 1929, a decrease of $54,305. Surplus was $11,840,554, a decrease of $54,305.

Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad company had net income of $7,555,334, an increase of $583,444, and a surplus of $3,237,084, an increase of $383,404. The Indiana Harbor Belt Railroad company had net income of $3,086,699 an increase of $159,429. Surplus was $2,326,699, an increase of $159,429.

Other Roads' Income.

Cincinnati Northern Railroad company had net income of $838,215, an increase of $243,388. Surplus was $539,215, an increase of $243,388. Rutland Railroad company had net income of $681,928, an increase of $89,842. Surplus was $502,688.

Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway company had net income of $1,441,229, an increase of $171,946. Surplus was $1,062,179, an increase of $171,946.

CONTAINER ORDERS.

Container Corporation of America reports that orders booked during January, for which actual specifications were received, totaled more than 27,000 tons, which is slightly in excess of the January, 1929, tonnage.

Texas Gulf Sulphur.

Mrs. M. T.: Texas Gulf Sulphur company, incorporated in 1909, owns more than 2,950 acres of land at Gulf, Tex., which includes a sulphur deposit covering an area of 200 to 300 acres.

In the year ended Dec. 31, 1929, the company set a new record of earnings. Net income was $16,247,478, equal to $6.40 per share earned on 2,540,360 no par shares. After dividends amounting to $10,160,000, there was a surplus for the year of $6,087,478. Net income in 1928 was $14,517,619, or $5.72 per share on a like number of shares. Net income in 1927 was $12,099,374, against $9,383,814 in 1926 and $5,689,241 in 1925.

Profit and loss surplus, including depletion reserve, was $21,388,561 at the close of 1929, compared with $15,301,082 a year before.

The balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1929, showed net working capital of $16,320,606, which compares with $14,326,284 at the close of 1928.

Dividends are at the annual rate of $4 per share.

Although the company has made good progress in recent years and the trend in earnings has continued upward, it is possible that new competing sources of supply may affect its profits in the future.

Vick Chemical.

L. B.: Vick Chemical company manufactures and sells proprietary medicines. In May, 1929, Vick Financial corporation, a subsidiary, was formed to carry out the company's financial program.

For the six months ended Dec. 31, 1929, Vick Chemical company's net income was $1,665,073, equal to $2.08 per share earned on 800,000 no par common shares. Net income in the corresponding months of the preceding fiscal year was $1,738,605, or $2.17 per share on a like number of shares.

At the close of December, 1929, current assets were $4,317,301 and current liabilities were $493,014. This left a net working capital of $3,824,287, which compares with $4,805,455 on Dec. 31, 1928.

Earned surplus was $3,484,919 on Dec. 31, 1929, against $3,576,779 a year before.

Dividends since the two-for-one stock splitup have been at the rate of $2.50 per year.

The stock deserves a fairly good rating.

Electric Power and Light.

M. P.: Electric Power and Light corporation $15,000,000 five per cent debentures, dated Feb. 1, 1930, and due Feb. 1, 2030, are a direct obligation of the corporation.

For the twelve months ended Nov. 30, 1929, earnings of the corporation were equal to more than twelve times annual interest requirements on the debentures to be outstanding.

The debentures will be senior to preferred, second preferred, and common stocks, which, with option warrants outstanding, have a combined market value at present of more than $150,000,000.

They are a suitable investment for a business man's funds.

COLLECTIONS OF STAMP TAXES UP $23,936,369 IN 1929

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—(AP)—An increase of $23,936,369 in stamp taxes collected by the government in 1929 as compared with the previous year was shown today in an internal revenue bureau statement.

A total of $78,593,360 was collected from this source in the 12 months. The largest gain in the stamp taxes was from capital stock sales and transfers, which rolled up an aggregate of $47,840,580 in 1929, as compared with $30,327,890 the previous year.

The tax on bonds of indebtedness, capital stock issues, etc., totaled $21,799,213, a gain of approximately $6,000,000 over the previous year. Sales of produce paid $3,765,755, and the playing card tax, $5,187,811.

New York state led in the amount paid into the treasury on stamp taxes, turning in $56,682,905. Of this $42,609,799 was from the tax on capital stock issues or transfers, a gain of approximately $15,400,000 over the previous year, which caused that state to pay all except $5,200,000 of the total tax collected from that source. The tax on bonds of indebtedness, capital stock issues, etc., in New York increased during the year by approximately $4,000,000 to $12,753,038.

Ohio as usual led the states in tax on playing cards, paying $3,219,277, which was approximately $200,000 less than paid in 1928.

SOME BELIEVE STOCK ADVANCE IS NEARING PEAK

Others See Good Causes for Further Rise.

BY FRED HARVEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 12.—There was nothing in the customary flood of Lincoln day oratory hereabouts to furnish the slightest clew to the probable course of the stock market when it reopens tomorrow. Overnight market letters were conflicting in their predictions and the day's news was nil so far as its bearing on the prices of securities was concerned. When experts disagree, who is to say what's what?

Undoubtedly there is a great deal of professional bearishness around the stock exchange just now, most of it based on the theory that the January advance has gone too far in advance of the improvement in business to continue much farther. The industrial list has advanced nearly fifty points since Dec. 23 on the average. Nearly half of this gain has occurred in the last two weeks. With the exception of some two or three setbacks due to special developments, the advance has been steady, sustained and extensive.

Caution Clients.

Some brokerage houses have been cautioning their clients for a week or more that the upward movement could not be expected to go on indefinitely and have advised caution in commitments until the market has had time to "consolidate" itself.

Some of them are openly predicting a reaction as a necessary development at this stage of operations. Others insist that too much emphasis is being placed on unfavorable trade factors, such as low commodity prices and unemployment, and see many reasons for continued hopefulness, among them easier money rates, improving conditions in the steel industry, and the fact that stock prices are now a good 12 per cent below what they were at this time last year in spite of all the recovery of the last six weeks or so.

It may be that any definite trend of prices from present levels will have to wait on more definite news from business.

Resist Pressure.

Meanwhile, constructive traders are disposed to see the resistance which the market has been offering to pressure during the occasional "off" sessions of the last month—whether from professional bear selling or mere lassitude—as a healthy sign. This condition looms all the more important when it is reflected that only a little while ago the raiding of a few stocks was sufficient to unsettle the whole list.

PRAIRIE OIL AND GAS.

For the year ending 1929, less depreciation and taxes, earnings were officially announced as $14,563,746, equal to $5.99 a share.

RESERVE TELLS OF BOOST IN AUTO OUTPUT

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Production of automobiles, which in December was the smallest of any month in seven years, increased in the last few weeks.

The federal reserve board said so today in its monthly bulletin reviewing business and financial conditions. Large production of automobiles in the earlier part of last year was sufficient to meet the later demand, with a consequent falling off in the last quarter.

The board said the decline in general production of the country, which began in the third quarter of 1929 and continued to the end of the year, appeared to have been considerably greater in extent than that of 1927.

"Since the turn of the year there has been an increase in activity in several lines of industry," the review said, "but it is too early to determine whether this increase has been general throughout the various lines of industry."

Boston Reserve Bank Sets 4% Rediscount Rate

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—(AP)—The federal reserve board announced today that the Federal Reserve bank of Boston had established a rediscount rate of 4 per cent on all classes of paper of all maturities, effective tomorrow. The previous rate of the bank was 4½ per cent, and its action makes it the third of the twelve federal reserve banks to reduce the rediscount rate to 4 per cent in the last week. The others were New York and Chicago. The remaining nine banks are on a 4½ per cent rediscount basis.

The Import of Size

That The American Appraisal Company is the largest appraisal organization in the world is a mere statistic. Of greater import are the advantages of this bigness: the facilities for proving every valuation, the stability, the freedom from influence, which distinguish the authoritative statement of values from a mere haphazard estimate of values.

CHICAGO LARGE FINANCE CENTER, WOOD ASSERTS

Discusses Modern Trend in Investment Field.

Changing trends in investment banking have made Chicago one of the foremost centers of financing in the world, Harold E. Wood, vice president and director of the Foreman-State corporation, investment affiliate of the Foreman-State National bank, told members of the Association of Commerce at their weekly luncheon yesterday at the Hotel La Salle.

In discussing modern tendencies in investment banking Mr. Wood traced the rise in the popularity of stocks over bonds and asserted that the investment trusts, which made more than four billion dollars in offerings last year, will prove their essential worth despite the setback of the decline of the stock market last fall.

Reviews Growth.

Mr. Wood reviewed the growth in the investing public, which expanded from an estimated 200,000 before the world war to more than 20,000,000 persons, and the corresponding increase in the number of investment houses.

"It would be a story in itself to show the position of Chicago in the world of investment change," the speaker said. "Certainly we are proud to boast, as indicative of our increasing importance, that the biggest piece of industrial financing in 1929 in any of the financial centers of the world, including New York, London, and Paris, came out of Chicago in the $100,000,000 Texas corporation debentures, with their call on common stock."

Mr. Wood discussed the question of the post stock market break condition of the investment trusts. He said:

"Marketwise the holder of investment trust common stocks suffered heavily due largely to the undigested market for that type of security and consequent technical condition. The reaction against them was most severe because of public fear as to the extent of depreciation on their portfolios. The break in October and November has not seriously impaired the intrinsic soundness of the better trusts, but the swing of the pendulum from great popularity necessarily has carried the buyer to the other extreme.

Extent of Depreciation.

"The depreciation in portfolios ranges from 4.1 per cent to 20 per cent; the market price of most is 15 per cent to 40 per cent below the actual liquidating value. Certainly the better trusts are cheap at these prices.

"The break also has righted some abuses. The trusts realize that to resell themselves to the public, there must be the fullest publicity as to earnings and assets. The day of the blind pool is over. Many silly things have been said in favor of investment trusts, but when one considers them at present values, with their infinite possibilities for growth in the future, how can one doubt their essential soundness?"

PRODUCE MARKETS

There was no trading of consequence in butter and eggs, but reports indicated that an easier tone prevailed in eggs due to milder weather, and sales were made on the basis of prices that will be listed today. Receipts are increasing. Live poultry brought former prices. Potatoes dull and steady. Receipts 72 cars with 291 cars on team track. Butter and cheese prices are reported from Tuesday.

N. ORLEANS COTTON LOWER

New Orleans, La., Feb. 12.—Although the New Orleans cotton market was open today, trading was light. Prices were higher during a large part of the morning, but weakened and closed with losses of 4 to 7 points, after a range of less than 10 points at the extreme. March closed at 15.49c; May, 15.68c; July, 15.90c, and October, 16.10c. Liverpool closed unchanged to a shade lower, after being higher early. Spot sales were 4,000 bales.

One month ago	12.25@13.75
One year ago	16.00@18.75
Top yesterday, $11.85; average, $10.60.

Receipts at Chicago today, 6,500 cattle; 36,000 hogs, and 14,000 sheep.

The hog market fluctuated sharply after reaching new high levels for the season yesterday and part of the gain was lost on afternoon rounds. The extreme top at $11.25, showed 15c advance and equaled the highest paid for hogs since Sept. 6, while the general average moved up 5c at $10.75.

Early buying was limited largely to light and light butchers at the 10@15c advance, other weights selling unevenly steady to 15c higher, with heaviest hogs showing the least strength. Range of prices reached the widest point in three weeks, the top and average showing 50c spread. Top light and top heavy hogs were 40c apart. A year ago the two kinds were selling only 5c apart. Larger houses filled fair sized orders in mid session and 4,000 were left at the close, with 36,000 expected today.

Cattle Sell Slowly.

With the exception of a few "specialties," the rank and file of cattle had to be peddled before a sale could be made yesterday. Sales at $14.00 and above, consisting of better grades of steers and yearlings, showed strength in some instances, while gains of 15@25c were scored on top notchers.

Plain quality held barely steady and some of these were still in the pens at the close, held on unsatisfactory bids. Six fancy 1,158 lb steers from the South Dakota experimental feeding station sold at $16.50, the highest paid for cattle in some time, which indicates the good demand for well finished kinds. Cows and heifers were steady to strong. Calves recovered a small part of the recent loss. Stockers and feeders were scarce and firm.

Lambs Slump Again.

The market for lambs was in a demoralized condition yesterday and new low price levels were established. The $12.00 quotation had to be discarded when top kinds dropped to $11.85. Shippers, city butchers and packers, bought the "cream" of the supply at $11.50@11.85, while bulk of 85@100 lb., averages changed hands within a range of $9.85@11.00.

Yearlings shared in the break, but sold mostly on a "catch as catch can" basis. Aged sheep sold steady, light ewes bringing $5.50@5.75. Feeding lambs were hard to dispose of at $9.50@10.25.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 6,500 cattle, 36,000 hogs and 14,000 sheep, against 3,954 cattle, 37,022 hogs and 16,933 sheep, the previous Thursday and 6,346 cattle, 48,643 hogs and 9464 sheep, a year ago.

WINNIPEG WHEAT HIGHER

With all American grain markets closed yesterday in honor of Lincoln's birthday, interest centered in Winnipeg and Liverpool. The latter closed unchanged to ¼c higher, July showing the strength, while Winnipeg, with a light trade until the last hour, became active and strong, and finished at the best prices on wheat, showing net gains of ⅞c to 1⅛c, the latter on October.

Canadian traders were covering shorts and there was fair buying by commission houses, while offerings were light, with a noticeable absence of pressure, and a price range of 1⅛c. Buenos Aires at noon was 1c lower on wheat, with March $1.10¼ and May $1.12⅛. Corn was ¼c higher, flax up 2¼c and oats unchanged.

A feature of the trading at Winnipeg during the day was a sharp advance in the price of oats, with net gains of ⅞c to 1⅝c, May leading. It is understood that some time ago, when oats and barley were selling at about the same price, spreaders sold oats and bought barley.

The spread did not work according to expectations, as barley went to 2¾c to 3¼c under oats, a most unusual situation, and spreaders were reported as active in selling barley and buying oats to close their open interest. May barley finished 1¾c higher for the day, despite selling by spreaders, but was 3⅛c under May oats at the last.

RAILROAD NOTES

Twenty-five new all steel passenger motor cars, costing approximately $850,000, have been ordered by the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad from the Standard Steel Car company of Hammond, Ind., it is announced by John R. Blackhall, general manager of the road. The new equipment is scheduled for delivery within the next few weeks. This makes a total of 40 new all steel motor cars purchased by the North Shore line during the last two years. The new cars are said to be the last word in modern transportation equipment, affording North Shore line customers the utmost travel comfort and convenience.

It was remarked in railroad circles that the future of the Reading had suddenly become subject for speculation. The Baltimore and Ohio, by a sudden move, acquired 34 per cent of Reading stock, whereas formerly, like the New York Central, it controlled only slightly more than 25 per cent. The action was undertaken to insure the Baltimore and Ohio a firm grasp on the property. Whether the New York Central will oppose the Baltimore and Ohio or relinquish its own holding is a question which it is believed the two managements have not as yet agreed upon.

BANKERS EXPECT BETTER BIDS ON TREASURY BILLS

New York, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Bankers believe that the bids on the forthcoming $50,000,000 issue of 90 day non-interest bearing treasury bills will be more favorable to the treasury than were the tenders on the first offering, made in December.

The best bid on that financing was 99.310, which represented an annual basis of about 2⅜ per cent, while the lowest was 99.152, or about 3⅜ per cent. The total of the first issue was $100,000,000 and subscriptions totaled $223,000,000.

Bond & Share Co. Assets Amount to $5,094,504

Paid to Members and Beneficiaries

Since February 1, 1843

87 years ago THE MUTUAL LIFE—the oldest life insurance company in America—began business.

It had no capital stock and has never had any. Subscriptions for life insurance were the foundation of its career.

It was the first American life insurance company to start business on the mutual plan. This original idea is now widely prevalent in American business.

Since it was founded THE MUTUAL LIFE has paid to members and beneficiaries over $2,600,000,000.

The Ace of Spades

By WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINE

SYNOPSIS.

Jim Rutledge, accompanied by Sim Hart, is sent out with a herd of cattle to fulfill a contract made by his father, Chandler Rutledge. On the trail they are overtaken by some men from the Moss outfit, enemies of Rutledge. The Moss men start a stampede and drive off some of the Rutledge cattle. Jim recovers them, but in doing so shoots and severely wounds one of the Moss raiders. The men of the Moss outfit swear to be revenged for the injury and pursue him. Jim takes refuge in a ranch house where he finds Ellen Lawson alone in the house. She hides him when the Moss gang comes to the house looking for him and sends them off on another trail, even though she learns that he has injured her brother. Jim rides on into town, after saving Ellen from the unwelcome attentions of Sam Moss. Shear, the town marshal, threatens to arrest him for the attack on Steve Lawson, but Harrison Pendleton, an old trail driver, arrives on the scene in time to save him from arrest. Shortly after Shear kills Doc Brown, whom he claimed had threatened his life. This causes a great deal of excitement in the little cattle town. Jim goes into the local gambling den and is astonished to find Ellen Lawson there. She says she has come to speak to her brother, Steve. Jim guides her to the other end of the room where Steve is sitting in a game of poker with Shear and others. As they reach the table the lights go out and when the room is again lighted Shear is found crumpled in his chair dead with Jim's knife sticking in him. Ellen's right hand is covered with blood and there are finger marks on Jim's neck. They are questioned by the sheriff, Manders.

INSTALLMENT XVI.

ELLEN IS CLEARED.

A faintly derisive smile twitched at the corners of Jim's mouth. "It's written in blood for all of us to see."

"What is?"

"Her innocence."

"Put your cards on the table, Texas man, if you're not bluffing."

"She couldn't have done it—not if she is righthanded."

"That's so—about her being righthanded, sheriff," Pete Moss said subtly.

Manders focused his attention on Rutledge. "You mentioned before—about her being righthanded. What's that got to do with it?"

"Everything. The proof that she didn't do it is that there was blood in the palm of her hand and on the front of her fingers. It might have started anywhere else, but the inside of the murderer's hand was entirely protected by the handle of the knife."

"By jimminy, that's true," Jimmie, the bartender, said. "Any lunkhead can see that, come to think of it."

Manders recovered prestige by his comment on Jim's deduction. "You're proving what don't need any proof, Mr. Rutledge," he said, a little scornfully. "It sticks out plain as Old Roundtop that a man and no woman did this."

There was an increase of respect in the way Jim looked at the sheriff. "I've been noticing that myself," he said.

"How do you know that?" some one asked.

Manders paid no attention to him. "Let Doctor Aubrey through to take care of the body," he ordered the crowd.

"If you claim I killed Joe——"

As the doctor pushed his way forward Jim stooped and picked an object from the floor.

"What's that?" demanded the sheriff quickly.

Jim held out his hand, palm exposed. Upon it lay a small piece of green cloth.

The officer examined it and was about to toss the fragment of cloth away.

"Better keep it," Jim said. "You can't ever tell."

"What is it?"

"It might be an eye shade." Jim smiled sardonically. "The fellow who's lost it may offer a reward for its return."

"We'll adjourn to the poker room upstairs," the sheriff said. "I want all of you who were in this room when the lights went out to go up with me."

"What for?" asked Buck Roe brutally. "You've got yore man, Allison. Take him to the calaboose—if the boys don't decide to hang him right away."

Manders looked hardily at Roe. "That's what you'd like, Buck, I reckon, but it won't be thataway. Any one who tries to take a prisoner from me will be bumped off. I aim to be sheriff of this county an' not just draw the pay. Understand?"

"Don't get on the prod with me, Allison," Roe advised. "It ain't supposed to be safe, even if you are sheriff. I don't want yore prisoner—not just now."

"Am I a prisoner?" Jim asked. "You've just got one thing against me you haven't got against every other man in the room, and that is my knife. But does that amount to? There's not a man present who couldn't have lifted it from its sheath and killed the marshal."

"True enough," Manders admitted. "That's why we're going upstairs. I want to ask each of you some questions."

Roe laughed, with harsh derision. "Once I knew a sheriff who figured he was elected to get criminals 'an' not let slick guys like this bird talk themselves out of a hole when they were caught in the act. But he died an' went to heaven, I reckon."

"If I'm so slick why did I leave my knife there as a witness against me?" asked Jim.

"The candles came too quick for you, fellow," Roe flung back at him.

"It was a put up job," Pete Moss chipped in. "Any fool would know that. Why, the birds that shot out the lights were Circle R cowboys, a bunch that laughs in the pay of this fellow Rutledge."

"That's so," assented the bartender, Jimmie.

"These bad men come up the trail from Texas an' try to run the town. He follows gonna let them get away with it? Can they kill yore marshal without any comeback?" Pete demanded.

"Not by a jugful," some one cried with an oath.

"Find the cause of this killing," Jim said quietly. "Who had it in for Shear? Not a man whose life he saved two days ago."

"Talk," jeered Moss. "He knocked you cold an' you swore you'd get him for it."

"I have witnesses," the Texan said.

"Where are they?" a voice demanded.

Manders asserted himself. "We're not trying Rutledge—yet. Move up-stairs, you fellows, and let the doctor have this room."

As Rutledge followed Steve Lawson and his sister out of the Longhorn and up the stairway leading to the private room above he was grateful for one thing. Ellen Lawson had nothing to do with this. As the sheriff had said, the murder was marked as having been done by a man. The explanation he had given was a true one—as far as it went. The scream that had been born of her terror at the chance discovery in the dark was not that of a woman who had just committed a coldblooded murder.

But it might have been plucked out of her fear, out of her horror at finding a dread in her heart turned into reality. Had she come into the Longhorn to save Steve from the guilt of this very crime and had she arrived too late? What could have driven her to enter such a place except some such imperative impulse, an urge potent enough to overcome ironbound conventions. Jim remembered the guilty eyes staring out of Steve Lawson's startled face.

This crime had been committed by somebody very cool or by somebody very impulsive. It was a murder of audacious nerve or one of sudden unconquerable anger. Which? There was one bit of evidence left by the assassin that probably answered the question. This Jim tucked away in his mind for future reference.

The sheriff herded them into the upstairs room and closed the door. "Take a chair, Miss Lawson. Rest of you sit down, many of you as can. We'll be here quite a while. I want each one of you to tell his story, what he saw and heard downstairs."

"That's all right, Manders. No objections on my part, if yore idea is to get more evidence against this fellow Rutledge," Buck Roe said. "We got enough to hang him already. We know who, how, and why."

"We know how, Roe," the officer differed coldly. "But we don't know the who or why—not for sure. At least I don't. Maybe you do."

"Meaning just what?" the rustler asked with narrowed lids, his drawling voice a warning.

"Meaning that you move too fast for me. You're an enemy of this young man. I'm not. Maybe he did it. Maybe he didn't."

Roe's sarcastic laughter was only a murmur, as though it was born of acute mirth within him.

"Eeny, meeny, miny, mo,
Catch a nigger by the toe,
If he hollers let him go,"

he chanted.

It occurred to Jim that it might be well to carry the war into the territory of the enemy.

"Why don't you finish your nursery rhyme" he asked. "Roe matches with toe for the last line."

"You finish it, Texas man," Roe suggested warningly.

"Some day I may. I'm not right sure yet who did this. My opportunity to know wasn't as good as yours; for I wasn't sitting close enough to hear Shear's heart beat."

"If you claim I killed Joe——"

"I don't. How do I know whether you did or not? A fellow may be a killer, a robber and a rustler without——"

Veterans Tell How They Met Abe Lincoln

While Children Hear of His Struggles.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Lincoln's birthday may not have meant much to some folk yesterday. But to a little group of men who gathered in the Grand Army hall, men who were contemporaries of the lanky frontiersman, who fought under his leadership to save the Union in their young and vigorous days, it meant a great deal.

In many parts of the city school children, business men, city officials, clubwomen, and others paid tribute to Abraham Lincoln, but in the hall in the Chicago public library where 35 members of the Grand Army of the Republic met in their shiny blue uniforms and wide-brimmed campaign hats many recalled their meetings with Lincoln. Lincoln was not a myth to them, but a reality.

"When I first saw Lincoln he was in the Wigwam at Lake and Market streets making a speech against Douglas," said William Metzger, 83 years old, 7125 Ellis avenue. "He and Douglas were running for the senate. Let's see, that was in '59, and I was 13. Boys weren't allowed there, but I slipped in."

N. A. Wing, 7800 Aberdeen street, knew Abe Lincoln when he was practicing law in Springfield. His father, Mattias Wing, farmer of Pike county, fought in the Blackhawk war by the side of Lincoln and was one of his first law clients. N. A. Wing enlisted in the Union army when he was 14 years old.

Mandly C. Hampton, 83 years old, of 3740 Pine Grove avenue, met Lincoln in Camp Dennison, O., where the President signed his discharge. Mr. Hampton was 17 years old then. J. H. Campbell, 2108 West 69th place, met the President when he visited the soldiers at News River, N. C. "I was two inches taller than Mr. Lincoln," he said proudly.

Another veteran, James C. Thomas, assistant adjutant general of the Illinois G. A. R., told how he and a comrade slipped into Washington from Alexandria, Va., to shake hands with the President at a reception.

"There was a brigadier general, all gorgeous in his uniform, just ahead of me in line, and I watched to see if the President was more cordial to him than to me, who was just an ordinary soldier," Mr. Thomas said. "Well, he wasn't.

"That was just after the battles at Franklin and Nashville, when most of Gen. Hood's army surrendered to us. Hood commanded at Franklin, lying on a saddle, a leg and an arm gone. I never will forget how the rebels went down, line after line."

When the Mont Clare women's chorus sang, "Well, We'll Rally Round the Flag, Boys," and "We're Tenting Tonight on the Old Camp Ground," many of the aged men tapped canes on the floor and joined in on the chorus as lustily as their quavering voices allowed.

William P. Wright, president of the Grand Army Hall and Memorial association, and the Rev. John Thompson, pastor of the Chicago temple, spoke. Charles W. Beam, chaplain of the George H. Thomas post of the G. A. R., recited Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Afterwards, talking to a comrade, he said: "You know, there's a lot in that." The other replied: "Yes, it says about everything there is to say."

The principal public celebration of the 121st anniversary of Lincoln's birthday was held in Lincoln park in the afternoon, when high school students, war veterans, and club members assembled at the foot of St. Gaudens' statue of Lincoln.

Members of Lincoln Park post of the American Legion, veterans of the civil and Spanish-American wars, R. O. T. C. units from Lane Technical and Lake View High schools, and delegations from the Hamilton club and Lincoln Park Kiwanis club attended.

"Abraham Lincoln belongs to all the world, but in a peculiar sense he belongs to Chicago as to no other great American city," George W. Dixon, Lincoln park comissioner, said in the principal address at the celebration in the park.

"It was to Chicago that he came frequently in his practice of law. These very streets of ours echoed to his footsteps countless times, and here he found friends and supporters for his ideas and ideals. The newspapers of Chicago recognized his leadership and in a sense it was here that his influence became national, that his name became known."

Royal N. Allen, past commander of the Illinois Sons of Veterans, and Dr. Norman B. Barr of Olivet institute spoke. The Rev. J. L. Albritton, chaplain of the Illinois G. A. R., pronounced the invocation. Earlier in the day several thousand Chicago Boy Scouts held a ceremonial before the statue, an Eagle Scout placing a wreath upon the monument.

The Disabled American Veterans of the World War, after marching in formation from the Art institute to the statue, placed a wreath there, following which J. Hamilton Lewis, candidate for Democratic nomination for senator, and Millard Rice, past national commander of the disabled veterans, made addresses.

One of the largest celebrations of the day was the annual Lincoln's birthday program in the Auditorium theater in the morning, attended by several thousand high school children. It was under the auspices of the public affairs committee of the Union League club. Music was furnished by the Senn High school band. Students of Proviso High school gave a pageant showing the life of Lincoln. Winners in public speaking, poster design, ode writing, and oratorical contests were announced.

Speaking at the Chicago Woman's club good will meeting in the afternoon, Dr. Shailer Mathews, dean of the University of Chicago divinity school, took issue with the current writers who make a practice of belittling great men, saying they were "small souls trying to bring great men down to their own level."

BRITISH WITH POMP UNVEIL MEMORIAL TO "RAIL SPLITTER"

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 12.—The Royal exchange closed at noon today in honor of the memory of Abraham Lincoln on his birthday, the lord mayor unveiling a bust of the martyred President. Lord Crewe, former ambassador to France, presented the bust in the presence of Ambassador Dawes and a group of other dignitaries.

The bust was carved from a block of limestone, which was quarried near Lincoln's birthplace, by the Irish-American sculptor, Andrew O'Connor. It is a replica of the head and shoulders of the life size statue by the same artist which stands in Springfield, Ill.

The ceremony of the unveiling of the bust was carried out in traditional pomp. The lord mayor arrived in his state carriage, preceded by mace and sword bearers in picturesque livery. Lord Crewe, in presenting the statue, recalled his own boyhood memories of the wave of regret which swept over England when Lincoln's death at the hands of an assassin was known.

Ethel Leginska Leads Women's Symphony in All Russian Program

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Ethel Leginska, who served for a considerable time as conductor of the Woman's Symphony orchestra of this city and then went away to take up similar work elsewhere, returned last night for a single appearance as guest conductor and soloist. The concert, like the rest of the series this season, was at the Eighth Street theater.

It was an all-Russian program, and a rather weightier one than this orchestra has been in the habit of playing. It began with Tschaikowsky's Fifth symphony, then took an intermission and went into the Liaponoff piano concerto, in which Miss Leginska was both conductor and soloist. Then followed the first Chicago hearing of a suite [it was called a tone picture on the program] of an opera by Rimsky-Korsakoff, the "Legend of the Invisible City of Kitesch and the Maiden Fuvronia." And lest this should not be enough, the conclusion was the Tschaikowsky "1812" overture.

Miss Leginska is a dramatic figure in front of an orchestra, ordering, beckoning, imploring tone from her players with a wave of the arm, forbidding applause from the audience with another and backward one. She is a dominant personality, and if at times her forces do not come up to her demands it is not for the want of trying on all sides.

Victor Prahl, baritone, gave a song recital program at Kimball hall last night which deserves compliments for both choice of material and manner of presentation. There was a group of seventeenth century English songs, then a group by Schumann, some old Spanish songs in Joaquin Nin's arrangements, some highly modern French "Chansons Gaillardes" by Francis Poulenc, and at the end a group in modern English, of which five items had been dedicated to him.

With these Mr. Prahl projected a voice of highly pleasant quality which has not been worked into operatic brilliancy, but is none the worse on that account for song treatment, excellent musicianship, and a gift for enunciation that carried his English words to the back of the hall and made the songs the pleasanter because the more understandable.

U. S. Legion Chief to Be Guest of Chicago Post

National Commander O. L. Bodenhamer of the American Legion and Edward A. Haynes, commander of the Illinois department, will be guests of the Naval Post No. 372 next Friday at the Knickerbocker hotel, it was announced by the officers last night. Commander Bodenhamer will speak on the Legion's work in behalf of disabled veterans. It will be his first visit to Chicago.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

Describe the girl or the man of your dreams.

The Answers.

O. E. Bittl, 5245 South Temple avenue, carpenter — The one I picture is about two inches shorter than I am, has brown eyes and black hair, and, of course, appearances that go with it; one who likes me and tolerates my faults; one who likes her home and will make a good housewife. But she must not be too stout.

Miss Louise M. Grossman, 452 Oakdale avenue, secretary—Dreams and illusions are one thing, and a practical man for a husband might be quite another. Here's hoping he will have a good income and will be of high character. Personality is a great asset. Age doesn't mean much, nor do looks. I hate a silly man.

Hillyard R. Pierce, 1720 Thome avenue, consulting engineer—Fair complexion, auburn hair, dazzling eyes, chic, haughty, and captivating. In fact, I met this girl and she is now Mrs. Pierce.

Miss Elsie Lestima, 5409 West 22d place, Cicero, dictaphone operator — Not hard to look at. He must have personality. He must have ambition, despite adverse circumstances. He should be able to dress well; dance a little, I hope, though not necessarily.

George Manus, 2138 Osgood street, clerk—When you find the girl you love you will have the girl of your dreams. I hope she will be blue eyed, generally attractive to others as well as to myself. THE STAGE

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

WHITFORD KANE, who has been active on the producing staff and in the casts of the Goodman theater for the last two years or more, intends to branch out, in a small way, as an actor-manager under his own flag. He announces a series of new plays to be staged at the Goodman on Monday nights, that being the day of the week when the repertory company is resting and the playhouse open for rentals.

"Loggerheads," by Ralph Cullinan, will be Mr. Kane's first one night stand bill. He has chosen Monday, March 17, for the performance. Sure, 'tis the birthday of the good Saint Padraic, and no better day could be found, reading the calendar through, for the start of an adventure by an Irish actor. Mr. Kane has done this play in New York and Boston with satisfactory results.

Other manuscripts in Mr. Kane's possession for following Monday nights are: "Shoot If You Must," by Joanna Roos; "Juggernaut," by David Sears; "Mountain Dew," by George Shiels, and "Black Waters," by Ralph Cullinan. The Miss Roos who is authoress of the first named play is the same Joanna who appeared recently at the Garrick in "Blue Heaven," and who figured briefly but effectively in "Paris Bound" last season. She is a bright member of the new crop of actresses.

Incidentally the staging of "Loggerheads" will celebrate Mr. Kane's thirtieth anniversary on the stage. He began in "The Ticket of Leave Man," in Belfast. After thirteen years in the United Kingdom he came to this country with that well remembered specimen of the Manchester school of drama, Stanley Houghton's "Hindle Wakes." His experience has been extensive, but of recent years he has specialized, more or less, with the New York Theater guild and the Art institute of Chicago civic repertory company—which is the long way of saying the Goodman theater.

The New York Theater guild isn't limiting its attention to Shaw's "The Apple Cart" these days. It has just placed in rehearsal Turgeniev's "A Month in the Country," thus renewing interest in the first Russian man of letters to find pan-European popularity. Alla Nazimova will have the leading woman's rôle, and she should take to it like a Muscovy duck. The only other principals thus far named are Henry Travers and Dudley Digges, both veteran Guilders. March 17 will be the date of the New York première.

An all-Negro cast of players, ninety-six in number, will appear in Marc Connelley's new play, "The Green Pasture," which has been added to the long list of openings scheduled for New York next week. Its date is Saturday, Feb. 22. The piece will contain "spirituals," of course, by a choir of thirty specialists in these rousing anthems. Mr. Connelley (former collaborator with George Kaufman) says that his play is based on Roark Bradford's story, "Ol' Man Adam and His Chillun."

Burton Holmes, who holds all records for professional globe trotting, began his annual season of travel reviews in Orchestra hall last night, with London up to date as his theme. The lecture will be repeated tomorrow night and Saturday afternoon. Next week he will skitter about France (on the rostrum) and will deal, among other Gallic subjects, with the Basque country, where Marshal Foch, Borotra, and the jai-alai players came from.

Every once in a while some Chicagoan bobs up with the question, "What's become of the play writing Hattons, Fred and Fanny?" Well, it seems that they are responsible for "The Fatal Woman," formerly called "Man's Enemy," which will have a New York première March 10 with Alice Brady as its star. Partly responsible, at least; they adapted it from a French piece. It is called a comedy—but its action takes place in a cemetery.

Lynn Overman, in "She's No Lady," is announced for the Garrick March 2, following the fortnight of the Stratford Shakespeareans. . . . And George White's "Scandals" is definitely booked into the Grand Opera house, opening March 16, to pick up the crumbs of "Animal Crackers."

Virginia Cherill Cancels Engagement to Buster West

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 12.—Virginia Cherill of Chicago, 22 year old leading woman of Charlie Chaplin, announced today the end of her engagement to marry Buster West, New York comedian. Miss Cherill declared his work was separating them by taking him back to the New York stage and that they had decided to give each other their freedom.

"I decided I did not wish to give up my career in motion pictures," Miss Cherill said.

British Domains Overseas Are Strict on Films:

Censor at London Is Fa More Tolerant.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 12.—British fi critics, with a few notable exceptio have long been calling for a tigh censorship of American films, and seems likely that their request w be granted.

Edward Shortt, K. C., who repla the late T. P. O'Connor as censor, notified the various local authori that censorship is to be stricter. S ultaneously he has raised the p for censoring films 50 per cent.

Notices have begun to appear fore all picture theaters in Lon stating whether the films shown th are "A" films or "U" films, first being approved for adult a ences and the second for unive exhibition. The difference betw the two categories had been pr cally lost sight of in recent years.

England still appears to be broadest minded region about censorship in the British empire, spite occasional oddities of the Bri censorship [such as extreme tou ness about disrespect to any crow heads whatsoever], the censors are much less rigid than those Canada or Australia, or even in s of the American states.

In a sixty day period, 150 Amer films were banned in various part the British empire, but all of t were shown in England, though s of them were slightly cut.

Incidentally the comparison of l lish standards with those of Austr brings out some amusing prohibit enforced in the Antipodes. A h is not permitted to fall in a ste chase in Australian theaters—un he gets up afterward. Cows on r skates are definitely prohibited, so are tacks thrown in the path pursuing lion, which seems to s that the Australian list must c every misdemeanor known to scie It is equally verboten to show a setting fire to a saloon or takin necklace from a woman's neck using a magnet.

Roulette wheels in action are bar stilled, they are innocuous. Elec light and telephone wires may no cut. A card tucked into a shoe poker game is frowned upon, s strip poker, and likewise dice play unless the money doesn't appear the picture, in which case it is right. Among the labels on bot which may not be shown on the A tralian screen are "chloroform," " tor oil," "turpentine," "sleeping lets," "beer," "itch powder," "milk of magnesia."

In Australia it is likewise con ered incorrect for one character refer to another as a big sap, s tire, punk, loafer, bummer, old boneless herring, tough egg, or sof a gun.

Among films banned in other p of the empire, but shown in Engl was "The Trial of Mary Dugg which Australia refused on the gro that it depicted immoral living.

"Our Modern Maidens" was ban in Australia and several Canac provinces. "The Cock-Eyed Wor one of the best talkies so far duced, was banned in Canada as ing "indecent, coarse and immor "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" c not be shown in Quebec, while tario refused "All America," beca it was too American, an exam which English film critics are hold up to the censor as the sort of ac which ought to be taken here. "Ch town Nights," seen all over Engl was barred by Australia because depicted "an undesirable un world." "Delightful Rogue," w ran at the New Gallery, one of L don's most aristocratic film theat was banned in British Columbia.

Gregory Prusheck Art Deals Mainly with Design; Color Second

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

An exhibition of paintings and woodcuts by Gregory Prusheck recently has been placed on view at the Chicago Women's Aid. In the current Chicago Artists' exhibit at the Art institute a still life by Prusheck was rewarded with a prize, so the inference is that his work is worth something. It is. He deals more with design than color possibly, but this limitation has a severe charm of its own.

A mellow gray tone pervades the majority of these canvases. The "Country Homes, Jugo-Slavia" is rather fascinating in its weathered mellowness of color; the houses reach back on definitely graduated planes and the barrier of leaves at the front is delicately drawn. The "Village Travnk, Jugo-Slavia," reminds one of a tepid rainbow, broken, but not carelessly. Throughout Mr. Prusheck paints in a thoughtful and careful manner, a little labored but always fine.

The least inviting is the tangle of green of "Composition, Jungle." The "Self-Portrait" is the head of a dreamer against a blue background. "Up Hill in France" is a gray-blue composition, very lovely. The "Portrait of a Poet" is well drawn, but the poet is more the philosopher and that of the socialist pamphlet. Among the woodcuts, "At the Corner" is intriguing and "Halsted Street" atmospheric and natural.

The Bryn Mawr Woman's club is exhibiting a group of still lifes and two portraits by Eve Watson Schutze. Mrs. Schutze is the president of the Renaissance society of the University of Chicago.

Alexander Neebe and Minnie Harms Neebe have just completed some stunning murals for a room in Waukegan, a very brilliant piece of painting, combining good color, humor, and original effects in a striking manner.

To Study American Art.

HAVRE, France, Feb. 12.—(AP)—Eustache Stoenescu, acknowledged in French art circles as the greatest living painter of Rumania, sailed for the United States today to study what he described as "the new school of American painting."

"Hitherto American painters have been coming to Europe to put the final touches on their artistic education," he explained. "I feel now, however, that the United States is developing a new style of painting which is as deserving of attention as its contributions to architecture. More vivid coloring and closer naturalism is what strikes me as the outstanding characteristics of present day American painting."

M. Stoenescu is official painter for the royal family of Rumania and is a grand officer of the Rumanian crown. His portrait of the late king Ferdinand won him the French legion of honor and his portrait of his master, Jean Paul Laurens, was purchased for the Luxembourg museum.

FARM AND GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

In response to a long felt want, the department of landscape architecture, Iowa State college, Ames, Ia., announces its initial short course to be given Wednesday and Thursday, April 2 and 3. The recent phenomenal growth and interest in gardens and home landscapes has developed until more advanced information is necessary.

With this in mind, the course is planned to meet the needs of the rural, suburban and city home owners who are desirous of further improvement of their properties. The landscape principles and practices as applied to the home grounds, farmstead, town lot and simple gardens will be given. Garden planning should be of particular interest to garden club members.

The course will carry the enrolled members through the various processes and problems involved in design, planning, planting, construction and maintenance.

All those interested should write at once to the landscape architecture department, Ames, Ia., for further information, as it may be necessary to limit the number enrolled.

Chicago Lacks Homes for Ailing and Poor, Woman Official Says

The city's lack of facilities for homeless women and penniless convalescents was decried yesterday by Mrs. Anna L. Smith, commissioner of public welfare, at a meeting of the Chicago and Cook County Federation of Women's Organizations in the Hotel Sherman.

"There is no lodging house in the city for the homeless women and stranded girls in Chicago," Mrs. Smith declared. "Outside of the Salvation Army and a few others, there is no place for them to go.

"The Municipal lodging house for men at 162 North Clark street must serve not only homeless men but the convalescent man who comes out of Cook county hospital. His only place to go is the lodging house, which at most can care only for 120 men each night. In the last four months 65,000 men have used the haven—the sick, the jobless, strangers who find in it a place away from the cold."

Mrs. Smith said a recent survey conducted by her department found 4,300 houses in Chicago within a five mile radius of the loop unfit for habitation. Workers who went up street and down inspecting the houses found some ready for collapse, others beyond repair, some with practically no ventilation or sanitation. The report was turned over with recommendations for action to the building commissioner and health department.

To Talk Credit.

W. W. Sigmund Einstein, councillor of the Chicago association, will preside at the luncheon.

SHAW LETTERS CHEAP; 'VICAR OF WAKEFIELD,' FIRST EDITION, $2,000

LONDON.—(AP)—Letters signed by Bernard Shaw have been tumbling in value like speculative shares lately. Several auctioned at Sotheby's brought only 10 shillings [$2.40] apiece.

Apparently news of the sale of various Shaw items at good prices not long ago resulted in a flood of offerings. The same explanation, however, would not apply to the Robert Burns waistcoat which sold for only £6 [$30] regardless of the fact that the heart of the Scottish bard beat under its buttons for years.

Nor is there a plethora of historic canes which could be blamed. The fact that the Malacca walking stick carried the poet Gray on his celebrated visit to a country churchyard brought only £30.

Copies of the first edition of Oliver Goldsmith's "Vicar of Wakefield," on the other hand, are in brisk demand. Two very dilapidated copies brought the equivalent of $2,000 and $2,500 recently, despite their condition.

Other recent prices realized at Sotheby's include:

Smollett's "Roderick Random" [1748], £155.

Fielding's "Tom Jones" [1749], £145.

"American Israelite" Sold to Segal Bros. of New York

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 12.—(AP)—The American Israelite, oldest Anglo-Jewish weekly in America, was purchased today by Henry and A. L. Segal, brothers, from Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, New York, and his sister, Mrs. Adolph S. Ochs, wife of the publisher of the New York Times. The selling price was not announced.

Arthur Dixon Kindred Join in Dedication of the Dixon School

Exercises in dedication of the new Arthur Dixon school will be held tomorrow evening in the school auditorium, 8310 South St. Lawrence avenue. The dedicatory address will be given by George W. Dixon, one of Arthur Dixon's fourteen children, some of whom will take part in the memorial service.

Other speakers will be Superintendent of Schools William J. Bogan, Mrs. Thomas Dixon, Mrs. Walter Faithorn, Mrs. Paul Walker, Mrs. George Jordan, president of the Dixon Parent-Teacher association, and Otto Schenk, principal of the school. William Hedges, district superintendent of schools, will preside.

The Dixon school was completed last summer at a total cost of $766,000 and is one of the largest and most modern elementary schools in the city. In addition to 27 classrooms, accommodating nearly 1,400 pupils, it is equipped with physician's and dentist's offices, household arts department, large gymnasium and auditorium.

To Talk on Libraries.

F. W. K. Drury, executive assistant of the adult education department of the American Library association, will address the International Council of Religious Education at 3 p. m. today at the Stevens hotel, discussing the work of libraries in the education of illiterates and foreign born.

If You Must Drink Liquor And Eat Rich Food

Whether you are "wet" or "dry" one must admit that much liquor is being used—and—some of the liquids certainly leave marked after-effects.

When one abuses a wonderful body by over-indulgence in food or drink, you must expect health to demand its penalty.

That "hang-over," with its "dark brown taste," the sour stomach, gas, biliousness, sick headache, colds that follow—these and other results of stomach abuse and excess acid—can all be relieved by timely use of ACIDINE.

Your doctor trained himself to help human nature overcome its mistakes. ACIDINE was invented to combat Acidosis usually resulting from our mistakes in eating, drinking, living. Best of all, you can test ACIDINE at our cost. Get a package from your druggist today and if its marvelous health-giving qualities do not please you in every way, back goes your money without question. There is no substitute for ACIDINE—the only remedy in the world that contains the marvelous digestant Japtase which turns souring, fermenting masses into sweet, easily assimilated foods. Throw away the old medicines. Use only the new, perfect, marvelous ACIDINE. Keep it on hand for the next party, banquet or heavy meal. Your druggist has ACIDINE or write Health Laboratories, Inc., Pittsburgh Pennsylvania.

Valentine Hearts Aid Sufferers from Varied Ailments of the Heart

Valentines which are to bring cheer to 55,000 heart disease sufferers in Chicago are rolling into the treasury of the Chicago Heart association this week. At the same time millions of tiny red heart stamps are decorating the Valentine mail.

The heart sufferers' Valentines are thousands of dollars, the results of the last month's drive, according to Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton, executive director. The fund from the sale of the heart stamps will be used to spread scientific education about heart disease and to promote research into its causes. The association's campaign closes Valentine's day.

"Social restoration of the existing cardiac patients is one of the major problems of the Heart association," Mrs. Britton explained. "Mental treatment must be given as well as physical, and it must include special schooling for the child, vocational training, and assistance in securing employment. We are concentrating efforts to keep this city from having as many as 65,000 cardiacs in the future. This can be done by attention to cardiac disorders, to potential heart disease among children, especially by education in the prevention of the malady."

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—Vice President Curtis was given a dinner last evening by the German ambassador and Frau von Prittwitz und Gaffron, at their embassy.

Among the cabinet hostesses "at home" this afternoon was Mrs. Robert P. Lamont, wife of the secretary of commerce. She and her daughter, Miss Gertrude Lamont, received in the living room occupying the north side of the house. Secretary Lamont added this room to the house after they bought it.

Mrs. R. L. Wilbur, wife of the secretary of the interior, gave a dinner tonight and cannot do two such things in a day.

Mrs. W. DeW. Mitchell, wife of the attorney general, had a drawing room full of callers most of the afternoon. Mrs. Brown, wife of the postmaster general, had a number of Ohio women assisting her in her apartment at Wardman Park hotel. Mrs. P. J. Hurley, wife of the secretary of war, had a crowded drawing room and dining room all afternoon. Mrs. James J. Davis, wife of the secretary of labor, also was at home.

Senator and Mrs. Couzens of Michigan, gave a dance tonight at the Carlton hotel that became a wedding reception for their daughter, Margo, whose marriage to William Jeffreys Chewning Jr. took place a fortnight ago, in Baltimore. Cards for the bell had been out for some weeks when the wedding took place. Mr. and Mrs. Chewning received with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Couzens, son and daughter-in-law of the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. William Yaw Rumer, son-in-law and daughter of Senator and Mrs. Couzens, are here to meet the bridegroom. Supper was served at midnight and the dancing kept up until an early morning hour.

The secretary of the interior and Mrs. Wilbur gave a dinner in the Pan American Union building tonight.

Alaskan Relics Tell Story of Its People Dead Many Centuries

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 12.—(AP)—Relics of a people who lived in Alaska thousands of years ago, and who differed greatly from the present day Eskimo have been received by the University of Pennsylvania museum from its expedition near Point Barrow, it was announced.

The collection includes objects of wood, ivory and whalebone and a quantity of skeletal material. This material, according to Dr. J. Alden Mason, curator of the American section of the museum, is typical of an early population known to archeologists as the Thule culture. These people may have been an offshoot from Mongolian tribes who once wandered over the Siberian wastes and crossed the Bering sea into Alaska.

In a report to the museum here, Alfred H. Hopson, director of the Alaskan expedition, said discovery of several human bones protruding from a mound led to the finding of the burial place of more than thirty bodies.

None of the graves was more than two feet deep. The bodies had been placed on driftwood planks. Various implements were found between posts hammered into the ground about four feet from either side of the head. There were no coffins, each body having been wrapped in animal skins.

Further excavation revealed several unique houses, unlike the conventional Eskimo igloo. They were rectangular in shape and constructed of whalebone and driftwood.

Georgetown University Confers Degree on Sir Esme Howard

Washington, D. C., Feb. 12.—(AP)—The honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred on Sir Esme Howard, retiring British ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps, by Georgetown university tonight, in recognition of his work in promoting "peace and concord" between the two countries.

In the presence of diplomats, Catholic dignitaries and educators, Sir Esme received the degree from the Rev. Dr. W. Coleman Nevils, president of the university, at a special convocation commemorating Lincoln's birthday and the 100th anniversary of the founding at Georgetown of the Philodemic society, a debating club.

The Latin citation of the degree characterized the British ambassador as "a true patriot of his fatherland, ever and always the devoted friend of our beloved America."

New American Minister to Venezuela Takes Up Duties

CARACAS, Venezuela, Feb. 12.—(AP)—George T. Summerlin, new American minister, arrived here today. Cornelius Van H. Engert, chargé d'affaires, met his new chief at La Guaira and escorted him to the capital, where he was greeted by representatives of the Venezuelan government.

CLEAN KIDNEYS BY DRINKING LOTS OF WATER

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders.

Skin Well Cared for Quickly Responds to Cosmetician's Touch

by Gabrielle Ziegfeld

I have a feeling that ten or fifteen years from now, if not sooner, woman's complexion beauty will have achieved the supreme heights to which complexion loveliness may rise. This, because of the strong note of common sense that is being injected in beauty talks by the trade depending upon cosmetics for financial success.

Within the last month I have read and heard a number of beauty authorities elaborate on the subject of complexion beauty. And the sum and substance of the pleas presented is for a wholesome, healthy skin upon which to apply cosmetic arts. And I'll add, in compliment to the trade, that there cannot help but follow more and more success with its better sort of propaganda.

Another thing, which I may have called attention to before, is the manner in which circulation of the blood is being stressed in our better beauty establishments. In fact, there are conducted courses now in what are called "circulatory treatments" in institutions catering to the cause of woman's beauty.

The diet, the amount of exercise and sleep needed, and the usual wise precautionary advice about keeping skin hygienically right are talked freely in the trade. So that women are being cleverly educated to realize that they get their best complexion beauty by first attending to the straight hygienic needs. Even soaps are presented to audiences with these fundamental hygienic suggestions. If complexions do not get better and better, it will not be because the world is not working to make them so.

And speaking of soaps, women are learning that it is a rarely sensitive skin, one perhaps in need of medical help, that cannot take its daily scrubbing without particular advantage to the complexion. To keep the skin young, it must be kept clean and clear. And washing at least once a day with soap is the best cleansing measure yet discovered for the usual skin and one simply imperative for the oily skin or the one given to blackheads.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Two Party Chicken Dishes.

"Have no untried effects" is one fond bit of my party creed. And yet the experienced cook can vary her method, having learned general ways of preparing a thing, to suit a new idea with perfect ease. That dictum applies more strictly for those who do not cook but want to do something grand when they entertain, yet must start from "scratch."

Wonderfully well fried chicken is always a good American party dish. I have found that if it is oven fried it may be superior and is easier and less nerve racking to prepare upon an occasion that may put the best of us on a strain. Choose a dry picked chicken and do not have it ice cold. Singe it after wiping it over first, and after singeing rub over with a white paper napkin. Vent, wash, dry, and disjoint, making six pieces if it weighs two pounds or a little more.

Rub well seasoned flour into each piece till it is smooth. Lay each piece in a buttered dish, preferably a glass utility, add bits of butter and any seasoning you like other than the dry ones that were mixed with the flour, and one cup of cold water. Put into a 525 degree oven for one-half hour, then cover and set in a warm place to steam for ten minutes. Use the by-products with the feet for soup, or broil the liver as a garnish for the one that would appreciate it. If this is to be served with baked potatoes make a giblet gravy.

The chicken soufflé may be fine enough for a party dish and it is a good one to use when one has a left-over to experiment on the family with. One cup of cold chicken cut fine or even mashed till like velvet. Mix this with a sauce of three level tablespoons of fat, three level tablespoons of flour, one cup of liquid which latter may be all chicken stock or part chicken stock or part cream.

The fat used may be part chicken fat or part butter or all butter. The seasonings used should depend on how the chicken was cooked in the first place. Some slightly stewed mushrooms, pimento and onion juice are good additions. Cook sauce and chicken briefly together, cool, mix in three beaten egg yolks, stir to blend, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites, bake in buttered dish one-half hour at 300 degree or only slightly above that, until it puffs slightly and is slightly set.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S AND MISSES' DRESS.

Here is an entirely new kind of morning frock, cut in princess style. A plaited ruffling trims the flaring hemline, neck, and outlines the surplice closing of the bodice and wrapped treatment of the skirt. It is seamed both front and back, creating panels that give length and a fitted line through the bodice and skirt. Any of the usual wash materials are suitable.

The pattern, No. 3242, comes in sizes 16 and 18 years and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 4⅝ yards of 39 inch material with 5½ yards of plaiting.

Uncomfortable Ride.

My most embarrassing moment was right after prohibition went into effect. I had a miserable cough and my boss brought me a large bottle of whisky to take home. I placed the bottle in my muff and, running up the main stairway in the station, I stumbled, crashing the bottle, the contents of which saturated my muff and coat. I was forced to board the train smelling like a whiskey distillery and, although it was zero weather, I remained on the platform all the way home, trying to be unconcerned about the many jokes being passed between my daily fellow travelers. Paid for "Merry Christmas."

One of my neighbors asked me to mail some Christmas cards for her and gave me money to buy stamps. I forgot to buy the stamps but mailed the cards. A few days later she told me that some of her friends told her they had to pay two cents for their Merry Christmas. I gave her back the postage money with stammered explanations. E. B.

Generalities About Either Sex Seldom Safe Ground to Tread

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"All the men I know are stupid. I've actually stopped thinking that men were made with a brain."

Twenty-three and that's Adele's conclusion. Or, would you say instead of "conclusion," just a pause in the years' mental occupation? No girl thinks that longer about men than it takes to get rid of the last suitor and get a new one! These sweeping generalities are always based on an experience, the experience that is ripest in the mind.

Not that the sweeping statement of one 23 year old has any weight with men, or with me, or with Adele, it is suspected. But one man had the misfortune to be within earshot of the remark and the trouble was that he had a brain that took it in. So Adele's pleasant evenings with him for awhile are crabbed.

But it does bring us to a timely theme about women and generalities about men; also about men and their just as devastating generalities about women. There aren't any such "all" men and there aren't any such "all" women as come under these generalities. There is only the last person encountered who fired the remark.

It's not good business going about saying men are all this (always something uncomplimentary) or girls are all that. They can't be all of a pattern—either sex.

Men are all selfish, is the common generality. Girls are all unreasonable, is another. Sure, there are selfish men—and awfully selfish women; also, unreasonable women and terribly unreasonable men. The great majority, representatives of each sex, are compounded of many good qualities and ones not so good. But on the whole the average is fairly high. High enough, anyway, for agreeable daily living, provided one is not cluttered up with unfounded prejudices.

But more to the point about disbursing uncomplimentary remarks about the other sex as a whole is the fact that it suggests a bitterness of experience.

Again?
A day that might have meant so much and she has to be excused. What a pity there's a woman left who does not know of Midol! One or two tablets in time, and not a twinge of pain throughout the natural process. Or an end to such suffering at any time, five to seven minutes after Midol is taken. Yet this merciful medicine is non-narcotic. Its wonderful results are due to the fact it acts directly on the organs affected; so it's utterly harmless, and it is only common sense to use it. Midol comes in a clever little metal case that you can slip in the smallest purse. And the cost of this comfort is fifty cents.*

*Midol's comfort is not confined to any certain days or age. It relieves at any time of life. Its ease is felt immediately in cases of nervous headache, backache, cramping, hot flashes and all febrile pain peculiar to women

Charged with Laziness—

Guilty Simply of Acidity!

More than one man today is misjudged and unjustly penalized because of a not understood physical condition rather than any lack of willingness or ability.

So many of us are only half ourselves, only fifty percent efficient, because we are victims of an insidious condition of acidity! That persistent tired feeling—that clouded mind—that lack of dash and fire—that missing punch that decides so many situations in business—are all usually due to an acid system.

Acidity is brought on by our unnatural eating, excessive smoking and irregular hours. It impairs digestion, and causes fermentation and putrefaction in the intestines and drags us down physically and mentally.

A remarkable new corrective of acidity has been developed by a famous 100-year old pharmaceutical house in Germany.

This new, improved magnesia comes in the form of small white tablets called Magnesia Oxoids which do not have to be chewed, but may be swallowed whole.

Magnesia Oxoids, upon contact with the acid in the stomach, generate nascent, or active, oxygen. Now, active oxygen, as any doctor will tell you, when generated within the digestive tract does just the things required for acidity. It stimulates the secretion of the alkaline mucus. It checks the putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro intestinal canal. It exercises a stimulating effect upon the activities of the intestinal walls and aids the movement of the bowels.

All three effects are necessary to the true relief of acidity and Magnesia Oxoids supply them in a perfectly natural manner.

5-Day Acidity Test

See for yourself how much acid has to do with your run-down condition, and that persistent feeling of tiredness. Make the 5-day acid test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxoids from Walgreen's Drug Store and Economical Drug Stores or any other druggist on our money-back guarantee. Take two after each meal for five days. Note the pick-up in your pep and vigor. Mark the new peace of your stomach and nerves. If five days' test doesn't show you a decided improvement in your health return the balance of the Oxoids to your druggist and he will refund your money.

Environment Needs to Be Adapted to Child, Not Vice Versa

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

You wouldn't think of planting the ferns you dug up in the woods on the sunny side of the house. You'd try to reproduce as far as possible the conditions under which you know they thrive.

If you'd always wanted to go out and pick your watercress on your own place, you wouldn't attempt to grow it on high, dry ground.

To the plants that need a sweet soil, a sour soil, or a sandy soil, that need much water or little, sunshine or shade, you try to give that very thing. You don't expect them to buck up against and overcome an environment that is unfavorable to them.

The same thing holds true with people. What is good for one is not necessarily good for another. One man's meat is another man's poison.

Our aim should be to fit our surroundings, as much as possible, to our tastes and disposition. People, for instance, who love the country should try to move there, instead of living in the city and hating it. The person who is bored by country life, instead of fretting against it, should make an effort to change to a city home. And so with the less tangible part of his environment. Of course, what we can't change, we have to make the best of.

The cry of modern scientific thought is no longer, "Make the child adapt himself to his environment"—it is, instead, just the opposite, "Adapt the environment as far as possible to the child." In this way comes the fullest development for him. You are giving him, figuratively speaking, the kind of soil, the kind of air that he needs for thriving growth.

Sometimes you will find you are doing this extremely well when your children are little—but failing when they're older. Sometimes the reverse is true. Look over your child's setting with an appraising eye, and see where it falls.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Worthy Case.

"I wonder if I could interest your readers in a family in our community. The father has been unable to work for over a year because of ill health. There are five children, girls, 11 and 8 years of age, and boys, 10, 6, and 1. A woman's club in the town is helping to buy their groceries, but they are badly in need of clothing, and I wonder if your readers can supply them. The mother and father wear size 38 or 40.

MRS. R. H."

This plea comes from a town in Illinois where opportunities for employment are limited and where assistance of any kind will be welcomed and appreciated. If you can send this family the garments you and your children are discarding, it will add much to their comfort.

Smart Accessories Freshen Wardrobes

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—We all have that tired feeling these days. We're tired of our clothes and it's too early to buy spring things. There's only one way to revive our appearance enthusiasm and that is to freshen up the accessories. It is wonderful what a new hat will do to a weary woman. It may change her whole life, and it certainly will, at the very least, make her a brighter, happier woman to look at and to live with.

Paris understands this, and that is probably why new hats are the first spring fashion flowers that bloom on the style tree. One of the new Paris hats is shown in our sketch. Naturally it's made of straw, because it is going to be chic much later on as well as now. Le Monnier gives this hat a brim, and this fact is extremely significant. Brims are coming back. They are going to be draped, plaited and gathered and turned up cunningly to frame the face.

The brim of the illustrated hat is tucked, the straw of which it is made being fine and supple. The crown of the hat is small and closely fitted and the wide brim is draped back over it in front and extends out like the points of a Dutch cap at the sides. There isn't any back brim at all, and there ain't gonna be any more of those long back brims we wore this winter—not in Paris.

Another chic freshener is the necklace and bracelet from Schiaparelli, a costume jewelry ensemble made of ivory and ebony. The necklace has a row of ebony cylinders overlapping a row of ivory ones. The bracelet, which slips on over the hand, has curved ivory arrow heads and bands with a center of ebony. This kind of ensemble can be worn with all simple daytime clothes.

At the bottom of the sketch is a new leather bag from Doucet Doeuillet. It is made of Pompeian red calfskin and is laced up the sides with red leather cords. It is lined in the same color. Most smart handbags are the same shade inside and out, or they are lined with black.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

When my son was just beginning to talk and walk, one morning I was preceding him down the stairs and was warning him to be careful and not fall.

He answered: "I won't fall, mover, my feet know where to walk."

C. J.

Alice, 4, said to Rose, 5: "Is your dress new?"

Rose replied: "O, yes! It has been new a long, long time."

Lift the Ugly Veil of Blemishes from your skin

RADIANT complexion beauty lies just beneath the surface. But millions of men and women suffering from constipation have a pasty, dull, sallow complexion—marred with pimples, blotches, etc. What a difference a few days' proper care will make!

Stuart's Calcium Wafers will often work wonders for such people. They help to remove the cause: a septic condition of the blood resulting from intestinal stasis. Doctors and nurses know this condition. They call such cases Septics.

Septics frequently do not realize their condition. It comes on so gradually. No one will tell them of the body odor and fetid breath. Your mirror will tell the story: Skin blemishes are Nature's danger signals.

Try This Week-end Test

A ten-cent package of Stuart's Calcium Wafers, from any druggist—and follow directions for three days. What a difference! Eyes bright! Complexion clear—and with radiant natural color! Skin healthy, soft, and silken! Let one dime open this easy way to skin beauty for you.

At All Drug Stores: 10c and 60c Sizes

NORTH SIDE MEN

Waiting list will soon be established for applicants seeking positions with a large international organization. These lists already exist in many of the 40 countries in which we operate over 600 branch offices. We are just commencing operations in the United States and our expansion program calls for about forty men in the Illinois territory.

These men will be assured of a splendid income and a remarkable future with a financially strong old company. Inasmuch as we are the only ones in our particular field, we cannot get experienced men, and the qualifications are loyalty, intelligence, and aggressiveness.

If you are selected you will be expected to start at once by attending preliminary schooling at factory branch at our expense.

Personal interview only.

STUDEBAKER

YOU CAN GET NEW CAR SATISFACTION

FROM ONE OF THESE LATE MODEL USED CARS. Priced at Only a Fraction of Its New Car Cost.

FORD COACH. 1929 model "A" that's in exceptionally good all-around condition to suit as the former owner was a very careful driver. He traded in the Ford only because he needed a larger car. It is very fully equipped, and will give new car satisfaction. $385.

STUDEBAKER COMMANDER. Late model 4 pass. Victoria that looks as though it were just from the factory. The finish sparkles like a new dollar and the tires are little mileage. The motor has been carefully checked over and adjusted where necessary. Equipped with 4 whl. trims, bumpers, snubbers, spare tire, etc. $695.

HARMON SEDAN. This str. 8 is finished a beautiful canary yellow and black. The appearance is handsome smart and will satisfy the most exacting buyer. The motor is in fine performance and the equipment includes 4 whl. brakes and many valuable extras. The Harmon was certainly worth every cent it cost new, and it was in storage for the balance of the time. $650.

ESSEX SEDAN. 1929 de luxe 2 dr. model that we recommend as one of our very best buys. Equipped with 4 whl. brakes, bumpers, shutter front, spare tire, etc. The motor is AI. And every detail of the car is in new condition. $450.

STUDEBAKER PRESIDENT SEDAN. 1929 str. 8 lacquered a handsome maroon. Actually driven only a few thousand miles. The motor is in such good condition that it runs like a 90 day car. Has service guarantee. Equipped with 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, driving light, etc. The upholstery has not a worn spot, and the car appears unused. Special for $1,050.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN. We sincerely believe this str. 8 Hupp cannot be duplicated at this place or at anywhere near our price—not by hundreds of dollars' worth of other equipment and it's in splendid running condition. The finish, upholstery and tires are in dandy shape. Special for $350.

DURANT SEDAN. Str. 8. Has very low mileage. We obtained this car at a very favorable figure. Other man's loss is your gain, so you can obtain this beautiful sedan at only $385.

AUBURN SEDAN. 1929, that's the last word for sparkling performance and appearance. Shock absorbers, trunk, bumpers, spare tires, etc. $750.

Draws Radicals' Fire.

Senator Glenn's address of yes remained the only extended defe
Mr. Hughes. It drew the fire to the radicals, including Senator G W. Norris [Rep., Neb.], who as that the Illinois senator had forced to defend trusts and mono in excusing Mr. Hughes' attitude lawyer in private practice and justice of the Supreme court.

Throughout the debate the ra harped on the idea that Mr. Hu as a result of his connections wi business, and his known views on questions, would side with the p majority of the Supreme court, it was asserted "places pro rights above human rights."

The threat that senators votin
Mr. Hughes would be attacked of the radicals.

Calls Vote Cruel Majority.

"You have the votes here to us out, but the record we are m here will be read by liberty loving said Senator Norris. "You can your cruel majority, blot out th

ord. We will set a light burning will be a beacon light for future erations and will make their p little easier because we have mad fight."

Senator Norris said that the involved in the controversy over firmation of Mr. Hughes "have to do with the happiness and co ment of our people than any que raised for many years." He flamed" himself "frightened" b spectacle of the big corporation crouching upon the rights of th
ple. He dwelt upon the decisi the recent Baltimore street ra case, in which, according to his pretation, the Supreme court held a corporation had a right to e per cent despite a state law in and which brands as usury in on loans in excess of 6 per cent.

"It is no wonder the people wil up in anger," said Senator N
"when they realize that Pres
Hoover wants to perpetuate that of a rule in the highest court o land."
